Movers

Our nationwide car transport team members are professionally trained and dedicated to the safe relocation of your vehicle.

We have a network of thousands of expert auto transporters. And only by working with the best in the car shipping industry have we been able to get the lowest car transportation rates in the nation for our clients.

Our team of vehicle delivery service experts understands the ins and outs of car shipping. We're not just car movers. We're car lovers with a knack for reliable car transport service.

We provide open automobile transport and enclosed car shipping services. Open automobile transport is used more regularly and is the form of car shipping which you see on the road wherein car transporters are hauling cars on 2 decks that are exposed.

Enclosed automobile transport is when your automobile is sent in a trailer that has partitions and a roof, they seem like a bigger model of an ordinary eighteen-wheeler. This technique is usually recommended for luxury, exotic, or traditional/classic cars.

Enclosed auto transport carriers are more expensive, but it is a great alternative to ship a car that is more expensive or one that requires more care during the car shipping process. Most people use open auto transport as it is the more budget-friendly way to ship a car.

Car movers with great reviews and years of experience

There are a few factors that we take into account when determining your car shipping cost.

The mileage between the origin zip code and the destination zip code is usually the biggest factor that contributes to your total auto shipping rates.

In addition to the distance of your relocation, another factor is the type, year, and condition of the vehicle being transported. The final factor is the date that your vehicle will be ready for transport.

Yes, we can ship cars of any kind/size. Through our advanced network of experienced and specialized car carriers.

Any low-clearance cars lower than 4 inches will most likely need to be transported on an enclosed trailer with a lift gate. Vehicles with low clearance just cannot be driven onto an open trailer (regardless of what a company may say) because the car would risk bottoming out while being loaded onto the carrier.

For those who don't know, top-load service is the term used when your car is placed on the higher deck or upper level of an open car transport trailer. This is preferable to the bottom load because the cars on the lower deck are at risk of possibly having fluid from the cars above leak on them. (Yes, really)

It's your car. So, you may ship your personal belongings but the total weight of those items cannot be more than a hundred pounds and those items must be left in the trunk or back seats (under the window line).

IMPORTANT: Please note that your personal belonging will not be covered under insurance if they are reported as damaged or missing.

Generally speaking, every five hundred miles will add one day to the transit time – so for a 2,000-mile transport, the transit time would be 4-5 days.

The transit time for your car shipment is based mostly on the distance between the pickup and delivery location.

Most car shipping companies will call a day ahead of schedule when they have narrowed down the delivery window to make arrangements with you for time and location as close to your location as they can physically get.

Absolutely. Someone must be present to release and then to accept the vehicle once it is delivered, provide keys to the driver and sign the initial and final inspection paperwork. This person must be over the age of 18.

Do the vehicle delivery inspection once the vehicle has been unloaded from the car shipping truck. Go around the whole vehicle again and take pictures on all 4 sides and the top, check the interior for any damages as well, and make sure there are no major fluctuations to the mileage on the odometer.

Yes, they do. Comprehensive insurance options are also available for an elevated level of shipment coverage during transit.

You will be able to select a level of coverage during the booking process. If you have further questions regarding insurance options, please, list them when you fill out the contact form found above.

Yes, it will. The actual size and type of vehicle directly influence your car shipping price. Larger/Bulkier vehicles are heavier (trucks or vans) than a typical car, and as a result, can cost more for auto transport services.

We focus on car transport services for autos, trucks, and SUVs, but we can move more than just those. Always check with us as we can arrange auto shipping services for many different vehicles including vans, dual-wheel trucks, box trucks, and larger vehicles that require flatbed or lowboy car shipping services.

Make sure that you have the dimensions of any oversize vehicle available that you want to ship, as we will require the dimensions before giving you a car transport quote.

We have transported thousands of cars, trucks, and motorcycles. We got what it takes to manage your car shipment professionally and successfully.

Movers On Duty is one of the most if not the most reliable car shipping company in the area. We transport vehicles from coast to coast (all year long).

Page: Are moving companies considered essential businesses? Coronavirus FAQ

Movers

Yes, moving companies are considered an essential business by both state and local governments during the Covid19 pandemic due to the critical service they provide to the community and families who are in transition.

The American Moving & Storage Association recommends that consumers and movers regularly check resources like the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to stay up-to-date on the latest news regarding the coronavirus pandemic.

This is a scary time and it certainly takes moving stress to the next level. But when you have movers as well prepared as we are by your side, everything goes smoothly.

We are monitoring the coronavirus situation very closely in order to stay operational while remaining safe. Our goal is to help as much as we can while remaining as safe as we can.

We value the health and safety not only of our staff but also our customers more than anything else. In order to help stop the spread of the coronavirus, we fully stopped operations for a whole month before resuming operations to make sure nobody in the entire team was sick.

Since then, we have been practicing social-distancing, self-monitoring, and we have been quarantining ourselves in an effort to contain the virus.

Now that we have made sure that we are all healthy, we are fully operational again.

We are licensed, insured, and bonded. We are open for business and we're working closely with our crews to continue to conduct business safely.

But we want to make sure it's clear that we are putting the safety of our customers and team members first. We are doing this by following all the best practices and guidelines for social-distancing, sanitation, cleanliness, and precaution.

So, we are more than ready to go out to help people who must move or simply can't delay their moving plans any longer. We offer movers with a truck and movers without a truck.

Website: moversonduty.com

Most commercial and residential moving companies can provide virtual estimates, rather than in-home estimates. If this is your preference, we can use skype, WhatsApp, or any other app to give you a quote.

If you'd prefer simply getting a quote via email, you can email us a list of the items to be moved or you can send us a video/pictures. You can also give us a call or you can just use our instant moving quote calculator.

We do NOT charge anything extra for rescheduling or canceling appointments. This is the reason why we don't ask for a credit card or an advanced payment in order to reserve your movers.

If you are in a high-risk group (over 60 or have pre-existing respiratory or cardiovascular conditions or compromised immunity), then please, postpone your move if at all possible until after the health authorities announce the pandemic is over.

Yes, moving during the COVID-19 epidemic is safe as long as you follow recommended guidelines on social distancing, hand washing, and other practices.

While moving can be completely safe (and essential) during the pandemic, move.org, in its coronavirus guidelines encourages consumers to postpone their move if possible.

But do keep in mind that movers are considered low-risk for the transmission of coronavirus. Moving crews typically only help one or two customers per day and are able to easily maintain social distancing during the move.

We are taking the coronavirus pandemic very seriously. To that end, moving companies across the country have put into place protocols designed to protect their employees and their customers. These include:

All of these practices help ensure that moving services can remain available in a safe way.

If you or someone in your household/business is displaying symptoms of the virus, please, delay your move at least until you get the approval to proceed from a health professional. But if you are not considered at risk, you may want to proceed. We ask in this situation that you please inform us if you are not feeling well.

We will be in contact with you prior to your move, and together we will run through the extra safety precautions we have put into place

As a Covid19 essential service, we have created a plan to continue to provide safe and efficient moving services to our customers.

We have movers in Maryland, movers in Virginia, and movers in DC ready to go help you move!

Moving companies are open right now, movers are working with masks and gloves during covid19.

We are here to help you move during the coronavirus pandemic, although most people are in quarantine. But since movers are essential, we will be there if you need us.

With almost all countries affected by COVID-19 (Coronavirus), governments around the world have imposed lock-down measures and asked their citizens to stay at home.

Please have a look at these photos and videos of wildlife reclaiming deserted streets in towns and cities all over the world:

From crystal clear waters in the canals of Venice to a dramatic drop in pollution levels in all major cities, the covid19 pandemic has had a number of positive effects on the environment as millions across the world are placed under lockdown.

Will the movers call when they are on their way to my location?

Hi Mike! Yes, our movers will call you at least 30 minutes before they arrive.

Hi there! Do I have to disassemble the bed? Or can the movers help me with that?

Hi Andrea! There is no need for you to do that. Our services include the disassembly and reassembly of furniture at no additional charge.

Hi Alex! Thanks for the feedback! We truly appreciate it. Just let us know if you have any questions or concerns.

This company is great! They are constantly in contact and they are so expert and make me feel comfy. I understand my things are safe when I send them with them. I appreciate their help each and every time they help us with international moves going to the US. Thank you so much.

Dispute Settlement & Arbitration Program

Arbitration is the private, judicial determination of a dispute by an independent third party. An arbitration hearing may involve the use of an individual arbitrator or a tribunal. A tribunal may consist of any number of arbitrators, though some legal systems insist on an odd number for obvious reasons of wishing to avoid a tie. One and three are the most common numbers of arbitrators. The disputing parties hand over their power to decide the dispute to the arbitrator(s). Arbitration is an alternative to court action (litigation), and generally, is final and binding.

All Household Goods (HHG) movers who engage in interstate moves must offer an Arbitration Program to people interested in their services. The program would be used to resolve disputes concerning loss and damage claims, as well as, issues with the service or billing.

Individual shippers have the right to participate in the HHG mover's arbitration program but can choose not to participate. Individual shippers may seek judicial remedies through court actions under 49 USC 14706.

The American Moving and Storage Association's arbitration program allows customers to file complaints against their moving companies. Then a third party decides who owes who what. Read on to learn about the different disputes a moving dispute resolution program covers and when it's best to use.

It is strongly recommended that you carry irreplaceable and expensive articles with you or make other arrangements for

Ask your relocation consultant to provide you with an explanation of their process, based on your needs. This is a confusing but important task, so make sure that you clearly understand the rules prior to load day.

Most moving companies will not take your plants. The stress and heat of being inside of the moving trailer usually causes them to die. Movers

We specialize in foreclosure cleanouts, estate cleanouts, apartment cleanouts, property cleanouts, eviction moving, and junk removal/hauling services. We love helping homeowners and real estate agents get their properties ready for remodeling and sale.

We offer residential and commercial cleanout services in Maryland, northern Virginia, and Washington DC.

From sheds, small condos, or workshops to large offices or industrial warehouses, we can clean out your commercial property and if you don't have a dumpster on-site, we can even provide a truck to remove all unwanted items.

We recently took on the monumental task of decluttering an extreme hoarder's house, and the results are nothing short of astonishing.

Witness the remarkable before-and-after footage, showcasing the meticulous work of the Movers On Duty team as we turned chaos into order:

A house cleanout is the complete removal of all appliances, furniture, kitchenware, electronics, all clothing, and other miscellaneous items left behind in a home that has become vacant.

Though the name itself is self-explanatory, there is a clear difference between a ‘house cleanout’ and an ‘estate cleanout’. A ‘house cleanout’ follows the previous definition and is often done when a house’s inhabitants are moving to a new home, renovating it entirely, or any other reason one might have to completely clear out their house.

An ‘estate cleanout’ is a bit different, in that it often involves certain unfortunate circumstances, such as a divorce or the homeowner passing away. In an estate cleanout, the agent, the homeowner, or a relative of theirs, removes any and all assets from their home in order to potentially sell and liquidate, or split amongst inheritors.

At Movers On Duty, we take care of a variety of property cleanouts, including garage cleanouts, attic cleanouts, sheds, basement cleanouts, industrial space cleanouts, and estate cleanouts. A team of trained professional movers handles all our cleanout services.

Our estate clean-out services help you get rid of unwanted items when you’ve sorted through the belongings of a loved one who has passed away. We handle these cleanout projects with compassion and professionalism.

A few of our residential cleanout services include estate cleanout, garage cleanout, attic storage cleanout. We also haul off unwanted appliances such as televisions and fridges, recycle unwanted trash, and dispose of mattresses, box springs, and other bulky items that can't go in the regular dumpster.

If moving your business to a new office or warehouse, you might have some unwanted junk/furniture that you need to dispose of from your old place, or the previous tenant may have left you with a load of waste that needs to be removed before you can move in.

Unfortunately, we do not provide restoration work. We can, however, take you one step closer to solving the problem. Our disaster clean-up crew will tidy up the mess so that you can get your home back to normal right away.

A basement that has been flooded could create a huge problem. The water can damage many of the items stored in your basement.

If your home has been flooded, your basement is likely to suffer the brunt of the damage. The floor and the items stored in your basement are going to be severely damaged.

Before you can tackle the problem, you'll have to remove the things that have been damaged. If they're not repairable, let us help you with that. We can dispose of them. Removing the items from the basement yourself is dangerous as you'll have to carry everything up the stairs if you don't have a sliding door. Why not let us handle it instead?

We now offer fire cleanup services. We'll remove any objects that were damaged due to the fire. We'll take them away in a safe manner to the right place.

Our experts can help you clean up the damage caused by a fire at your house. We can even dispose of burned wood and other things.

We're here to help people and businesses to clean up after a mess so that a new chapter can quickly be started...

Do you know if your attic has reached its maximum capacity? Maybe you are even paying for extra storage space somewhere while your attic could get reorganized or cleared out completely...

Attic cleanout services are cost-effective and reliable. Our attic cleanout services are designed to guarantee cost-effectiveness.

An attic cleanout can make space for the latest summer or winter wardrobe, upholstered furniture, and other household items.

After years of buying and storing things away, you wake up one morning to find your garage completely stuffed. Locating specific items is impossible due to the mess...

Isn't it a shame that most homeowners can't find any room for storage in their garages?

Nobody wants to spend long hours or days cleaning and organizing their garage. That's why you can call the garage cleanout experts at Movers On Duty.

Garage cleanout services are perfect for government, residential, commercial, and private needs.

Organization is the key to keeping your garage tidy and clean. We will make sure you have quick access to essential items.

You can organize your garage so that everything stored can be located and is accessible:

Relocating a piano actually has less of an effect on its tune than you might think. It is the change in humidity between the dwelling, the truck, and the new location that causes a piano to become out of tune. Although traveling down a bumpy road doesn't help things, the main factor is always humidity.

The pin block, bridge, and the soundboard are all made of wood, which is highly susceptible to the effects of humidity. However, pianos are designed to be moved and after a short time of sitting in the new destination (around 15 days or so) the piano will acclimate and be ready for tuning.

Moving a piano is not only risky for the piano but can also be dangerous for yourself. You'll want to contact a piano moving company if you're moving your piano between different floors or very tight spaces. But if your new location is only a few feet or a room away, check out this advice on how to move an upright piano or smaller instruments across a room:

The very first step in how to move a piano across the room is to prepare your instrument and also the room it will be moved into. Clear off everything on top of your piano. If it has a lid, make sure that it is closed –this is especially important for your precious fingertips once the piano is in motion!

You'll then want to clear the path in which your piano will travel before you start moving it. Make sure there aren't rugs or pieces of furniture in the way of your destination. It's also crucial to measure every doorway or space you'll need to travel through. Don't put yourself in a position where you'll need to improvise your next move.

Upright pianos are easier to handle than grand pianos mainly due to their size and the way they can be moved. Still be cautious about maneuvering them, as upright pianos are top heavy and are more prone to falling sideways. We strongly recommend you have 4 or more strong people to help you. If you can't get enough people to help, you may want to consider contacting us for a quick quote.

If you have any additional questions, please give us a call and we'll be happy to answer them!

Movers

Planning for a move can be stressful, and one of the most common questions we hear is, “How long will my move take?”

At Movers On Duty, we understand that time is valuable, and we want to make your moving day as smooth and efficient as possible.

While every move is unique, there are some general timeframes you can expect based on the size of your home and the distance of the move.

Every move is different, and many factors can affect the time it takes:

Average Time: 2-5 Hours

For a small apartment, most moves can be completed in a few hours. This typically includes loading, transporting, and unloading. If you’re moving within the same building or very nearby, the time can often be even shorter.

Average Time: 4-7 Hours

With a bit more space and belongings to handle, two-bedroom homes generally take a few additional hours. This time estimate accounts for careful packing and safe handling of furniture and other items.

Average Time: 6-9 Hours

For three-bedroom homes, moving can take the majority of the day. We allocate extra time to ensure that everything is handled properly, especially larger furniture and fragile items. Moving day can be longer depending on the distance or the amount of items to be moved.

Average Time: 8+ Hours

For larger homes, moves can take a full day or longer, particularly if you're moving to a new city or state. Our team can work efficiently to make the process as smooth as possible, and we can also provide additional crew members if needed to complete the move faster.

At Movers On Duty, we often get asked, "How long will my move take?" and although our movers are much faster than our competitors, we can't really say.

While we understand the importance of planning, we honestly don't like guesstimating because we feel like we are just lying to you...

In order to get a more accurate estimate, we would need to see exactly what you are moving, and we would need to calculate the exact distance. And don't forget about the other details, such as traffic, amount of items, long walks, stairs, or elevators.

So, instead, we believe in charging only for the actual time our movers work—nothing more. That means you won't get any unnecessary delays or wasted time with us.

We charge by the hour, so you only pay for the time our guys work for you. They won't take unnecessary breaks, they won't be smoking while on the job, no milking the clock...

Here's how we ensure an efficient, straightforward experience:

With Movers On Duty, you pay by the hour, which means you only pay for the time our team spends moving your belongings. Unlike some moving companies, we don't give time estimates over the phone because, as any seasoned mover knows, true accuracy requires seeing the specifics of the job. Instead, we focus on doing the work promptly and with full transparency.

We understand that time is money. That's why we guarantee our movers are there to work—not to chat, use phones, or take smoke breaks. Our team is fully focused on your move from start to finish, so you can rest assured that every minute spent is productive.

This is why we have great reviews online:

At Movers On Duty, we prioritize efficiency and professionalism. Our experienced team of movers works hard to complete your move on time and within budget, all while handling your belongings with the utmost care. We'll always be transparent about costs and timing so you can plan your day with confidence.

Need help with your next move? Contact us today for a free quote, and let's make your moving day stress-free!

Moving can be expensive, but it doesn't have to break the bank. Whether you're relocating within Maryland, Virginia, or Washington, D.C., there are plenty of ways to reduce your moving costs without sacrificing quality.

At Movers On Duty, we believe in transparent pricing with no hidden fees, but we also know that many clients want tips on how to save even more.

Here are 7 strategies to help you move for less while keeping your sanity intact.

The fewer items you have, the less you'll need to move. Moving is the perfect opportunity to declutter your home and get rid of things you no longer need. Go through your belongings and decide what you can donate, sell, or recycle. The less you pack, the more you save on packing supplies and time spent moving.

Timing can have a big impact on moving costs. The busiest times for movers are typically weekends, the end of the month, and during the summer season. If possible, schedule your move during off-peak times, such as weekdays or in the middle of the month.

While professional packing services are convenient, doing some or all of the packing yourself can save you money. Gather packing supplies like boxes, tape, and bubble wrap, and start packing well in advance. Just be sure to pack carefully to avoid damaging your items during the move.

Don't settle for the first moving quote you get. It's important to compare estimates from different moving companies in Maryland, Virginia, and D.C. Keep in mind, however, that the cheapest quote may not always be the best. Some companies lure you in with low estimates but add hidden fees later. Always check online reviews!

Rushed moves tend to cost more. By planning your move early, you can avoid last-minute expenses such as premium rates for booking movers last minute or expedited packing services. Take your time to organize, schedule, and book your move well in advance to secure the best rates.

If you're handling your own move with a rental truck, choose the smallest truck that fits your needs. This reduces both the rental and fuel costs. When hiring professional movers like Movers On Duty, you don't have to worry about this—we'll assess your needs and send the appropriately sized truck, so you don't pay for more than you need.

If you do rent a truck and need professional driving help, please feel free to let us know.

Many moving companies offer additional services like storage, special handling for valuables, or full-service packing/unpacking. While these options can be helpful, they come at an extra cost. Decide if you truly need these add-ons or if you can manage without them.

These are all the services we offer.

At Movers On Duty, we understand the importance of staying within your budget. Our straightforward, hourly pricing model ensures that you're not caught off guard by hidden fees or unexpected charges. Plus, our movers handle disassembly and reassembly of furniture at no extra cost, helping you save even more.

Furniture protection is also included.

Ready to move for less? Contact Movers On Duty for a no-obligation, upfront quote and discover why we're the trusted choice for affordable moves in Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C.!

The best moving companies are the ones that offer professional moving services including everything in the price.

A professional mover should be able to give you an exact price quote based on what you are moving and the distance. If the mover can't or refuses to do it, please, BE CAREFUL. Especially if they are a moving broker. It could be a scam.

Our pro moving specialists will give you an exact price quote online, over the phone, and/or via email. And the day of the move, our professional movers will take care of everything for you.

If you decide to do some or all of your packing, this packing guidelines page will help.

Along with general how-tos, you'll find specific step-by-step instructions on properly wrapping and packing items that require special attention.

Packing is easy when you know what you are doing.

We must say that proper packing is the most important step in safely transporting your belongings. Our commercial movers and our residential movers will move every single box as if it is labeled "fragile" but if you don't properly pack/wrap dishes, glasses, china cabinets' contents, and other delicate items, please understand that they might not all make it. Regardless of how careful we try to be.

That's why our professional packing crews are trained in the best packing techniques, and that's why it's so much easier and safer to have us pack for you.

If at any point, you change your mind and would rather have our packers handle the packing, please: Contact Us

Allow yourself enough time to pack. First pack items you won't need right away, such as articles stored in the basement, garage, or attic. Wait and pack things you'll use right up to the moving day last. Packing room by room will help you stay organized.

Label the boxes so our movers can place them in the respective rooms for you once we get to the new house.

Invert the box and fold the flaps. Place one or two long pieces of packing tape across the center seam, and one along each side seam. Try not to cover any printing.

Put loosely crumpled unprinted newsprint in the carton bottom.

(Not necessary for soft items like bedding, etc.) This not only protects the item but protects other items from it. Wrapping also helps things fit snugly in the box and prevents them from shifting. Use unprinted newsprint for most items, tissue paper for very fragile things.

Use these to fill in spaces around larger items.

Use small items or crumpled paper. Leave no gaps in the carton. This helps make it crush-proof.

Check weight – the box should not be too heavy for one person to lift comfortably.

Leave 1/4 to 1/2 inch space at the top of the carton. Fill this space with crumpled paper. When closed, the carton's top or sides should neither bulge nor sag.

Write your name, your moving contract number, the room to which the box should go in your new home and a general description of contents. Write "fragile" only if items within are truly fragile. (Otherwise, good loading decisions will be impossible.) Mark "unpack first" on boxes containing items you'll need right away in your new home.

And if you're loading the truck yourself, put your heaviest boxes first, toward the front of the truck, for balance.

Fill in gaps with clothing, towels, or packing paper. Movers often won't move boxes that feel loosely packed or unbalanced.

It will make your packing quicker and your unpacking a lot easier, too.

Our movers will place the boxes in the respective rooms. So, when they leave you won't have to be moving boxes around.

Getting stickers that say FRAGILE might also be a good investment. We provide these for free when we pack.

Use plenty of tape to close the bottom and top seams.

Great moving company! We are so glad we found them online. The low rate we got on the phone ended up being all we paid for.. Highly recommended! It is really nice to find a moving company that gives you exact prices instead of surprises. Our apartment move took less than 5 hours. And that is crazy fast compared to the last movers we hired.

Second time using this company for an in-home move. Great service as usual.

They did a good job. The pricing wasn't that bad. I would give them 5 out of 10.

Movers

Why risk driving a rented truck when you can hire professional drivers to do it for you?

We can drive your rental truck across town or across the US!

Our quote will include all the necessary costs, such as fuel and driver travel expenses, as well as hotel stays.

There are no hidden fees involved.

Hiring Movers On Duty is an easy, stress-free, and cost-effective solution for people renting a truck for moving that don't feel like doing the drive themselves.

Renting a truck and hiring a professional driver to drive it for you is still more affordable than hiring movers with a truck.

The cost to hire a moving truck driver is between 75 cents per mile to $3 per mile. And as long as the driver is added to your policy, it isn't a problem to have one of our professional drivers drive your rental.

With many years of professional driving experience and hundreds of thousands of miles under our belt, we are definitely the best company to hire a driver from.

You rent the truck, load it up, and we take care of the rest, safely driving your belongings from your starting location to your destination.

If the truck needs to be driven back to where it was picked up from, please let us know. This won't be an issue but it will affect the price to have someone driving your truck instead of you.

Our team can also assist in finding the best rental truck at the most affordable price, and even provide help with moving labor if needed. Trust Movers On Duty to guide you through every step of your move.

We have movers with trucks and movers without trucks.

Movers

We'll try to answer all of your questions and concerns in this FAQ section.

If you have any additional questions, please email us at info@moversonduty.com or give us a call and we'll be more than happy to answer them!

Our commercial and residential movers are very meticulous to secure and protect all of your furniture and belongings with blankets and/or plastic wrap during transportation.

We do NOT charge extra for this service.

For more details, click here.

Yes, we will. Even if you don't have the original boxes. This is how they will look like before we load them into the truck:

Got picture frames or small mirrors? Mirror cartons are great for those situations:

Our movers are going to plastic wrap your mattress(es) and box spring(s) at no additional charge.

Website: moversonduty.com

Headboard, footboard, and bed frame will be blanket wrapped to avoid nicks, dings, or scratches.

In the following link, you can see how we move a dining table and chairs safely.

But besides being super careful, we will blanket-wrap the chairs and the cabinet like this:

We will carefully wrap and protect your china cabinet so it gets to its destination in 1 piece.

It really depends on what exactly we are moving.

In a regular residential move, we start with all the boxes, plastic bins, luggage, and plastic bags. All square/rectangular furniture items will be loaded next (dressers, nightstands, chest of drawers, etc) Then, odd-shaped items like chairs, bed frames, and floor lamps. We will usually load mattresses and box springs last, placing them as a wall to help us secure the load. We use tie-down straps to make sure nothing moves while in transit.

If you didn't complete the packing, maybe because something unanticipated took you away from packing.

Contact us as soon as possible so that we can send out professional packers to complete the job for you.

Everything must be packed in boxes, plastic bins, or bags before entering the truck. We have very affordable packing rates and we will provide ALL packing supplies AT NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE.

Make sure your home is ready for the crew. Move anything off the porch and walkways that may obstruct the movement of your goods out of the home. Take doors off the hinges if you know certain items will not fit through. Remove all small area rugs from traffic areas that could cause the driver or crew to trip or slip.

Have water, Gatorade or soda on hand for the movers, especially on a hot summer day. They will come prepared but will be grateful for your thoughtfulness.

Sure, no problem.

Yes, we can but there is an additional fee for this. This allows us to bring an additional moving helper and special ropes to get this done correctly and safely.

Yes, it will be disassembled and this is how they will look once we are done protecting them:

Ah, the age-old question: To lend a hand or not to lend a hand during the moving process? As your belongings are whisked away by a team of professional movers, you might find yourself feeling a twinge of guilt, wondering if you should be doing more than just standing there. After all, it's your stuff being shuffled around, right?

But here's the inside scoop: most movers actually prefer that you resist the urge to play the role of amateur mover. Why, you ask? Well, it's not because they don't appreciate your willingness to pitch in. It's quite the contrary! Our movers are experts at what they do, and they have a finely-tuned system in place to ensure that your move goes off without a hitch.

By allowing the movers to work unencumbered, you're actually helping to expedite the process. They're able to move more efficiently when they don't have to navigate around well-meaning but ultimately in-the-way homeowners. Plus, it gives them the space they need to work their magic and ensure that your belongings are handled with the utmost care.

So, the next time you find yourself itching to lend a hand during your move, remember this: the best way to help is often to step back and let the pros do what they do best. Trust in their expertise, stay out of the way, and rest easy knowing that your move is in capable hands.

Local jobs are usually delivered the same or the next day. (up to you)

Movers

Moving can be super fun, on one hand, but it can be overwhelming and super stressful on the other. With everything that's required to move a house, besides the mortgage/rent. From packing/moving expenses to insurance policies, even spending time with your family may happen too rarely.

Your children may be at school almost every day and your spouse may also be too busy with their career. Only you know how complicated your move will be, right?

If you would prefer professional packing help or professional movers please, feel free to reach out to us at any time:

Let's get started! But 1st things first: Sorting out your stuff

When you're relocating to a new home, going through all the items on your own is the first thing you should do. For instance, you'll need to sort out items which are used and unused. Donatable? Worth keeping?

● Besides, getting rid of unused items can help lessen your moving expenses. Even if you hire junk removal services. Also, it is worth keeping in mind that your new home will not be overcrowded with stuff you don't actually use, need, nor want. While you're busy sorting your things out, you can use this time-consuming activity for your family to bond instead. Or simply just to chill.

- You can ask the help of every family member to sort out which stuff to bring and leave behind. And as they do it, they can share stories of why such item became memorable to them over the years. With this task, you'll not only experience fun but you'll also be able to get to know your family better.

Packing seems to be a taxing task to do. Apart from sorting out of stuff, packing of valuables requires more attention and patience than you ever thought. This is because you have to consider not just one packing technique to get things done the right way. For example, what works for your heavy books may not work for your clothes.

- Even if the Internet can help you go through with these things, it will still not be a sufficient resource to depend on. Instead, it's more personal and worthwhile if you ask us directly for suggestions on how to pack valuables properly.

- Asking family members that move a lot may leave an impression that you value what they say and do. Some of their ideas may be unusual but you can try them for sure. Your family will be glad knowing you've considered their suggestion in packing your valuables.

Moving a house takes a lot of time and effort. In fact, you will not finish doing everything in just a single day. From sorting out your stuff, packing of valuables to labeling of moving boxes, you know there are many things to do during a move.

- While it can be tempting to do all the things on your own, the entire task will be much easier if you employ the hands of your family members, friends, or actual movers. Remember that once chores are distributed, these will be accomplished quickly.
- Moreover, what's good with the division of chores is the opportunity to be with your family or friends. All the more, seeing everyone in your family helping one another is indeed a memorable moment to cherish forever. Thus, it's best to make the most out of that moment and you'll certainly remember this for the rest of your life. (My neighbors moved themselves in instead of hiring a house moving company and broke their own $3000 TV, they'll never forget it lol)

When you move from one home to another, your family will get the chance to travel. You may have planned for a family travel but because of everyone's busy schedule, the same still remains a proposal.

- However, moving to a new house will give you the chance to explore more on the location you're considering. Take that opportunity not just to check the area but also to create family moments together. You can wander the entire city and look for malls, restaurants, and even parks nearby. By walking around the area, this will surely bring so much fun to your family.
- Also, remember that you don't necessarily need to drive your car all the way there. Have you considered flying to your new home? We can move your car to your new house, too.

Once you or the house movers have unloaded all the moving boxes and furniture, the next big thing to do is to unpack your stuff as soon as possible. Unfortunately, you can't do the unpacking alone, which is why letting your family members help you can be an excellent idea. Or simply hire unpacking help.

● By allowing your family members to assist you, you're also giving them the chance to decide on how they want their valuables to be arranged. Let them do their own thing and sooner or later you'll discover the creative side of your family members.

● Not only that but you're also giving them the freedom to do what they want with their stuff. It will be an interesting thing to do, right?

Even if moving can be tiring on your part, think of it as a challenge that your family can successfully handle together. With everyone's presence during the move, you can get the most out of moving by creating some unforgettable moments with them.

Also, consider your move as an avenue to learn things together. Discover the best ways to do like hiring a professional moving company that can provide you with valuable advice regarding your moving needs.

Besides, it will be okay if you can't do everything on your own. Hence, getting help from experienced movers can go a long way...

The busiest times for moving companies are during the spring-summer months, May 15 – September 15. At the end of these months, the volume of shipments is extremely heavy. This is the case for all professional moving companies. Take all the factors into consideration when deciding on the best time for you to move. If you have some flexibility in your schedule, provide the moving company with a five-day window for loading your shipment. This will allow the individuals who schedule the drivers and crew members greater flexibility when scheduling your move. If possible, be flexible with your destination timeframe as well. If you stay flexible, it should make a difference.

Try to provide the moving companies with as much notice as possible, especially if you are moving during the busy season as noted before. Six weeks from the actual move date is not too early for estimators to come into your home to complete what they refer to as a “visual survey of your household goods shipment.”

Add even more time to make a decision if you are obligated by your employer to submit estimates for approval. Try to decide which mover you will use four weeks from your actual load day. Call the mover to confirm your booking and schedule your packing, loading and delivery dates. This timeframe can be shortened in the off-peak season, which is September 16 through May 14.

That actually depends; please read our full article on how long a move usually takes to learn more.

The relocation consultant will arrive at your home to complete the visual survey of your items (Approx. 15 minutes). Once this is completed, the relocation consultant will calculate the cubic ft, packing cost and any other charge related to your move.

*Remember that the relocation consultant must clearly see what you are moving in order to provide you with an accurate estimate. Crawl spaces, attics, and cluttered closets can be deceiving, so organize your house before the relocation consultant arrives.

Don't be alarmed if the relocation consultant goes through all your cabinets and closets or looks under beds and on top of cabinets. He or she must be able to see what is moving and possibly needs packing. If you know of items that are out of view, be certain to point them out to the relocation consultant. If there are items you will be eliminating, be sure to point them out as well.

One word of caution that can save you a great deal of trouble on loading day. Get rid of all items you do not plan to move. Otherwise, there may not be enough space for your shipment. This will not occur on one or two small items, but if you anticipated eliminating an entire bedroom suite and do not do so, it is quite possible that this could violate the integrity of your binding estimate and/or cause the driver to run out of space.

Appliances such as washers, dryers, and refrigerators must always be disconnected for us before we move them. Otherwise, additional charges may apply.

The washer must have a stabilizer installed before getting moved. This is entirely your responsibility.

Contact us even if you are driving your own truck and got your own “helpers”. We can rent you our piano moving board. But we do have great rates for labor-only jobs, too. So, please don’t hesitate to request a quote before you risk your instrument moving it yourself...

Did you know that other piano moving companies and stores hire us to move their clients’ pianos? If you are driving your own truck, we can help you to load/unload it.

Movers On Duty, besides being the best household furniture movers, is a premier professional piano moving company that only hires experienced piano movers to work with us full-time. Top-of-the-line moving help!

Movers On Duty knows that pianos are big investments, and we intend to keep your piano safe throughout the moving process, from start to finish.

Using blankets, cardboard, plastic, and pads to protect it from damage, we further take our piano moving services up a notch by ensuring that your piano is transported with utmost care.

Full insurance coverage is available upon request.

In reality, most of the weight of a piano comes from its heavy cast iron harp, the combination of thick pieces of lumber, and numerous other components.

Small upright pianos have smaller cast iron harps than bigger uprights and Grand pianos.

For this chart, our professional piano movers measured the length of Grand pianos from the front of the keyboard (with the lid closed) to the center of the tail at the back.

Page: How to move a washing machine - Professional movers moving a washer

Movers

Prepping and moving a washer can be easy if you know what to do and what to expect.

We would recommend you give us a call if you actually need help moving the washer or dryer. Our washing machine moving services include the truck (if you need it) and the guys.

Or you can easily learn how to safely prepare your washer before moving it yourself in just a few simple steps: Whether you have a front-loading or a top-loading washing machine, there is always a little work involved in preparing it for a move. Washing machines are important investments, right?

You probably want to take care of yours, so it works properly when it's delivered to your new house.

If you don't have the owner's manual, you should be able to Google the brand, model, and "owner's manual." For example, you might search for "Samsung WV9600 5.5 cubic ft FlexWash Washer's "Owner's Manual" to find it online. And if that doesn't work, a local appliance repair shop may be able to order a manual for you. If none of these work, please let us know so we can service your washer for you (additional charges will most likely apply).

Unless the owner's manual instructs otherwise, please, do the following.

If you are also planning on storing your washer, the following steps will prepare it for storage, as well.

The 1st several steps are just to help you unhooking and draining the washing machine. We recommend doing these in the listed order to avoid damage to the machine or injury to yourself. If you just don't feel confident disconnecting and draining your washer, you can always hire a plumber or appliance technician. (Or just let us do it for a small additional fee)

Please note: If you aren't unsure about shutting off and disconnecting the power supply or gas line when moving a dryer or other large appliances, always contact a professional utility service provider for help.

Since washing machines and dryers are typically heavy and bulky, we recommend having enough help while loading if you are not using a professional moving company. Once it's all disconnected and prepped, shimmy the washer away from the wall so you can place a dolly or hand truck behind it.

Then:

Moving Tip: If you load other items on top, make certain they aren't heavy items that could cause denting or other damage to your appliances.

Not recommended but it certainly is possible.

But before you do, please make sure:

How to move a washing machine easily?

Use washing machine transit bolts before moving the washer upstairs or downstairs. These washers' drum stabilizer are 100% required.

Use a dolly or a appliance hand-truck if you have one. If not, you will definitely need extra help.

If you only need moving labor help to move a washer or dryer, let us know! We can always send 1 or 2 of our helpers if that is all you need. Or we can send our movers with a truck as well.

Movers

Hiring interstate relocation services from a moving broker isn't a smart move. Why pay extra for a middleman that can't even control the quality of service you will receive during the interstate move?

It is always better to contact the interstate moving company directly. You save money, there are no misunderstandings, and you avoid all the headaches that come with miscommunication.

Including hidden fees and last-minute surprises.

Our long-distance movers can professionally help with your move from one state to another.

[eromco_form] For interstate moves, we always provide exact prices instead of surprises! What this means is that we'll give you an exact price quote that will include the truck, mileage, insurance, loading labor, unloading labor, furniture protection, and even the gas & tolls. So, you won't have to worry about any additional charges.

If you really want to save money on your interstate move, maybe consider packing the boxes yourself. Unpacking the boxes, yourself will also save you a ton of money if you are moving interstate. But if you'd prefer paying a bit more and have a professional moving company pack and unpack your boxes, just let us know...

Our interstate movers will wrap and protect the furniture, they will disassemble beds, plastic-wrap the mattresses, and they will protect TVs and mirrors. When we get to the destination, everything will be placed exactly where you want it. Beds will be reassembled, and the furniture will get unwrapped. Our interstate relocation services are all-inclusive. So, you don't have to worry about hidden fees or last-minute surprises.

Unlike other interstate movers that will place your belongings in a truck with 6 or 7 other loads, we reserve the truck only for you. That means you don't have to wait for other people, you don't have to worry about your belongings being delivered to the wrong place/people. You will never have to wonder where your truck is... And most importantly, you won't have to wait 2 or 3 weeks to receive your belongings. We can start driving as soon as the day after we pick up. We can deliver in half the time it will take our competitors to deliver any interstate load.

We have great movers to help us with interstate moves coming from and going to Maryland, Virginia, or Washington DC. We are licensed, insured, and bonded. We don't work with brokers or 3rd parties. We handle your interstate move completely from pick up to delivery.

Relocating or moving from one state to another is what is considered as an interstate move or relocation. Primarily regulated by the FMCSA (Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration) and the US Department of Transportation. When it comes to delivery times, we must be realistic. The distance, the weather, the traffic, and some other factors will directly impact when your items get delivered. We will work with your schedule to make sure you receive your stuff as soon as possible or when you need it. We won't make you wait unnecessarily.

Website: moversonduty.com

Need some junk removal? We can do a property clean-out if needed. Let us know if you might be interested in this service as well so we can give you a great deal for both your interstate move and this.

Interstate moving has never been easier. All you need is the right team of interstate movers by your side!

—>TODAY’S MOVING TIP: Please make sure you are getting a real local apartment moving company instead of a moving broker. This is important. Brokers are basically booking moves for whatever they can and then they subcontract or sell these moves to the first unqualified mover willing to pay (Who may or may not show up). See, a lot of rogue movers will “claim” moves from the moving broker and if they are in the area at the time of pick-up they will get the shipment. If they aren’t they will either show up really late or not at all. Moving brokers for apartment moves usually charge between 20-30% as a booking fee. So, as you can imagine, the service is going to be much lower hiring a broker. And if things go wrong with the move you will probably get your deposit back from a broker one way or another but you may be out of luck getting your move done.

So, please consider this:

*Movers On Duty is a local carrier; an ACTUAL MOVING COMPANY that is locally owned and operated with our own vehicles and our own apartment moving crews.

We are NOT A BROKER. We would like to take this opportunity to reiterate the importance of reserving your move with a local mover.

Looking for professionally trained movers? Movers with years of experience and a great reputation?

Movers On Duty offers movers with a truck and movers without a truck. We currently have movers in Maryland, movers in Virginia, and movers in Washington DC.

But we might also be able to help if you are in Delaware, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, or West Virginia.

Do you only need the movers? Maybe you have the truck and all you need is the movers to help you load and/or unload...

We can help! Our movers work with the drivers of the largest van lines to help them unload their tractor trailers. So, helping you unload your rental truck won't be an issue.

Since our movers are used to moving pianos and other extremely heavy furniture, there is nothing you need to move that we won't be able to handle.

Legit movers will be able to give you an exact price quote for your move. There are several factors that will affect the price of your move.

Your inventory, the date, and the details of your move will affect the rate directly.

Also, keep in mind that packing services and unpacking of boxes are services you can also hire from your local movers to save time and even money.

Although not all of them are, some are, and they are great at it. For bigger packing jobs, we send our packing crew.

While the movers protect the furniture with blankets and the mattress with plastic covers, the packers will bubble-wrap the fragile items that need to be boxed up. Our movers and packers work super efficiently together.

Only when you hire both of these services, you get the full Movers On Duty experience.

Moving isn't rocket science. But some people can really make it look hard. To avoid this issue, always contact and hire the movers directly.

Bookcases and shelving units will also be made whole (If your bookcases have glass shelves or the shelves come right off by lifting them, our movers will most likely remove the shelves to wrap them separately).

We will take care of everything for you. We always have the right tools for every job.

Putting together and taking apart furniture might not be an easy task but when you hire a full-service moving company, you should expect them to be able to help with that.

If you are moving on a budget and you feel that you are fully capable of disassembling and/or reassembling the furniture yourself, then do it yourself.

This will definitely save you time and money. Just let us know that you are planning on doing this when getting a quote so we can discount it from the charges.

Our movers are really fast but most importantly, they don't waste time.

They are not on their phones; they don't take brakes to go smoke.

They have all the right equipment to expedite your move. We always show up with dollies and hand-trucks.

You will love our movers. And we can guarantee that you will never see another group of trained pro movers working together so well as a team. Don't believe us? Then, just read our online reviews, please.

Should you even tip your movers? Well, that depends. If you had to help them, if they damaged stuff, or if they were just being lazy, then no, they don't deserve a tip. On the other hand, if they did a great job and nothing got damaged then yes, you totally should.

Moving is hard work and movers love when they are shown appreciation for their hard labor. But how much do you tip movers? $20 per mover or $100 per mover. It is completely up to you in reality. Our movers know that not everyone can afford to tip. (But an online review is also a plus) Movers usually receive their tip after unloading or delivering.

But for long-distance relocations, the crew picking up might not be the same crew that delivers. The crew leader will be able to let you know which team members will meet you at the delivery. This would be the best time to tip the movers that you won't see on the other end.

Movers On Duty is a local carrier, an ACTUAL MOVING COMPANY that is locally owned and operated with our own movers and trucks.

We would like to take this opportunity to reiterate the importance of reserving your move with a local mover with a truck and NOT a moving broker.

We are the best Movers MD has to offer! But we have movers in MD, movers in DC, and movers in VA.

Hiring only 1 mover is not recommended unless only boxes and small items (no heavier than 50 lbs) are being moved. Although each one of our movers can pick up a sofa and take it, we encourage them not to do that because that's when accidents happen regardless of how careful they are. Accidents happen...

And we know it because we all started as moving helpers. We have done the work.

Now we oversee it. This is why we usually don't send only 1 mover to help people move.

Hiring 2 guys and a truck is recommended for dorms, studio, one-bedroom, and even small 2 bedroom apartments. But mostly apartment moving only, we wouldn't send only two people to do a large 2 bedroom apartment move or a house move.

If you think you will need 3 or more professional movers and a truck or two (maybe based on past experiences) please contact us directly. Our movers are unlike any others you have ever seen (or heard about).

We don't waste time on our phones, we don't smoke, and we are all athletes.

Movers On Duty always has the correct amount of movers on site (sometimes even one or two too many) but no worries! We give you a flat rate when you first hire us.

So if we bring more movers, that simply expedites the whole moving process. It does NOT cost you extra.

Movers

If you are looking for a great eviction moving company offering residential and commercial eviction services in Maryland, Washington DC, or Northern Virginia, then you have landed on the correct website.

Movers On Duty provides the best, fastest, and friendliest eviction crews at the best price!

With over a decade of experience, we know exactly how to ensure a smooth eviction without any setbacks.

Our mission is to help you regain your property efficiently and stress-free!

Our eviction movers are always punctual and arrive with the right team size for the job.

Plus, we provide all necessary supplies to complete the eviction—at no extra charge.

We have been providing eviction moving services for more than a decade. And the Sheriffs love working with us!

First time doing an eviction? Well, we have done thousands of evictions. Our eviction movers near you, do evictions from Monday to Friday.

We know exactly how evictions work! We have been doing commercial and residential evictions in Maryland for more than a decade.

We've done so many of them that most local Sheriffs/Constables already know us by name (And yes, they are always impressed by how well we get our job done).

We've successfully helped hundreds of landlords and property managers get their properties back.

Our eviction specialists always have boxes and heavy-duty plastic trash bags to expedite the process of packing and removing your tenants' belongings. (Supplies are provided at NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE)

We only need 10 minutes to give you an exact price for your eviction:

Please allow us to provide you with the best eviction helpers in the State.

We provide eviction help to landlords, property managers, attorneys, investors, and realtors.

The deputies love working with our movers! Because we don't waste time and we know what we're doing.

Please take a minute to listen to one of the deputies give us instructions prior to entering the house.

This happened right after they removed the tenant from the property:

Before entering the property, the deputies will do a headcount to ensure the landlord or property manager has the correct number of eviction movers on site. Then they'll knock on the door. (Locksmith might also be required)

As soon as we are allowed inside the unit/property, our eviction helpers will begin packing/bagging everything.

Then we'll proceed to take everything outside (to the curb or wherever the sheriff says since we only have 60 to 120 minutes total).

We are capable, experienced, licensed, insured, and bonded because your peace of mind is our priority!

Each state has different requirements, sometimes varying from county to county. Evictions are complicated. But either way, we are here to help.

We offer EXACT PRICES instead of surprises!

Our rates include ALL the required people, dollies, hand trucks, travel time, gas, and even vehicles (if needed).

The following video shows some of the protocols the Sheriff's Department has during a tenant eviction.

Our eviction team works closely with the local sheriffs to ensure a smooth and efficient eviction process for both landlords and property managers.

This is all part of the eviction process:

Depending on your county, we might or might not be able to remove the tenant's belongings from the property right away.

For example, when we do an eviction in Montgomery County, you must wait 24 hours before you can dispose of the tenants belongings (by law).

Evictions in Prince George county only have to wait 4 hours to remove the tenant's stuff from the curb. In Baltimore, the stuff usually goes straight to the dump...

Check out this eviction caught on tape! It depicts the aftermath on actual eviction:

With so many years of experience, we even know exactly what scares a squatter the most. We have seen their faces once faced with reality.

Somehow, some people think they'll never get evicted...

We can absolutely help with your eviction, but it has to be right after this happens:

Our DC eviction crew, just like our eviction crew in Maryland and our eviction crews from Virginia, are always ready and willing to help when needed.

Your tenant will pay you when they see us or you will get your property back. That's a promise!

So, contact us today and let us help you make this bad experience, a much smoother one.

After attending the court hearing. If it all goes well, your tenant will have a set amount of time to leave the property. Depending on where you live this can be 2 days or 2 weeks.

If the tenant doesn't leave before the eviction date, someone from the Sheriff's Office will have to escort them out while we help you remove their belongings from the property.

Do you need help evicting a tenant? Give us a call! We have the muscles to move furniture and other household items out of your property. We will pack and move everything so you don't have to.

In the realm of commercial real estate, where each move represents a significant chapter, Movers On Duty (commercial movers eviction section) stands as a partner dedicated to making transitions, including evictions, as smooth as possible.

Not only do we have the experience but we also have the endurance required to handle tough commercial evictions. From repair shops to retail stores. From restaurants to warehouses and everything in between. We have done it all.

This is a commercial eviction:

At Movers On Duty, we understand that in the ever-changing landscape of commercial real estate, shifts are bound to happen, and occasionally, they encompass maneuvering through the intricacies of commercial evictions.

Should you encounter the hurdles associated with a commercial eviction, don't hesitate to connect with us.

After all, our movers are the best commercial eviction crew according to the sheriffs.

In commercial eviction scenarios, the sheriff typically requires 25 able bodies, heavy-duty trash bags for packing belongings, tools to dismantle furniture, and dollies for the removal of hefty items.

A locksmith must also be present. If your eviction is in Montgomery County, you will also need a truck.

Are you curious about what to expect during an eviction move-out?

This free guide for landlords should be super useful and it should answer most of your questions about the process of an eviction.

It provides in-depth insights into what happens on the day of the eviction and how it all concludes.

Do not miss out on this comprehensive resource that can empower you as a landlord. Get your FREE guide now and navigate the eviction process with confidence!

We can't offer any legal advice because we are only an eviction moving company but if your property is located in Maryland, we would recommend you check the courts' website on housing cases.

You will learn how to give proper notice, what happens in court, and even what happens after judgment.

It should be scheduled only after the Sheriff's office has received the signed original Warrant of Restitution from the court.

The number of movers required will vary based on the location and property size.

Not having the right amount of movers at the scheduled time may result in the cancelation of the eviction.

The Sheriff ultimately has the last word, find out how many movers they want you to have there that day and save yourself the headache.

The landlord or their representative must be present during the eviction. Someone has to sign the paperwork.

Yes, we always bring heavy-duty trash bags and boxes to pack everything. We will empty all the drawers, closets, and even the kitchen cabinets.

At no extra cost, we will also bring tools to disassemble furniture (if needed).

Our movers will have dollies and hand trucks to handle heavy furniture, safes, and pianos.

The best part is that you don't have to worry about additional charges!

We will have the equipment and manpower sufficient to complete the eviction on time.

We'll take the tenant's stuff to the curb. The deputy in charge of the eviction will let us know exactly where they want things placed.

In Montgomery County, the stuff might need to be driven to the closest main road instead. But this is up to the sheriff.

We don't decide what to do with their stuff, and we are usually not allowed to take it anywhere. The tenant has 24 hours to pick up their things.

If they don't and you need junk removal services the next day, just let us know.

We offer exact prices for that service as well.

Yes, we are an eviction moving company that offers discounts to property managers, realtors, leasing offices, and others.

Since you will be using our services multiple times, we will take care of you.

Let us help with evictions and the junk removal the day after, if the tenant doesn't pick up the stuff from the curve.

Yes, we do. We work with many property managers in the area.

If you have more than 3 evictions scheduled for the same property, we can offer lower rates.

Bulk evictions are our specialty, we can handle up to 25 evictions per day.

Yes, most likely you will. Not only will you want to change the locks after the tenant has left the property but you also want to make sure the Sheriff and the movers will have access to the property.

Just imagine for a second... You have done everything legally to evict the tenant, the eviction day has arrived, and 5 minutes before the eviction is supposed to start you notice that the tenant has changed the doorknob and the locks. So, your keys will not work. The Sheriff won't wait until you find a locksmith.

You will have to wait a month or 2 to get another eviction date. Don't let this happen to you and schedule a locksmith just in case you need to gain entry. (Moving companies aren't professional locksmiths – We don't offer locksmith services)

There are many unexpected reasons why an eviction can get canceled.

The tenant might just pay or move out. Or maybe the resident gets an extension from the judge the day before the eviction.

The locksmith does not show up or isn't able to grant us access to the unit.

Your friends could be late or even worse, fewer people than expected could show up (with us you don't have to worry about this – we plan on keeping our perfect record intact). This is why we always show up at least 15 minutes before the sheriffs arrive.

But believe it or not, most evictions get canceled due to inclement weather. Rain or snow or if the weather is below 32 degrees Fahrenheit will most likely be a reason for the Deputy Sheriff to ask you to reschedule.

How and where to find and hire all the required people for your eviction:

*Please remember that if you don't have the correct amount of movers, the eviction will get canceled. The Sheriff will not wait 30 minutes for your friends to show up.

All eviction moving companies operate differently. We don't ask for a deposit to reserve the date. And we only have 1 or 2 charges depending on your specific county.

If you're doing an eviction in Montgomery county then there are 2 charges. A truck fee and the the eviction labor fee. Only MoCo requires you to have a truck on site.

The Sheriffs in all other counties only require the movers.

You can try to get people from outside the Home Depot or Craigslist. But we wouldn't risk it.

If you don't have the required people, the Sheriff will cancel the eviction. It will take months for you to get another eviction date.

This isn't the time to save pennies on the dollar. Think big picture, you want pro movers who will show up on time (with all the requested people) to help you get your property back...

It means that even if they pay the judgment amount due, you still have the right to proceed with the eviction.

An squatter is an individual who occupies a vacant building or unused land without legal authorization.

We offer squatter removal services.

Maryland property owners must follow a specific process when evicting a squatter. You can't use the same type of eviction order that you would for a tenant.

The procedure is as follows:

The landlord must serve a 10 to 30-day eviction notice to the squatter, depending on the eviction offense:

A wrongful detainer refers to a person occupying real property against their wishes. Landlords cannot evict current renters, holdover tenants, or those in possession based on a court order through a wrongful detainer lawsuit. However, if an individual has no leasing history or legal right to the property, the landowner can initiate a lawsuit to pursue eviction.

All self-eviction actions are illegal in MD. This involves shutting off the utilities or changing the doorknobs/locks. Failure to comply with this opens up the possibility for a squatter to file a lawsuit against the property owner.

The fourth Order for eviction is written as a “no right of redemption”, which means the tenants can no longer pay up to continue to stay. (In Baltimore City, it takes five Orders.)

We offer eviction help in Maryland, Virginia, and Washington DC. Our eviction helpers will remove everything from your property in record time.

We offer the best help to do an eviction. There are many eviction companies offering eviction services, but none of them are a professional moving company.

Page: What to Expect During an Eviction Move Out: A Guide for Landlords

Movers

When it comes to eviction move-outs, proper preparation and guidance are crucial. As a trusted eviction service provider in Maryland, Northern Virginia, and Washington DC, Movers On Duty understands the complexities of this process.

Although we are not attorneys, our team has extensive experience working with landlords, property managers, lawyers, and tenants during this challenging time.

In this article, we'll provide a comprehensive guide to help landlords prepare for their upcoming eviction, with expert tips and advice on everything from documentation to logistics.

Before beginning an eviction move-out, it's important to understand the legal requirements and considerations involved. The eviction process varies by state and jurisdiction, so it's important to consult with a qualified attorney to ensure compliance with local laws.

In general, the eviction process begins with the landlord providing written notice to the tenant of the reasons for eviction and a specified time period to vacate the property. If the tenant does not comply with the notice, the landlord may file a lawsuit to obtain a court order requiring the tenant to vacate the property.

Once the court order is obtained, the landlord can request the assistance of the sheriff's office to enforce the order and remove the tenant and their possessions from the property. The sheriff's office will provide a date, time, and requirements for the eviction move-out. (Including the number of eviction movers needed)

During the eviction, the sheriff's office will oversee the process to ensure that it is conducted legally and safely. It's important for landlords to communicate effectively with the sheriff's office and eviction service provider to minimize conflicts and ensure a smooth process.

Wouldn't it be great to be able to get a free, no-obligation instant online quote for your upcoming eviction?

We got you!

You deserve transparent, upfront pricing.

Property managers and landlords love our all-inclusive rates!

Pricing details: The price estimate is for Maryland, Northern Virginia, and Washington DC only (includes packing supplies, tools, and dollies). Truck fee includes gas and mileage.

*Locksmith NOT included in estimate

When it comes to eviction move-outs, it's important to know that each county has its own set of protocols that the sheriffs follow before approaching the property on the day of the eviction. If the sheriffs have requested a specific number of movers, a truck, heavy-duty trash bags/boxes, and a locksmith, it's crucial to have all of these items/people there on time...

One of the first things that the sheriffs do when they arrive is a head count to ensure that everyone who needs to be present is present. At Movers On Duty, we understand the importance of being punctual, which is why we guarantee that our team of experienced movers will arrive at least 20 minutes before the scheduled time of the eviction, ensuring that everything is in place and ready to go. By doing so, we can minimize any potential delays or issues that may arise during the eviction move-out process.

If any of these requirements are not met, the sheriffs may not even knock on the door, and the eviction will get rescheduled. This is why it's essential to work with a professional eviction service provider like Movers On Duty, who has the necessary resources and expertise to ensure a smooth and successful eviction move-out. While also complying with the sheriff's requirements and regulations in your county.

During an eviction move-out, it's recommended to document the condition of the property and the items being removed. This documentation can help protect you as the property manager or the landlord in case of any disputes or legal challenges from the tenant.

Before beginning the eviction move-out, the landlord or the person in charge should take photos and videos of the property to document its condition. This documentation should include any damage or repairs needed, as well as any personal belongings left behind by the tenant.

At Movers On Duty, we understand the importance of working closely with landlords to ensure that all items are properly documented and disposed of in accordance with legal requirements. Contact us today to learn more about our eviction moving help in Maryland, Northern Virginia, and Washington, DC.

There are certain items that can't be removed and must remain inside the property. These items are typically classified as hazardous or dangerous, and their removal can pose a risk to both the eviction team and the property.

Some of the most common items that must remain inside the property during eviction move-outs include food, chemicals, weapons, broken glass, and other hazardous materials.

At Movers On Duty, we take the safety of our team members and clients seriously. This is why we work closely with the landlord or property manager to ensure that all hazardous or dangerous items are properly identified. Our team members are trained to follow strict safety protocols when handling these items and will ensure that they remain inside the property during the eviction move-out process.

If you're unsure about what items must remain inside the property during an eviction move-out, don't hesitate to contact us or your local Sheriff's office. Our team of professional eviction specialists is always happy to answer any questions you may have and provide you with the guidance you need to ensure a smooth and successful eviction process.

It's important to note that the sheriff's protocols for eviction move-outs can vary depending on the county. In some cases, the sheriffs may deem some items as trash, which means they can be taken straight to the dump. However, in other counties such as Frederick, Montgomery, Anne Arundel, and PG County, by law, certain items must remain outside the property for at least 24 hours to give the tenant time to retrieve their belongings. At Movers On Duty, we understand the importance of complying with local regulations and laws during eviction move-outs. This is why we ensure that our team of professionals is familiar with the specific requirements of each county we serve. In counties where items must remain outside for 24 hours, the landlord or property manager may be responsible for picking up whatever the tenant or other individuals passing by didn't take.

We also offer junk removal services if you need help with that the next day!

Page: Best local moving companies near me. Local moving company.

Movers

Moving companies are not all the same. Prices aren't the same, and the moving service quality isn't either.

This is a fact!

There are moving companies for big moves, and some only do small moves.

We are one of the few moving companies that can handle jobs of all sizes.

Movers On Duty is a moving company with more than a decade of residential moving and commercial moving experience.

Besides being licensed, insured, and bonded; Movers On Duty is a Better Business Bureau accredited moving company with an A+ rating.

Hands down, one of the best moving companies near you!

Moving companies sometimes hire us to help them handle big or overcomplicated jobs. Sometimes they need help moving a piano, moving heavy furniture, other times they just need us to wear their shirts and handle complete moves on their behalf.

The quality of our moving services is well-known among household moving companies.

Many moving companies have even tried to acquire us but we have decided to continue operating as an independent moving company.

Movers On Duty doesn't operate the way other moving companies do. We offer flat rate quotes instead of moving estimates.

The price of the move is not based on the time it takes to get it done or the travel time or the amounts of supplies used to protect the furniture or to pack the boxes.

Get a moving quote based on what you actually need help with, distance, and the exact date. We can give you an exact price quote over the phone or online.

Most moving companies usually have many different charges like travel time fees, fuel/gas surcharges, wrapping or packing supplies, hourly rates, and even reservation fees.

We offer FLAT RATES instead. Our prices include everything. From the disassembly/reassembly of furniture to the protection of furniture, doors, and floors.

Just tell us what you need and we will get it done at a fair and honest price.

Local moving companies' prices vary as much as their reputations. Movers On Duty has a great record and incredibly accessible rates for the quality of moving service provided.

We are sure that you will love our movers!

When getting moving quotes, please, remember that price isn't everything. Who is taking all your belongings is what actually matters, doesn't it?

Cheap moving companies will always find a way to make money. They will hit you with hidden fees, they will drag their feet to milk the clock on you.

They will do whatever it takes to make their money, even if that means stealing from you.

So, please be careful with who you hire. And remember that moving brokers aren't any better. Always hire local moving service providers.

But we must also mention that the nation is seeing a wave of moving scams.

So, please always do your research before actually hiring a moving company:

Are there any reputable moving companies? How do you know if a company is legit?

There are many reputable movers if you know where to look. And you definitely do! Because you are already here.

And yes, there are some things that will help you confirm that a moving company is legitimate, for example, the company's USDOT number to ensure compliance. But online reviews and how many years the company has been operating must also be taken into consideration.

Comparing moving companies before hiring one might be the best move you can make today.

There are many moving companies' comparison websites like www.imoving.com, www.unpakt.com, and www.labormoving.com. They are all legit but we would recommend you booking directly with the movers of your choice instead of booking online with them.

This most likely will also save you money because the moving company won't have to give the comparison website a cut. And it expedites processes.

So, compare moving companies' rates and reviews on one screen. Then select the moving company that best fits your budget and needs. Or save yourself some time and call us directly since you already found us

Besides our long-distance moving services, we offer local moving.

(Movers without a truck are also available for hire)

We do offer professional packing services, unpacking, and junk removal.

Our packing services include FREE UNLIMITED packing supplies so our packers can wrap and protect everything the way they are supposed to, without you having to worry about how much all these supplies will end up costing you.

We charge flat-rate prices for packing furniture and boxes. So, even if you only need international moving help, we can still assist.

The Movers On Duty Team is proud to offer full-service packing solutions.

From packing up your home or business to organizing your boxes in our state-of-the-art moving vans, we are dedicated to providing the highest quality customer service and moving experience.

No matter how big or small the job is, count on us to provide you with the best service possible.

Packing and moving professionals trained to take care of the packing process quickly and efficiently.

We offer the following packing options:

But every office move is different, so we can't generalize online...

It is pretty simple actually!

But there are many variables and factors. For instance, are we packing and unpacking the boxes for you? Are we moving you locally or is this a long-distance move? Do you need junk removal services as well? Single-item move?

No problem! We can help but we do need to learn all your specific needs and requirements to help you successfully.

Dental office moves and other medical and lab relocations may present a challenge to some.

But our pro office movers have already dealt with everything before.

We still haven't found the office move we can't do...

We are a locally owned and operated office moving company. So, take the hassle out of moving and let the best local movers help with your move.

Look for packout services with a solid reputation. Customer reviews and testimonials can provide valuable insights into the quality of service offered.

Ensure that the packout services you choose offer a comprehensive range of services, including packing, labeling, inventory management, and maybe even unpacking at the destination.

Opt for packers who understand that one size doesn't fit all. Customized solutions ensure that your unique needs are met.
