Summary: With so much competition around, ensuring that the product on the market is delivered to the intended customers has become important. QA is extremely important and holds the ability to influence not only product quality but consumer satisfaction as well. This blog post focuses on the need for QA and discusses how it improves product quality, increases customer satisfaction, and drives business success. From the most important approaches to practical recommendations, we will analyze different aspects of software quality assurance and its impact on organizations and their customers.

Given the highly saturated and competitive markets where customers possess way too many choices, the principles of product reliability and customer satisfaction have emerged as the two key success factors. Even a single failure in meeting quality expectations can lead to loss of customers and a switching off of the brand. This is where software quality assurance shines.

Through continued institutionalization of quality management assessment, QA assures that business organizations can deliver on client expectations comprehensively. This not only results in higher reliability of the product on the market but also increases customer satisfaction – a key factor for long-term results.

However, how does quality assurance enhance the reliability of the products and customer satisfaction? This blog will address how QA works in today's business environments, how it improves dependability, and the ways in which it helps to address customer needs. On the way, we will discuss what QA is, the types of approaches, the advantages and difficulties of utilizing efficient QA tools, and more.

Product reliability means the ability of the product to function as it is designed to do for a given amount of time without developing a fault. A reliable product in addition to working correctly provides the necessary results, including extreme conditions. Such dependable products are crucial to sustaining customer confidence, managing high return rates, and handling complaints under warranty.

On the other hand, customer satisfaction can be described as the client's appreciation of the extent to which the service given has met or even surpassed his/her expectations. This covers the quality of the product as well as the total time from the moment a product is bought, the usage period, and the period after which the customer looks up for a repeat of the same product or service. On the other hand, customer satisfaction at a high level will lead to repeat business, customer loyalty, and word recommendation.

Thus, when the businesses are oriented towards both the dependability of the product and the satisfaction of the consumers, businesses forge good fundamentals for the future. QA continues to be centrally positioned in the achievement of this balance since every product that goes to the customer has to meet certain established quality standards.

Quality assurance and quality control are two important ways of working in collaboration to specify and guarantee the reliability of a product. While quality control is aimed at detecting and handling of defective products after undergoing its production process, QA usually sets out standards and controls that should not be such that allow production of a defective product.

It may be noted that because of its ability to emphasize on prevention and, hence, perfection in this context, QA is a significant steward in guaranteeing the reliability of a product as well as its fitness for performance in terms of both internal and customer-specified expectation.

Customer satisfaction can therefore be expressed in terms of the acceptable or desired level of quality of product or service offered. Quality assurance specialists help ensure that those items to be produced will meet lay-down standards or even exceed the standards of the customers.

Depending on the industry and the type of product some basic types of QA methodologies exist; however, there are some effective methodologies to improve the reliability of the product.

Thus businesses have to ensure that the best QA practices keep customer satisfaction at a high level by proactively addressing product and customer experience.

Implementing a robust QA process offers numerous benefits:

While the benefits of QA are clear, there are challenges that companies often face when implementing QA processes:

Especially at the present time when competition is steadily increasing, quality assurance emerges as an essential element for enhancing the usability of the product as well as increasing the level of satisfaction among the customer. With avoidance of defects, control of risks, and constant enhancement of goods, QA contributes to the achievement of customer satisfaction and sustainable survival of companies. QA provides a straight path to improvements in products, customer satisfaction, and revenue overall when it's practiced correctly and integrated with the right strategies.

Mobile App Testing On Cloud

Advanced Mobile Testing

Mobile App Functional Testing

Mobile applications testing ensures the efficient working of apps across all devices and platforms. Our mobile testing services help businesses deploy top-notch apps to grab users' attention. The expert QA engineers at Concetto Labs test functional and non-functional elements of a mobile app. We check mobile apps' consistency, usability, performance, and compatibility in all environments.

Mobile applications are at the center and indispensable for businesses' online presence and growth. According to insider intelligence, 88% of the time spent on mobile is on apps. So, the good news is the market for mobile apps is enormous. Yet, the catch is that it is more saturated with all the competitors creating alternatives for your mobile application.

Thus, choosing the path to go early in the market with a top-notch product is the right strategy to stay ahead of the competition. Even a small loophole in your mobile application, like functional issues, UX problems, poor experience, and average performance of the apps, can be costly.

Your target audience has many alternatives to switch to unless they are highly impressed by your services. So, you can attract and retain your target audience to your mobile apps with the right mobile app QA testing services.

Concetto Labs is the top mobile app testing company in India, with a team of highly proficient mobile app testers and QA engineers. We take full charge of testing your mobile for all specifics and standards.

We follow iOS and Android guidelines and test mobile apps against industry guidelines and standards. In addition, we check your mobile apps' compliance with other industry standards & regulations like GAMP, PCI DSS, HIPAA, etc.

Customer satisfaction and experience is the key to a successful product. With our usability testing services, we ensure your mobile apps have a user-friendly UI with easy-to-use and interactive features.

We follow iOS and Android guidelines and test your mobile apps against industry guidelines and standards. In addition, we check your mobile apps' compliance with other industry standards & regulations like GAMP, PCI DSS, HIPAA, etc.

Our mobile functional testing services assess your mobile apps' frontend and backend functionality. They identify errors and loopholes in the application and ensure it matches the industry standards.

Cybercrime is prevalent like never. Thus, with our mobile app testing services, we perform penetration testing that simulates a real-life hacking attack. It helps identify security glitches & loopholes.

How your mobile app performs in heavy traffic is a big concern. You don't want it to crash in heavy-load traffic. Our performance test engineers check your mobile app for load, scalability, or reliability defects.

As one of the leading mobile app testing companies, we perform automated tests to check the efficiency of your mobile apps. We perform tests to check the mobile apps' functionality, compatibility, performance, and security.

With our mobility testing services, we ensure your mobile app functions smoothly on different devices and platforms. The quality assurance engineers also provide a perfect end-user experience with no flaws.

We offer API testing services to test and verify the APIs for reliability, functionality, security, and performance. Our quality assurance engineers ensure that the APIs match with industry standards.

The primary purpose of mobile app testing services is to ensure that mobile apps perform seamlessly and flawlessly. Our proficient QA engineers choose the right mobile app testing platform to ensure proper functioning, compatibility, security, and compliance.

The agile development process integrated with automated tests enables faster deployment of mobile apps to the market. It helps reduce unnecessary overheads and thus reduces development cost with increased ROI.

Mobile app testing helps fix security glitches and loopholes and avoid unwanted iterations in the development cycle. It helps save time and launch a top-notch, flawless application to end users in less time. Thus, it enables businesses to earn higher revenue.

Mobile apps with flaws and errors lead to higher uninstall rates. We ensure a flawless mobile application is launched and tested against all specifications, including performance, usability, security, and compatibility.

We have a professional team of vetted quality assurance engineers and mobile app testers to take charge of the seamless quality of your mobile applications. They ensure to test your mobile apps for all quality & performance aspects.

Our certified quality assurance engineers follow the most advanced mobile app testing practices. In addition, we follow and test the mobile apps against iOS, Android, and other industry standards.

You can hire our certified mobile app testing engineers with a flexible engagement model at cost-effective rates. We enable you to hire full-time, part-time, and hourly quality assurance engineers to suit your project needs and budget.

We provide end-to-end mobile app testing services, from creating a thorough test strategy to choosing the right mobile testing platform and testing the mobile application for performance, functionality, usability, and compatibility. Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

The process of developing programs for Windows, Linux, macOS, iOS, and Android utilizing the.NET framework is known as ".NET development. The open-source.NET development platform comes with libraries, programming languages, and tools. It enables programmers to use several different languages to create apps. The.NET framework facilitates the creation of cutting-edge, high-performing, and scalable software.

The three basic programming languages that can be used with .NET are C#, Python, and Swift. Also, companies can use several different languages including JavaScript, Java, PHP, Go, Ruby, and SQL as per the requirement.

To hire the appropriate developer through outsourcing, one must prioritize candidates with proven experience in DOT NET technologies, excellent communication skills, and relevant project expertise. The interviewer must consider detailed job descriptions, technical interviews, and references to ensure the developers knowledge about DOT NET development.

The cost to develop a .NET application depends on several factors including the project scope, technology stack, business goals, engagement models, and solutions. To get an estimate for your project, it is better to contact our professionals for more details.

ASP.NET is the language that reduces the code lines to be performed and allows you to keep your application secure and easy to manage.

The main difference between ASP and ASP.NET is ASP uses only VBscript or Javascript whereas ASP.NET uses any language compiled.

For creating any project, the best quality with a limited amount of time period is required, and ASP.NET has the quality to perform fast project coding with a limited amount of time.

Yes, people are still using ASP.NET because it is quite demanding in the market nowadays and generating a good amount of code with a specific time boundary is possible via ASP.NET code development.

A Comprehensive Incident Management App Reshapes Non-Conformance Reporting for a Multinational Client

One of our clients which is having operations running in multiple countries, grappled with the manual handling of incident and non-conformance reports across multiple locations. The incident reporting was relatively straightforward, involving the recording of incidents, issue descriptions, 5 Whys, and corrective actions. On the other hand, the non-conformance reporting process spanned eight intricate steps:

The complexity of this process, combined with the need for centralized data management, presented a significant challenge for efficient reporting and analysis.

To address the challenges, we implemented a robust Incident Management App developed using Microsoft PowerApps and Power Automate. The app was designed to streamline both incident and non-conformance reporting processes. The database utilized for storing these reports was a SharePoint List, ensuring a centralized repository accessible across all locations. Microsoft PowerBI was integrated for seamless report generation and analytics, providing valuable insights into incident trends and non-conformance patterns.

The Incident Management App facilitated incident reporting with a user-friendly interface capturing incident details, issue descriptions, 5 Whys, and corrective actions. For non-conformance reporting, the app guided users through the eight-step process, ensuring consistency and thorough documentation. Automation through Power Automate simplified the flow of information, reducing manual errors and improving overall efficiency. The streamlined reporting processes reduced the time spent on incident and non-conformance reporting, allowing teams to focus on proactive measures and improvements.

The SharePoint List database centralized all reports, enabling easy retrieval and analysis of data across multiple locations.

PowerBI integration provided real-time analytics, empowering decision-makers with valuable insights into incident trends, non-conformance patterns, and areas for improvement.

The user-friendly interface of the app, coupled with automation, led to increased user adoption and adherence to standardized reporting practices.

The automation of manual processes resulted in cost savings associated with reduced human errors and improved resource allocation.

In conclusion, the Incident Management App, developed using Microsoft PowerApps, Power Automate, and integrated with SharePoint and PowerBI, transformed the way Global Enterprises Inc. handles incident and non-conformance reporting. The successful implementation has not only increased operational efficiency but also positioned the organization for proactive risk management and continuous improvement

This app enables employees to create, view, and manage timesheets, with features like new timesheet creation, submission, and report generation. Managers can approve/reject timesheets, manage approvals, and view team reports. The app also includes a support system and integrates PowerBI for analytics.

The application is developed using Power Apps (Canvas Apps), and it plays a crucial role in lab sample collection, allowing collectors to carefully record all details of assigned requests. This includes scheduling client visits, on-site specimen collection, and efficient courier management to laboratories. The mobile app ensures smooth tracking of specimen details, thorough expense tracking, and accurate documentation of requested assignments—whether completed or not.

A solution in a form of a Canvas app which enables the users to share their injuries that can be covered up with the insurance being provided by the organization with a complex approval structure for the organization covering all the facets for the approval, its not complex for the user though

An entire audit to analyze the process of project execution. It supports two types of incident reporting, i.e. minor or major where the forms/functionalities differ. A major incident report comes with 8 different stages which help the user to record the detailed level of an audit

This PowerApps belongs to Construction company where they logs their construction site Inspection on daily basis. it includes features like, user login based on his current location, add inspection log for specific project including number trades, work progress images, issue images, create inspection log report, email report etc..

From creating user accounts, assigning them their systems, and managing the payroll, this app has it all. It makes the process of the IT Manager, HR Manager, and the Staff Member Manager easier by providing a step by step function implementations along with assigning tasks to the teammates.

There is always a need of having a ticket management system in any organization to cater to the need of the customers and excel in after-sales. This ticket management system provides the user with the full-fledged technicalities and helps log the entries to get the best approach for raising the queries/issues from the customer's end

This is a leading construction company that specialises in building large-scale projects. We provide comprehensive solution that would allow them to manage their data and workflow effectively. Concetto Labs, a leading provider of PowerApps solutions, to implement PowerApps Canvas App, Model Driven App, SharePoint, MS SQL, and Dataverse.

PLC is an Model-Driven based application developed to cater the need of all the individuals associated with a construction based project, starting from pitching till maintenance, it contains all features to jot down the requirements along with the automations required at each step.

An app that helps to automate the manual process of entering and storing all the records of the project being taken by a construction company. It is so detailed that a company with a turnover in billions can deploy this solution for an easy and quick way to manage their records.

Easily manage your expenses while you are on a business trip and get it approved by your managers. This app provides an entire hierarchy of the user management along with email approvals of the expense reports added by the employees making the reimbursement process easier.

An application that allows the users to manage the scope of work, NDAs, along with adding and managing the projects based on multiple technologies. Automation allows each reports to be sent to the customer

A solution in terms of an application was in need by one of our clients who were already using the Microsoft ecosystem to manage their employees. They were not having a centralized way of managing their inventory and were doing it via the Google sheets which was becoming tedious as their business expanded.

Construction workers and the engineers always need the acceptance criteria to be fulfilled at the end of the day so that there's no mistake in any area which can end up with some mishap. This app is one of the lightest app that aims to capture the images from the tabs assigned to the worker or engineer to keep a image log of the work done

This app was aimed for a trading company located at Chile and Chicago who wanted to manage the list of their customers along with their orders for the day to day trades of stocks whether it be selling, purchasing or putting them on hold. It gives the access to 4 roles of the company's hierarchy where there are some employees handling the end customers, some are managing the trades, some at verification desk and a handful at management. Trade Management app also gives the admin the authority to check the customer's trade history by just putting up their name or ID along with managing the roles of the employees

The idea behind this app was to build an app for the client and his team to manage their construction workers' vendors in an effective way. To assign the person from the company who will be taking care of the work to be allotted to each vendor using this app and manage the ratings and reviews for their jobs so that they can use them again for future projects.

We were supposed to help the client with changing his entire manual work into an automated platform where he could run his business. The job was to provide the client with a Powerapp where he can assign the work to his team for installing cables after surveying the area, materials and cost required for each component which were dynamically specified for the admin. The worker can just get the PDF (HTML to PDF conversion) for all the estimation and install the cable according to the survey made.

This PowerApps is about to create a job order for the received pump. It logs various angle's information & images about the pump part received for the repair. It includes reports like As Found & As Built.

This PowerApps is about to fill daily questionnaire for specific job site and based on answers it creates work orders and email notifications for responsible person.

This PowerApps is about to collect customer contact details when they visit your office. It is connected with multiple Databases.

This PowerApps is about to view SharePoint document library. It just list out all documents library from SharePoint. Clicking on specific document from the list, will open complete document as a preview. This applies to all kind of documents.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Microsoft offers two tools that are a part of its Power platform ecosystem: PowerApps and Power automate.

Microsoft Power Automate is a tool for workflow and process automation, whereas Microsoft Power Apps is mostly an interface design tool for forms. These are simply blended and merged to provide the required effects.

Benefits of Microsoft Power Automate consulting includes improved workflow efficiency, cost savings, increased productivity, reduced errors, improved data accuracy, better collaboration, and faster time-to-market for products or services.

A service that aids businesses in implementing and streamlining their Microsoft Power Automate workflows is Microsoft Power Automate Consultancy. Advice on designing workflows, integrating them with other systems, automating tasks, and troubleshooting them can all fall under this category.

Examine our most recent findings and trends in cutting-edge technology to remain ahead in this world of digital firsts!

In recent time, there are many organizations who are currently working remotely and operating virtually through work at home arrangements. However, it's not possible for every industry. And this is impossible in providing essential goods and services.

Microsoft Power Automate is a task-automating tool. Previously, this process was termed as Microsoft Automate flow. Later, after rebranding, it became widely popular as Power Automate. This can be understood as a binding receptor between various Microsoft products.

Microsoft Flow has now rebranded itself as a Microsoft Power Automate desktop app. This is a software or tool that enables users to apply the power of automation to their assignments or processes with Office 365 workflow integrations...

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is "NEVER a NO." They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

Discover our work to drive success and take business to new heights!

Join the team. Spark innovation.

Expand your business at large scale with Dynamics NAV, a comprehensive ERP solution from Microsoft that serves small and medium-sized enterprises (SMBs) across sectors including finance, manufacturing, supply chain, project management, and service management.

8+ Years Experience

500+ Delivered Projects

97% Client Retention Rate

Dynamics NAV is an ERP software that streamlines an organization's basic to advanced demands. It was formerly known as Navision or NAV (now known as Business Central). Microsoft created NAV to facilitate the smooth management of finances, sales, inventory, accounting, warehousing, and supply chain activities, and customers for small and mid-sized enterprises (SMBs) as well as local subsidiaries of major international corporations.

As a leading Microsoft Partner, we offer value-for-money solutions that enable companies of all sizes to expand more quickly and extensively. For all of your Dynamics NAV support needs, contact our Microsoft professionals.

It not only improves manufacturing orders and delivery planning; but also stays agile and ready to swiftly respond to customer demands.

It manages the budget, analyzes and improves cooperation amongst the employees, consolidates various reports, and so on.

Helps you manage finances by preparing budgets, automating invoices, finding resource costs, and so on.

It allows businesses to manage customer and sales data, handle campaign and marketing activities, manage various contracts and agreements, and so on.

It helps you manage customer inquiries and calls, track all support orders, generate transparent reports, and manage assets and resource allocation.

The model helps your business to set up custom approvals, improve response time to clientele, manage inventories and stock, seek new market opportunities, and collaborate more effectively with your partners.

Collaborate with Concetto Labs to revolutionize your business strategy. We have NAV experts with actual industry expertise who are ready to support your company at every stage.

NAV has many features that are useful for handling operations and business processes. With over 400K users, Dynamics NAV offers some cutting-edge and special features that are not offered by any other ERP system supplier in the industry. From financial management to supply chain operations, Dynamics NAV provides robust tools to optimize efficiency and drive growth. A list of Dynamics NAV's features is shown here, along with the appropriate subscription bundle.

Microsoft has made Dynamics 365 as flexible as possible regarding its license. You can choose what and which applications you want to employ in your business before deciding on how many teams and total users or team members, which makes it as flexible as possible and secure to prevent spending on merchandise that is not in any way connected with your company.

The applications are based on the 'Base / Attach' principle: selecting a 'base' application, which you get charged for if any other application utilizes an 'attach' license which is fairly priced.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

The number of users, necessary features, and deployment choices all affect how much Microsoft Dynamics NAV, also referred to as Navision ERP software, costs. Ongoing subscriptions and licensing fees are part of the Navision price structure. Speak with our specialists right now for a precise cost estimate and a thorough analysis of the Microsoft Dynamics NAV license pricing.

Dynamics NAV, formerly known as Microsoft Navision, has experienced multiple version updates. It is significant to remember that versions before Navision 2009, Dynamics NAV 2015, 2016, 2017, and 2018 are no longer supported. This indicates that Microsoft will no longer be supporting these versions or offering updates or fixes. Upgrading to a supported version—like Dynamics 365 Business Central—is advised in order to guarantee ongoing maintenance as well as access to the newest features and security patches.

The first step in moving from Dynamics NAV to Business Central is to evaluate and update your current NAV system to a compatible version. After transferring your data using Microsoft's migration tools, verify and test the new setup. Lastly, give your users Business Central training. This is a thorough explanation of each step in the Business Central migration process.

With Dynamics NAV, we provide dependable, transparent, efficient, and automated NAV ERP solutions to assist small and medium-sized businesses plan, managing, and optimizing their business processes. We provide the greatest Dynamics NAV support options available, giving you greater control over business operations and increased transparency for your company, enabling it to expand over time.

Page: Google Terms of Service – Privacy & Terms – Google

Effective May 22, 2024 | Archived versions | Download PDF

Country version: Kenya

These Terms of Service reflect the way Google’s business works, the laws that apply to our company, and certain things we’ve always believed to be true. As a result, these Terms of Service help define Google’s relationship with you as you interact with our services. For example, these terms include the following topic headings:

Understanding these terms is important because, by accessing or using our services, you’re agreeing to these terms.

Besides these terms, we also publish a Privacy Policy. Although it’s not part of these terms, we encourage you to read it to better understand how you can update, manage, export, and delete your information.

Google services are provided by, and you’re contracting with:

Google LLC organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, USA, and operating under the laws of the USA
1600 Amphitheatre Parkway Mountain View, California 94043 USA

If you’re under the age required to manage your own Google Account, you must have your parent or legal guardian’s permission to use a Google Account. Please have your parent or legal guardian read these terms with you.

If you’re a parent or legal guardian, and you allow your child to use the services, then these terms apply to you and you’re responsible for your child’s activity on the services.

Some Google services have additional age requirements as described in their service-specific additional terms and policies.

These terms help define the relationship between you and Google. When we speak of “Google,” “we,” “us,” and “our,” we mean Google LLC and its affiliates. Broadly speaking, we give you permission to access and use our services if you agree to follow these terms, which reflect how Google’s business works and how we earn money.

Many of these services also include content that you can stream or interact with.

Our services are designed to work together, making it easier for you to move from one activity to the next. For example, if your Calendar event includes an address, you can click on that address and Maps can show you how to get there.

We're constantly developing new technologies and features to improve our services. For example, we use artificial intelligence and machine learning to provide you with simultaneous translations, and to better detect and block spam and malware. As part of this continual improvement, we sometimes add or remove features and functionalities, increase or decrease limits to our services, and start offering new services or stop offering old ones. When a service requires or includes downloadable or preloaded software, that software sometimes updates automatically on your device once a new version or feature is available. Some services let you adjust your automatic update settings.

If we make material changes that negatively impact your use of our services or if we stop offering a service, we'll provide you with reasonable advance notice, except in urgent situations such as preventing abuse, responding to legal requirements, or addressing security and operability issues. We'll also provide you with an opportunity to export your content from your Google Account using Google Takeout, subject to applicable law and policies.

We also make various policies, help centers, and other resources available to you to answer common questions and to set expectations about using our services. These resources include our Privacy Policy, Copyright Help Center, Safety Center, Transparency Center, and other pages accessible from our policies site. Finally, we may provide specific instructions and warnings within our services – such as dialog boxes that alert you to important information.

Although we give you permission to use our services, we retain any intellectual property rights we have in the services.

Our service-specific additional terms and policies, such as our Generative AI Prohibited Use Policy, provide additional details about appropriate conduct that everyone using those services must follow. If you find that others aren't following these rules, many of our services allow you to report abuse. If we act on a report of abuse, we also provide the process described in the Taking action in case of problems section.

Most people who access or use our services understand the general rules that keep the internet safe and open. Unfortunately, a small number of people don't respect those rules, so we're describing them here to protect our services and users from abuse. In that spirit:

Some of our services are designed to let you upload, submit, store, send, receive, or share your content. You have no obligation to provide any content to our services and you're free to choose the content that you want to provide. If you choose to upload or share content, please make sure you have the necessary rights to do so and that the content is lawful.

Your content remains yours, which means that you retain any intellectual property rights that you have in your content. For example, you have intellectual property rights in the creative content you make, such as reviews you write. Or you may have the right to share someone else's creative content if they've given you their permission.

We need your permission if your intellectual property rights restrict our use of your content. You provide Google with that permission through this license.

This license covers your content if that content is protected by intellectual property rights.

This license allows Google to:

This license is for the limited purpose of:

This license lasts for as long as your content is protected by intellectual property rights.

If you remove from our services any content that's covered by this license, then our systems will stop making that content publicly available in a reasonable amount of time. There are two exceptions:

If you meet these age requirements you can create a Google Account for your convenience. Some services require that you have a Google Account in order to work — for example, to use Gmail, you need a Google Account so that you have a place to send and receive your email.

You're responsible for what you do with your Google Account, including taking reasonable steps to keep your Google Account secure, and we encourage you to regularly use the Security Checkup.

To provide you with our services, we sometimes send you service announcements and other information. To learn more about how we communicate with you, see Google's Privacy Policy.

If you choose to give us feedback, such as suggestions to improve our services, we may act on your feedback without obligation to you.

Some of our services allow you to generate original content. Google won't claim ownership over that content.

Some of our services give you the opportunity to make your content publicly available — for example, you might post a product or restaurant review that you wrote, or you might upload a blog post that you created.

If you think someone is infringing your intellectual property rights, you can send us notice of the infringement and we'll take appropriate action. For example, we suspend or close the Google Accounts of repeat copyright infringers as described in our Copyright Help Center.

Some of our services include content that belongs to Google — for example, many of the visual illustrations you see in Google Maps. You may use Google's content as allowed by these terms and any service-specific additional terms, but we retain any intellectual property rights that we have in our content. Don't remove, obscure, or alter any of our branding, logos, or legal notices. If you want to use our branding or logos, please see the Google Brand Permissions page.

Finally, some of our services give you access to content that belongs to other people or organizations — for example, a store owner's description of their own business, or a newspaper article displayed in Google News. You may not use this content without that person or organization's permission, or as otherwise allowed by law. The views expressed in other people or organizations' content are theirs, and don't necessarily reflect Google's views.

Some of our services include downloadable or preloaded software. We give you permission to use that software as part of the services.

Some of our services include software that's offered under open source license terms that we make available to you. Sometimes there are provisions in the open source license that explicitly override parts of these terms, so please be sure to read those licenses.

You may not copy, modify, distribute, sell, or lease any part of our services or software.

Both the law and these terms give you the right to (1) a certain quality of service, and (2) ways to fix problems if things go wrong.

We provide our services using reasonable skill and care. If we don't meet the quality level described in this warranty, you agree to tell us and we'll work with you to try to resolve the issue.

The only commitments we make about our services (including the content in the services, the specific functions of our services, or their reliability, availability, or ability to meet your needs) are provided in (1) the Warranty section; (2) the service-specific additional terms; and (3) laws that can't be limited by these terms.

Don't rely on the services for medical, legal, financial, or other professional advice. Any content regarding those topics is provided for informational purposes only and is not a substitute for advice from a qualified professional.

Both the law and these terms try to strike a balance as to what you or Google can claim from the other in case of problems. That's why the law requires everyone to be responsible for certain liabilities — but not others — under these terms.

Other than the liabilities described above, Google is liable only for its breaches of these terms or applicable service-specific additional terms, subject to applicable law.

If you're a business user or organization:

Before taking action as described below, we'll provide you with advance notice when reasonably possible, describe the reason for our action, and give you an opportunity to clarify the issue and address it, unless we reasonably believe that doing so would:

If we reasonably believe that any of your content (1) breaches these terms, service-specific additional terms or policies, (2) violates applicable law, or (3) could harm our users, third parties, or Google, then we reserve the right to take down some or all of that content in accordance with applicable law. Examples include child pornography, content that facilitates human trafficking or harassment, terrorist content, and content that infringes someone else's intellectual property rights.

Without limiting any of our other rights, Google may suspend or terminate your access to the services or delete your Google Account if any of these things happen:

For more information about why we disable accounts and what happens when we do, see this Help Center page. If you believe your Google Account has been suspended or terminated in error, you can appeal.

Of course, you're always free to stop using our services at any time. If you do stop using a service, we'd appreciate knowing why so that we can continue improving our services.

For information about how to contact Google, please visit our contact page.

California law will govern all disputes arising out of or relating to these terms, service-specific additional terms, or any related services, regardless of conflict of laws rules. These disputes will be resolved exclusively in the federal or state courts of Santa Clara County, California, USA, and you and Google consent to personal jurisdiction in those courts.

To the extent that applicable local law prevents certain disputes from being resolved in a California court, then you can file those disputes in your local courts. Likewise, if applicable local law prevents your local court from applying California law to resolve these disputes, then these disputes will be governed by the applicable local laws of your country, state, or other place of residence.

By law, you have certain rights that can't be limited by a contract like these terms of service. These terms are in no way intended to restrict those rights.

These terms describe the relationship between you and Google. They don't create any legal rights for other people or organizations, even if others benefit from that relationship under these terms.

We want to make these terms easy to understand, so we've used examples from our services. But not all services mentioned may be available in your country.

If these terms conflict with the service-specific additional terms, the additional terms will govern for that service.

If it turns out that a particular term is not valid or enforceable, this will not affect any other terms.

If you don't follow these terms or the service-specific additional terms, and we don't take action right away, that doesn't mean we're giving up any rights that we may have, such as taking action in the future.

We may update these terms and service-specific additional terms (1) to reflect changes in our services or how we do business — for example, when we add new services, features, technologies, pricing, or benefits (or remove old ones), (2) for legal, regulatory, or security reasons, or (3) to prevent abuse or harm.

If we materially change these terms or service-specific additional terms, we'll provide you with reasonable advance notice and the opportunity to review the changes, except (1) when we launch a new service or feature, or (2) in urgent situations, such as preventing ongoing abuse or responding to legal requirements. If you don't agree to the new terms, you should remove your content and stop using the services. You can also end your relationship with us at any time by closing your Google Account.

An entity that belongs to the Google group of companies, which means Google LLC and its subsidiaries, including the following companies that provide consumer services in the EU: Google Ireland Limited, Google Commerce Limited, and Google Dialer Inc.

An individual or entity who is not a consumer (see consumer).

A legal right that allows the creator of an original work (such as a blog post, photo, or video) to decide if and how that original work may be used by others, subject to certain limitations and exceptions (such as “fair use” and “fair dealing”).

If you have a Google Account, we associate your account with a country (or territory) so that we can determine:

When you're signed out, your country version is determined by the location where you're using Google services. If you have an account, you can sign in and view these terms to see the country associated with it.

A statement that limits someone's legal responsibilities.

An individual or organization's contractual obligation to compensate the losses suffered by another individual or organization from legal proceedings such as lawsuits.

Rights over the creations of a person's mind, such as inventions (patent rights); literary and artistic works (copyright); designs (design rights); and symbols, names, and images used in commerce (trademarks). IP rights may belong to you, another individual, or an organization.

Losses from any type of legal claim, whether the claim is based on a contract, tort (including negligence), or other reason, and whether or not those losses could have been reasonably anticipated or foreseen.

A legal entity (such as a corporation, non-profit, or school) and not an individual person.

The Google services that are subject to these terms are the products and services listed at <https://policies.google.com/terms/service-specific>, including:

Many of these services also include content that you can stream or interact with.

Symbols, names, and images used in commerce that are capable of distinguishing the goods or services of one individual or organization from those of another.

Real-time monitoring of each piece of equipment's status is now available due to IoT devices, which may be utilized to improve fleet management. Additionally, corporations can track their products and shorten delivery times with the help of transportation and logistics applications.

Transportation businesses require an app that enables real-time customer communication, order management, and vehicle tracking. Drivers should be able to easily identify the shortest routes between pickup and drop-off locations with the help of the app's integration with third-party programs like Google Maps or Waze.

Content producers can scale to develop a stand-alone video streaming mobile app for their businesses if they already have a following on YouTube, social media, and other platforms.

Create a single video streaming app for your audience using the content you already have across all mediums. You could also advertise exclusive premium content on your app. Combining these two approaches is another successful company strategy.

Paying a membership charge for your app users to access premium material is a terrific method to monetize your content.

Getting everything with some finger taps is the world now. This is the same for bike servicing. Normally, you need to go and submit your bike to the service center. But wouldn't it be great if you can book the service and just give me the bike at the given time. A bike servicing app is a perfect solution for this.

Where to go for a vacation this weekend? Aren't we always confused about where to go or where to stay? A vacation spot finder app is one of the most cools to create. Due to the increase in travel recently, people are trying to explore new places, and a vacation place finder app is just what they need.

Self-checkout app for supermarket shopping is the latest app idea and is not very much explored by anyone yet rather than Amazon-Go. With supermarket checkout apps, you just have to scan your phone while entering the store, recharge in the app, take the items and leave. The amount will be deducted from the app account.

These apps consists of deep machine learning algorithms but can be really advantageous for the business.

Consider carwash booking app development to assist your consumers in reserving their place in line. You can extend your company hours and enhance customer service by allowing clients to schedule appointments for car washes anytime, day or night. These days, we invest a lot of time indoors. Therefore we must adapt and discover new ways to be healthy and fit. In circumstances like these, fitness apps are great. Start putting your suggestions for enhancing app performance into practice.

After releasing it on the app store, you must market your new fitness software to attract a wide audience.

Consider a health and fitness app development company that seeks to transform how people practice yoga.

Provide personalized video content so you may practice inverted yoga in the comfort of your own home.

Hire app developers to create a platform that enables several users to stream voice and video simultaneously.

To enhance user experience, it should also keep track of user behaviour and offer community features.

Through high accessibility and involvement, sports mobility solutions have changed the sporting experience for everyone involved.

Sports app development company giant ConcettoLabs is well-known in this industry. We are quite skilled in creating various sports apps, including fantasy, event booking, betting, league, streaming, etc.

Therefore, we are able to design and create cutting-edge mobile app solutions that address all facets of the sports sector, including instruction, coaching, managing sports teams and leagues, fan engagement, reserving sports venues, and news presentation.

The market for blockchain technology was valued at $5.92 billion globally in 2021 and is projected to increase by 85.9% CAGR from 2022 to 2030. Cryptocurrencies and their encrypted database security have greatly demonstrated the promise of technology.

A company's chances of dealing in digital currency, monitoring investments, and other activities are increased by developing a fintech application with blockchain integration.

To govern the issue, one must research standards compatible with cryptocurrencies. PayPal, Xbox, etc., are some great instances of cryptocurrencies. It is anticipated that the decentralized finance sector will quickly propel market expansion.

You need a skilled Finance app development team that can accurately provide blockchain development services for such a finance and banking application development properly. Use the decentralized network's technical prowess to develop effective automated, open-source software.

Children who are about to start school or who have just begun are the target audience for this app. For kids between the ages of 2 and 5, you can create a Kids learning mobile app. It assists youngsters in learning things like numbers, animals, alphabets, colors, fruits, flowers, and other things that make it easier for them to pass school entrance interviews. You can list your requirements and contact Concetto Labs a kids app development company to assist you in every way.

The newest apps are chatbot ones. The capabilities of such an app may range from placing a pizza order to booking a hotel room. Chatbots can function independently or in cooperation with other programs. Our dependency on digital media is growing due to the global lockdown, which restricts face-to-face connection.

This finding makes random conversation apps one of the most popular and enjoyable mobile app chat app development concepts to try. You can allow your clients to have video calls, chat, or even broadcast once you establish such an app.

You can design features that match users with others who share their interests, demographics, or geographic area.

Random Chat is an example of an app that can get a million downloads.

This app is a terrific concept if you've ever struggled to find a competent hairstylist or salon in your region. People who don't want to waste time looking for a professional can connect via the salon appointment app. Additionally, this will assist experts in attracting new customers and charging for their services.

To help consumers find the greatest bargain, a Salon app development company like Concetto Labs might help users to get this app and search for services based on geography or price range. This implies that anyone wishing to understand more about their hair may do so without leaving the comfort of their home.

Pet owners desire to travel with their animals everywhere they go, but sadly, not all locations allow pets. On the other hand, one of the best mobile app ideas for a digital startup is creating app ideas to make money and that is pet-friendly.

The iOS app ideas will display locations that allow pets, such as parks, restaurants, and cafes. Consequently, the user won't second-guess their decision to bring their dogs along and will enjoy themselves. Additionally, the pet-friendly app will indicate whether any pet-related activities are ongoing.

Since the use of smartphones has increased over time in developing nations, cashless transactions have increased dramatically. People have been switching from using cash to cards, net banking, and digital wallets. Among all the other cashless transaction methods, digital wallets have grown the fastest since they offer additional advantages to both consumers and merchants. Consequently, it is anticipated that the global mobile wallet industry would reach a valuation of USD 7.42 billion in 2022 and rise at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 28.3% from 2023 to 2030.

You can create a digital wallet with easy app ideas with sophisticated features like mobile money, loyalty and rewards, cash in and cash out, bill payment, and split payment.

Create a digital wallet app that facilitates simple onboarding of new users, smooth integration, and straightforward fund transfers.

Drones are becoming more and more popular because of their capacity to transport things quickly and produce distinctive aerial video. Users can reserve drones and pilots for a range of tasks, including package delivery, photography, videography, surveying, and mapping, using a drone service app.

Drone and pilot listings, search based on location, online purchases, review systems, and integrated chat are some of the key aspects of a drone service app. The creative app ideas help to make money by subscriptions to drone services, commissions, or adverts.

Creating a smooth drone marketplace application that links clients with qualified drone operators can be a creative company concept. Amazon is among the best examples. Through its Prime Air service, they are utilizing drones to deliver items to clients in specific areas.

A drone services app can facilitate smooth point-to-point interactions as drones gain popularity.

Although we cannot stop disasters, we can stop the harm they inflict. Many lives can be saved by using a disaster management application that alerts users about disasters in their area based on factors like disaster type and magnitude. The application development ideas can help locate trapped individuals, provide information to the rescue operation team on the extent of the damage and the number of people in need of assistance, and teach people on how to respond to disasters.

A University of Phoenix study indicates that burnout affects almost 75% of American workers. These days, one must deal with the stresses of daily living. People deal with problems on a daily basis, whether they are spiritual, professional, personal, or a combination of the two.

You can make a relaxation or meditation app to help you deal with this stress. These programs help users feel calmer and more energetic both physically and emotionally.

These application ideas require having distinctive characteristics in order to succeed in the cutthroat app industry.

If consumers can pay with their smartphones, it makes it easier for charities to collect donations. The majority of people no longer carry large amounts of cash on them. There are even fewer people with checkbooks.

Therefore, charitable donations outside of neighborhood supermarkets and events don't keep up with the latest advancements in technology. However, a charitable donation app fixes this issue. Allowing donors to submit cash in person by having them scan a QR code is one way to gather donations. Additionally, the phone app ideas can automatically enable recurring donations from your users.

If someone writes down their goals, they have a 42% higher chance of succeeding. You can create an app idea that enables users to monitor their long- and short-term objectives. Through the fun app ideas, they can set goals and track their progress. Users can even mark off milestone successes or a checklist for each objective as they are completed in real time.

Goals for education, fitness, career, and personal use can all benefit from this. Here, the options are virtually limitless.

Chefs, unite! This is your opportunity to publish your recipes online.

For every recipe, you have the option to make videos and post instructions. Sort your recipes into folders according to meal categories, such as vegan, gluten-free, pescatarian, breakfast, lunch, supper, dessert, and so on. Take advantage of this to market meal planning or produce an electronic recipe book. You can charge a one-time price for recipes or charge a monthly membership fee for collections of recipes that are available on demand.

Virtual events are more popular than ever because of the growth of remote employment. With the help of these simple app ideas, users can organize and participate in online conferences, workshops, and networking gatherings.

The new mobile application offers live session and breakout room participation, event registration, and a calendar of future events.

Give mobile users access to a variety of international and virtual art displays. Users are able to save and share their favorite pieces of artwork as well as browse it by artist, style, or region. Features like guided tours and the option to buy artwork straight from the trending app ideas are also available.

Multi-channel communication

This Android app idea does more than just predict the weather. Users can use it to get alerts about possible weather risks nearby. This can include alerts about air quality for those with respiratory conditions, as well as meteorological phenomena like thunderstorms, tornadoes, and hurricanes.

Users of the app may even access emergency supplies, evacuation plans, and set up personalized warnings for particular weather circumstances.

The diversity of app ideas for 2024 reflects a blend of innovation, practicality, and technology-driven solutions. Startups that identify niche needs and leverage current trends can make a significant impact in the mobile app development sector.

2024 will be a terrific year if you choose any of these suggestions! You can, however, go beyond these suggestions to develop your mobile app and run a successful business. Given the company and how it improves reality, it's best to pick a difficult one so you can target a specific audience.

Mobile app concepts, in our opinion, behave similarly to a chain reaction. One thought leads to the next, and so on. As a result, you can take our app ideas or let them inspire you to come up with new ones.

Microsoft Dynamics 365 is Microsoft's platform for business apps. It is a catch-all for several software programs related to supply chain management, project management, field service, marketing, sales, and customer support.

Although Microsoft 365 and Dynamics 365 are two different products, they function well together because Teams, Word, Excel, Outlook, OneNote, and SharePoint are natively linked with Dynamics 365.

Applications such as marketing, sales, customer support, field service, project management, finance, and supply chain management are all licensed separately for Dynamics 365. Power Platform use rights are included, enabling you to extend and personalize the platform through the use of Power Apps, Power Automate, Power Pages, and AI Builder.

Key business applications for multiple departments, including marketing, sales, customer support, field service, project management, finance, and supply chain management, are run on Microsoft Dynamics 365.

Full licenses for Dynamics 365 start at £53.40, while add-on apps (attached licenses) cost £16.40. Different apps have different prices, and discounts for schools, government, and charitable organizations are available for Dynamics licenses. Some have monthly prices per user, while others have monthly prices per tenant.

A Portable UI toolkit from Google that is used for craft best quality native experiences for web, mobile, and desktop in record time. Flutter is free, open source and it works with existing code that is used by organization and developers around the world. For developers, Flutter speeds up the development of mobile applications and reduced the complexity of app production and cost as well across iOS and Android. If talk about designers, without loss of fidelity, flutter helps to deliver the original design vision and act as a productive prototyping tool.

How to Build Native App With Flutter — Step by Step guidance

A faster way to build beautiful mobile apps and a way to reach multiple users with a single investment. Flutter allows creating a single mobile app that merges their development investments with a purpose to deliver more features faster that can set iOS and Android at the same time with low maintenance cost.

React native and Flutter both are popular framework among start-ups for mobile app development and have their own plus points in terms of performance, documentation, stability and other aspects. Among this Flutter came out as the winner as flutter is considered to be the future of mobile app development. We suggest going with the Flutter as flutter has entered the cross-platform mobile development race very strongly.

Flutter is used to develop Android and iOS applications as well as for creating applications for Google Fuchsia. Moreover, Flutter mobile app development has optimized the creation of mobile applications and offers a wide range of design and customization for your business. Therefore, Flutter is likely to grow and dominate other mobile development frameworks.

The cost of Flutter app development depends on the requirements you have. But let us tell you, the cost would not be as expensive as we think. Though a Flutter app runs on both Android and iOS, it's less expensive than Android and iOS development. You can ask our expert or contact us.

Since Flutter allows developers to develop cross-platform native apps, the framework has been entrusted by startups and renowned companies for app development. Many top successful companies across the world such as Google, Alibaba, Reflectly, SpaceX Go, Stadia, and Coach Yourself have used Flutter to build their top of the line mobile applications.

Generally, it takes 4 to 5 months to develop a functionally-best and UX-rich Flutter app. But again, it depends on the requirements of your app, the features you want to integrate, and the complexities it has. Share your app idea and requirements with our Flutter experts, and get an estimated timeline for your Flutter app development.

Concetto Labs is the renowned Flutter app development company and well known as an early adopter of the latest trends in the market. With the help of experienced Flutter developers, we strive to offer the best possible services in cross-platform app development through Flutter app development services.

Examine our most recent findings and trends in cutting-edge technology to remain ahead in this world of digital firsts!

There is no need to install anything. Use the reassurance of chunky icons and components from simple lists or buttons to AudioPlayer, WebView, VideoPlayer, and Google Map to start a new project...

In Today's Article, we went to discuss in detail how Flutter is providing uncountable advantages to building native iOS and Android applications. If you are reading this first time then the most common questions are What is Flutter?

Want to make Flutter app development more fun and efficient? Your search ends with this article! Flutter in 2022 is one of the most efficient Cross-Platform App Development Tools in the market.

IT Security Testing

Cyber Security Testing

Software Security Testing

Your website and apps are the keys to your business, but what if someone else has a copy? Hackers could grab your secrets, crash your online store, or scare away your customers. As a leading Security Testing Company, we help you keep these hackers and cybersecurity attackers away. We scan your applications and systems, spot out loopholes and security leakages and patch them up on time. Our security testing services aim to identify vulnerabilities that enable unauthorized access to your business data, applications, and infrastructure.

In today's hyper connected age, threats surround your business from every corner. Your business security and continuity require a strong cybersecurity framework throughout your lifecycle. We deliver advanced validation services for cloud, IoT, and SAP technologies. Our Security Testing Team leverages DevSecOps practices and follows industry best practices to avoid the risks of cyberattacks. We help you identify and mitigate vulnerabilities early, safeguarding your assets and building organizational resilience.

Our Certified Ethical Hackers (CEH) secure your applications by finding and fixing weaknesses. We focus on key security needs , including keeping information private and confidential, controlling access, verifying users, and maintaining data integrity to strengthen your app's defenses.

As a leading Security testing company, we thoroughly check all the applications in your system. We do deep testing to find all possible weaknesses and fix them. Our method follows industry rules like OWASP, PCI-DSS, HIPAA, SOX, WAHH, OSSTM, WASC, and NIST. We adjust our tests to fit what your app needs.

We offer an array of security testing services, ensuring we identify and resolve vulnerabilities early in time.

We employ diverse methodologies to uncover and address security weaknesses.

We simulate authentic cyberattack scenarios through penetration testing to assess the vulnerability of your apps or IT infrastructure. This process identifies potential entry points for malicious actors and the damage they could cause.

We identify potential security threats and assess critical IT infrastructure components by conducting detailed investigations. We resolve detected security issues to strengthen your system against threats.

We use cutting-edge scanning tools and manual analysis to identify vulnerabilities within your software and IT infrastructure. Our process involves prioritizing security threats and providing recommendations to mitigate risk.

We identify and mitigate compliance gaps, implementing security policies to ensure alignment with regulatory standards like PCI DSS, HIPAA, GLBA, etc. We conduct both manual and automated tests to analyze your IT. We conduct meticulous source code reviews to identify potential issues and prevent security breaches. It also includes automated static code analysis and code audit reports to ensure system efficiency.

We take a thorough approach to ensuring the security of your IT systems. We strengthen your system against various threats by improving security controls covering policies, procedures, technology, and employee awareness.

Security testing helps identify vulnerabilities and risks in your systems, allowing you to address them before malicious actors exploit them. This proactive approach minimizes the chances of security breaches.

A commitment to security through regular testing builds trust with your customers. Knowing that their data is secure fosters a positive relationship and confidence in your business.

Detecting and fixing security issues early in the development process is more cost-effective than dealing with the aftermath of a security breach. Security testing helps reduce the financial impact of potential cyberattacks.

Summary: This blog will brief you on the factors affecting the cost of the best resume builder app, the top 3 resume builder apps for 2023, and the cost estimation to build a resume creator application. Read this blog for the ultimate ideas to develop your unique Resume Builder App Using Flutter and other developing platforms.

What are the top resume creator applications for iPhone and Android in 2023? This is a question that anyone with the desire to make a stunning CV on the move may have.

Selecting the best resume builder app can be challenging because hundreds of options are available in this congested market.

But before knowing about resume applications, let us first learn about the importance of the best resume builder applications.

Did you realize that the need for software engineers and developers would increase by 22% between 2020 and 2030, as per the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics?

You can ensure that your resume stands out and gets you the interview. Your CV must be accurate, reflect your enthusiasm, emphasize the caliber of your work, and illustrate the knowledge you bring to the table. Additionally, you must utilize the appropriate typeface, color scheme, and design elements to prevent your resume from being discarded even before it has been read.

“Craft your Resume Artistically using Resume Creator Application..”

Here is where an online resume builder application can help. Using it, you can make sure you use the appropriate template and just enter the most important details. To help you stand out to recruiters and hiring managers, many of the finest resume makers even include writing hints and expert assistance.

The cost of developing a resume creator application depends on several factors:

If you provide your application with more functionality, the cost will increase. Advanced filtering, registrations, preserving candidate profiles, payment integration, profile creation, etc., are a few essential aspects. User engagement and job portal development costs will rise.

The choice of the technology stack for developing a job portal software greatly impacts the overall development cost. If the latest technologies are used, the cost will likely be higher than an app built with traditional technologies.

The cost of job portal development varies by location. In the US, it's $200-$250 per hour, in Europe, it's $125-$170 per hour, and in India, it's as low as $20-$25 per hour.

Apart from the initial development expenses, there are also regular maintenance and update costs that are crucial for the continued success of an application. With a clear understanding of the expenses required to create a job portal, it is important to consider the features that impact the final development cost. Creating a job portal includes initial development expenses and ongoing maintenance and update costs.

Hire Our Developer

Here, we have mentioned the best 3 resume builder applications, their pros, cons, features, and pricing structures. Read below to choose the best resume builder apps for Android.

Zety has the most customization options for resume creation. Every element, including the typefaces, spacing, color, and format, is editable.

Select your preferred format from the distinctive resume templates on your dashboard. Make a straightforward CV, resume, and cover letter.

Users can drag and drop ready-made resume content for the job description, summary, and other information. You can additionally employ Zety to add social media handles if you're producing a CV for social media marketing & management.

VisualCV is another excellent online resume maker we tested. This resume builder has two editing windows. You can upload and amend an existing resume or start from scratch.

The free edition offers three distinct resume templates while upgrading to pro gives you 15 additional options. Using the visual editor for better aesthetics, you can alter the font, shadings, and other components.

Additionally, you can handle many resume variations from a single dashboard.

This online resume creator application states that it will finish your resume in 15 minutes.

Try using this tool if you believe creating resumes is boring. When you respond to a few questions, it will add everything to the resume.

Start by choosing a template for your professional resume. For each component of your resume, a drop-down menu will be visible. Once finished, tick the option to share your resume with sites like Indeed.

The cost of developing a resume creator app depends on the features and functionality of the application. The cost of designing, developing, and maintaining the application increases as you improve the quality and efficiency of services to provide a better user experience.

Registration, advanced filters, creating a CV, profile creation, saving candidate profiles, and payment integration are some essential features that increase the best resume builders app cost, making it practical for the user. Based on these factors, the cost of developing a resume application can range from $5,000 to $40,000.

Contact our Developers Now!

More people will apply as there is a greater need for software engineers and developers. Because of this, your resume must grab the hiring manager's attention when you apply for a position. One of the finest strategies to ensure you get the interview for your dream job is to do that.

It does not end at just the CRM products though, for an even more integrated business solution you can include other Microsoft Dynamics 365 products for other important business activities like finance, human resources, commerce, and more – including those intuitive AI applications that can lead your business to the pathways of success.

Microsoft has made Dynamics 365 as flexible as possible regarding its license. You can choose what and which applications you want to employ in your business before deciding on how many teams and total users or team members, which makes it as flexible as possible and secure to prevent spending on merchandise that is not in any way connected with your company.

The applications are based on the 'Base / Attach' principle: selecting a 'base' application, which you get charged for if any other application utilizes an 'attach' license which is fairly priced.

Angular 2

React JS

Conclusion: Keep up with ReactJS, highly suggested

ReactJS is an open source JavaScript library that is maintained by Facebook and several Instagram Engineers. With massive popularity, ReactJs has used in applications like Netflix, Walmart, Imgur, Sentry, and more. Companies are using ReactJs services such as Web Application Development, Interactive UI development, Custom Component Development, and Mobile Native App Development for developing a solution for their customers.

It is the one question that comes up every time. The main reason behind the framework and library is that a framework defines the structure and architecture of code. In contrast, a library looks more alike furniture added to the existing house. In short, a library is a collection of programs that can perform repetitive functions during development. On the other side, it creates UI components for the application built with HTML, which defines how a framework functions. Over here, React uses a few characteristics of the framework and make use of the library to give optimized solutions to your applications.

It makes use of JavaScript extension to build UI components. The JSX syntax can convert its JavaScript equivalent, as it's effortless to write on it. As it's popular in the market, there are plentiful of documents available that define how to integrate it with other languages with making use of c# applications.

ReactJS is very easy to test and monitor. It allows building complex app with providing SEO friendly applications. It comes with one-way data binding for managing modifications. Moreover, it uses the DOM model support for scalability and flexibility. The code used in it can reuse for faster and cheaper app development.

ReactJS can be an excellent choice for developing an attractive and dynamic user interface. It gives users flexible and easy-to-use scalable web and mobile apps for a client. ReactJS primarily supports fast development by allowing developers to build an intuitive and engaging application. It also requires minimum coding with excellent rendering skills.

As we know React Native framework is the most effective framework available in the market. If you're tight in budget and want to build an application, then ReactJS works great for you. The cost varies based on the complexity of apps and the requirements. Mainly in India, the hourly charges are $15 to $25 where a developer experience plays a vital role.

React is the fastest-growing development libraries in the world. If you're interested in learning React, then approximately it will take between 1-12 months of learning and becoming ReactJs proficient. You can build your first website with CSS, HTML and JS where you can see the pain points and encounter issues. Here the real tricky part is learning the ReactJs language if you already have software development experience then you can expect very less time as you're comfortable with it.

The React JS tools grant plenty of options which is best suitable for your task. To study about react development tools is one of the smart ideas. Below we have listed top-notch react tools for react JS developers to watch out in this year.

For any business, it's essential to choose the right technology. As it helps to ensure the existing system and processes work smoothly with giving a specific look and feel to users...

When it comes to front-end development, there is hardly any default choice. While the majority of the businesses consider Angular as the standard one ReactJS development Services are also worth considering.

Are you planning on developing an app or a website? Then the biggest challenge you will face is a difference in frameworks. It is often an issue of different syntax at the backend and frontend framework.

We are here to use AI technology best to develop and deliver custom AI App development services. Let us look at our AI App development process using AI.

We listen to your business objectives, understand the core problem, analyze the market, and then create the app prototype for the AI mobile app

Once we know your business needs, we pick the right AI model for your next big mobile app development project. We pick the AI model based on your app requirements & budget.

Once the model is finalized, the next step is to design the wireframes and prototype for the mobile app. We send it to the clients for their approval to proceed further.

Next, we integrate the AI model and the APIs into the app backend. The AI model enhances the quality of the applications by 2X level by adding artificial intelligence.

Next, we test the app code for bugs and security glitches. We test the custom AI application for all environments and correct all the errors and bugs to make the apps launch-ready.

The final step is to launch the mobile applications using advanced deployment tools like Jenkins, Atlassian, and more. We ensure the app matches the industry standards.

Let's talk about making your next AI app development project a big success with optimal utilization of AI.

Concetto Labs is a reliable and reputed NFT marketplace development company in India with a presence in USA, UK, Canada, and Norway. We deliver custom NFT Marketplace development services for various global clients looking to establish their presence in the NFT industry.

NFT Marketplace Software Platform

NFT Crypto Marketplace Designed

NFT Marketplace Solution

Whether you want to build a niche-based NFT platform or a universal platform, our NFT marketplace developers hold a deep knowledge of this billion-dollar industry. We can help launch your NFT marketplace solutions on blockchain networks like Ethereum, Avalanche, and more.

The NFT world is still in its infancy, but it has a lot of potential. NFTs may be used to prove ownership of anything unique. NFT can't be manipulated because it is both unique and secure. Owners of the NFT can keep the asset in their Ethereum wallets forever. In contrast to ETH, NFT tokens contain a one-of-a-kind identification that prevents them from being exchangeable. Another important thing to consider is that the NFTs are secure because all NFTs have a unique owner, and the information is publicly available. The NFTs are powered by Ethereum and can be used on any Ethereum-based NFT market, allowing for a wide range of transactions.

We provide NFT token marketplace development services that allow you to earn royalties whenever a token is sold. You may sell your non-fungible tokens on any platform globally without any intermediary authority if you want to produce them with us. In addition to digital material, we provide NFT creation services for tangible things such as art and music and video and domain names, and gaming items.

Our Customer Support is prime and always ready to answer any questions you may have and provide the best possible solutions.

NFT is a non-fungible token, and it is one of the hottest assets currently that every other businessman or entrepreneur is talking about. You want to buy or sell any NFT, and you need to have a marketplace that allows you to trade.

Our non-fungible token development services allow digital assets to be tokenized for collection as a leading NFT token development firm. We focus mostly on Ethereum NFTs, which have become quite popular. With Concetto Labs, you can get your NFT up and running for all of your commercial purposes. We are also experienced in developing food GameStop NFT marketplace, delivery apps, car washing apps, cleaning services, and entertainment apps.

NFTs may be created and traded on a user-friendly marketplace platform designed and built by our team with an extensive understanding of the development process.

As a result, we provide NFT smart contract creation and audit services to help verify that the smart contracts work as intended and do not introduce any errors into NFT transactions.

We monitor third-party updates, new OS releases, and node uptime under constant surveillance, maintenance, and support.

Our NFT marketplace development firm offers a token-creation service to your NFT marketplace. Minting tokens for your assets is possible on the platform.

We can help you set up your own NFT marketplace and attract the ever-growing NFT user base. So, get ready to turn your artwork into billion-dollar revenue today.

All NFTs can benefit from a set of reusable, inheritable, and universal standards. Organize collected tokens into a consistent set of values.

It is possible to trade NFTs and acquire exclusive ownership of NFTs in several different NFT markets worldwide.

Unauthorized alterations are impossible with NFT tokens, which serve as irrevocable proof of ownership for antique valuables.

To participate in the transaction, participate in many markets and bid over them.

As a result of their highly traceable properties, NFTs are liquid. Get access to the markets' liquidity pool.

You don't have to go through third-party verification to determine who owns an item.

We can help you set up your own NFT marketplace and attract the ever-growing NFT user base. All sorts of assets may be tokenized in NFT markets established by our company, including artworks and digital collectibles, and real-world goods.

We strive to provide our clients with unique and appealing services. The scalability and ease of the company are taken into consideration while developing our solutions.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

There are few points to consider for developing the NFT Marketplace.

NFT marketplaces let you buy and sell everything from art to music to virtual worlds, so now is the time to get in on the action. NFT markets can be compared to an online version of Amazon.

It is possible to acquire an asset if you are interested in it and have the money to do so. If the asset is tokenized, you may be able to use the extra benefits of NFTs. However, you should be aware of the dangers of investing in NFT.

It is becoming increasingly clear that non-fungible tokens, often known as NFTs, will be some of the most successful blockchain-based ventures.

You'll be able to sell your NFT on the marketplace after you've developed it. NFT transfers and sales in other markets may incur additional costs; therefore, be aware of this before deciding.

The NFT Marketplace's price is entirely determined by its size, available technology, client requirements, and list of market features.

The following factors affect the price of the NFT market:

Examine our most recent findings and trends in cutting-edge technology to remain ahead in this world of digital firsts!

Are you developing your own NFT marketplace? Check out this ultimate article. This article will cover designing, marketing, and operating successful NFT marketplaces. Whether you're new to NFTs or have been trading for years, this is a must-read for all platform developers.

In this modern world where technology has begun to develop on a daily basis. The world took a step forward to new financial technology by innovating new platforms which never took place in front of people. This technology started to gain novelty.

Mobile apps have become an inevitable part of human life. Today, we have mobile apps for almost everything. Right from booking cabs, reserving dinner tables to ordering groceries, we have apps for everything...

Tell us about your needs and expectations from the NodeJS development project.

We look at the CVs of the candidates to select the best one for your project.

We interview the shortlisted candidates to check if they are the right for your project or not.

Candidates who qualify will be added to the team for your project.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Node.js isn't a programming language. JavaScript uses the frontend side of web development, which introduced in 2009. Node.js is a kind of gateway that builds full-stack applications which purely based on JavaScript. Convert JavaScript code into low-level machine code using JavaScript runtime engine. Node.js is fast and lightweight.

NodeJS thumb rule is that it is used for building real-time applications that generate a large number of I/O operations. It can practice application by expecting huge traffic load. Some of them include:

Enterprises and Startups can use NodeJS for doing business. Enterprises: NodeJS is perfect for microservice architecture and helps in meeting future scalability needs. If you have a large-scale project, we highly recommend using NodeJS. Start-ups: Several companies use nodeJS into backend tech stacks precisely because of Node's scalability capabilities. For startups, nodeJS is best suitable as it allows us to build apps with fewer developers and lower development costs.

If you offer mobile app development services, then it's high time to hire nodeJS developer as it brings great value for upcoming future applications. Let's find out:

There are several tips available to keep in mind while hiring nodeJS developers. Hire a developer that is a perfect fit for your organization. Check a few pointers:

Yes definitely, work will be done in IST time zone. But if you wish to communicate with resources in your time zone, we'll try to make that possible.

Yes, we can as nodeJs can handle data-intensive tasks for various industries whenever there's a need to connect to multiple API to source data. Some of the other popular sectors for nodeJS is for entertainment, real estate industries and many more.

Hiring dedicated NodeJs developers from India is highly cost-efficient. One can find the most talented NodeJs engineers from around the globe at the most competitive rates.

Yes, surely. We offer support and maintenance services to keep your apps running in optimal conditions. You can also contact us for software or security glitches or technical issues. Our technical team is always available and happy to help.

We accept online payments via wire transfers or through applications like PayPal. You can also transfer the amount to our company account directly.

At Concetto Labs, we have a team of junior and senior Node js developers. The average experience of Node JS developers is more than seven years

The hourly rate for remote Node.js developers ranges from $22 to $80. It highlights the benefits of hiring knowledgeable node.JS engineers as well as the associated costs.

Many businesses use the free and open-source NodeJS runtime environment for JavaScript to start up cross-platform programs that perform well. But selecting the ideal development partner presents them with their largest obstacle...

For any business, it's essential to choose the right technology. As it helps to ensure the existing system and processes work smoothly with giving a specific look and feel to users...

Any current project requires splitting the logic into front-end and back-end code. The main reason behind this is to move and promote code-re-usability. Let's say; we need to build a native mobile application that accesses back-end API.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is "NEVER a NO." They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #notohiddencosts

Want to Hire skilled Developers?

Table of Contents

It is not possible for everyone to own a car. Even if you own a car, you can still run into a lot of issues in large cities like New York and London. The majority of individuals would rather rent a taxi than buy a car because of the constant issues with parking, traffic, and car upkeep. These data allow us to conclude that on-demand tax services such as Uber will draw customers from across the world. This fact alone suggests that a lot of entrepreneurs find this market niche to be appealing.

There will always be fierce competition in the taxi business. The taxi-booking applications Lyft and Uber, which have billions of dollars in revenue and millions of active users, will be your competitors.

You must offer consumers a compelling reason to select your taxi booking application over competitors if you want to be successful.

Concettolabs, a trustworthy app development company, with an extensive knowledge of taxi app development and related technologies, is another essential component of a successful taxi app development solution.

Using an online taxi booking system, you can reserve taxis, and have them available whenever you require them. These applications let users reserve a car and driver to take them to their desired location using a smart device and the internet.

These applications frequently come with extra useful features like the ability to schedule a ride for a certain time, communicate with or phone the driver, follow the route, and pay with a credit card. Additionally, there is almost always a practical grading system that assigns a score based on evaluations between customers and drivers, this element aids in determining the reliability of the individual with whom they will be sharing a vehicle.

Uber was the market leader in on-demand tax applications. When the business launched its well-known app in 2009, the entire cab services industry began to change. Since the industry is expected to reach a size beyond, taxi service companies with scalable software solutions stand to gain billions of dollars in the wake of Uber's success. The online taxi app development solutions are anticipated to develop at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 10.8% between 2020 and 2025 due to the simplicity of booking and affordable taxi fares. That must be the compelling argument to develop a taxi service app, if you're searching for one.

Uber and other on-demand taxi service application services serve as an interface between service providers and customers. It is an online marketplace where customers can reserve rides and service providers can make money. A basic 6-step foundation forms the basics of the application's design. These steps brought a radical shift in the taxi-sourcing service business.

Both drivers and passengers should receive special benefits from your taxi mobile application.

You will need to search for a topic in the cab booking application development market with low composition.

You must choose between offering paid promotions and charging commissions.

To provide your project requirements to the taxi mobile app development team, you must gather them.

The group drafts user stories, applies tech stacks, offers architecture, and develops a technical specification for your application.

The developers of the taxi order applications apply user stories according to their importance and carry out unit testing to identify and correct bugs.

In our taxi booking app development company process, our experienced team of iOS and Android developers works parallelly with the client to develop the best taxi booking app with unique features. Our developers created two different apps one is for a passenger who can book and track the cabs and the second one is for drivers who accept booking requests.

In Our Passenger application, our team develops features of the different types of registration within the app like card registration which links up with auto payment functionality. Alternatively, normal registration is also there using which passengers can directly register on the mobile app and book a cab with a cash-on-delivery option and many more.

The passengers can track the availability of drivers and also can set up pickup locations manually through Google Places. In the passenger app, any passenger can go on the choice to book a cab such as Price per minute, Price per Km, and minimum fare with a selection of cabs based on availability.

In the passenger app, the passengers can pre-calculate the estimate of arrival time with money by entering their pick-up and drop locations. Using the Live tracking feature passengers can keep an eye on the journey in real-time.

The passenger can make a direct payment or through other third-party apps like Google Pay, Paytm, etc, and can get invoices and SMS on the registered ID and mobile number. After the journey completes passenger can share their experience and feedback about the cab and driver and can view their booking histories.

The unique feature of tracking in real-time while optimizing operations with superior ride booking experience to the passenger we can provide it all in our passenger app.

In the driver app, they can register themselves directly on an app but can access the app after approval from the admin authority.

Drivers can approve or cancel any new booking within some decided specific standard time. They can view the passenger's pick-up point and travel distance from their current location. The Driver can update the status of the passenger's journey once the request gets accepted by both.

Drivers can view their booking confirmation history which includes canceled or rejected bookings.

The fundamental behind the on-demand taxi mobile app development is Geolocation or the location service. Due to this core feature of any taxi booking app can set up pickup and drop locations in real-time on a map and verify the availability of drivers.

Geolocation is the most important technology stack behind Uber. There are many other features included in the taxi booking app development like notifications with various mediums SMS, Email, and push notification services.

Another important feature we can talk about is the Inter-app communication between the driver app and the passenger app. A large part of the communication could take place on the cloud so that a passenger will be able to hail a taxi either when data is off or on after booking a taxi or cab and on the other driver's part driver must stay online all the time.

This technology stack behind the on-demand taxi solution is similar to taxi booking iOS app and taxi booking Android app.

Various factors influence the cost of developing a taxi booking Android application. These are the number of features, the team's location, and the development team's primary technological skill.

The development team's core tech knowledge refers to the prior delivery of similar projects and their familiarity with the technology required to build them. Additionally, it means that the initial research required by the taxi app developers will take less time, resulting in a quicker and less expensive mobile taxi app development process.

The team will take approx. 1200-1500 hours to develop a taxi application for you. The average taxi booking iOS app development cost will be $35-$45 per hour, and the total average taxi booking app development cost will be around $50,000.

With our experienced team of programmers, designers, and developers for an app we can deliver an application that can match up exactly with our client's goal and expectation level. Our pool of creative taxi app developers like Uber can provide our clients with an amazing web app design with accuracy, skills, and expertise on an affordable budget as these are the factors that matter the most.

We can flawlessly deliver the customizable, flexible, and well-designed features and services that any taxi booking app development costs with quality services. We can handle the whole development with a website, custom taxi app and web design, App configuration, and complete automation of the application and customization of the web app.

As a Custom taxi booking app development solution we can provide cutting-edge on-demand technologies that can build taxi startups and aggregator stages. We can also offer white-label taxi app solutions for the government and corporations to meet employee and general citizen transportation needs.

Machine Learning Development

We ensure that our AI/ML development services result in excellent solutions. Since our AI developers are up to date on the latest market trends, they can provide WOW software solutions that enhance productivity, facilitate informed decision-making, enable the creation of software that was previously unattainable, and streamline procedures. You can rely on our AI and ML developers to deliver modern digital projects quickly and effortlessly.

As more businesses and governments began using data to make things work better, we saw a huge growth in AI and machine learning. From healthcare to finance, and e-commerce to education, we knew that AI could help many different fields. So, we decided to dive into AI and machine learning development service. With our services, we've created smart solutions that make running your business easier and more efficient.

Businesses must stay up to date with the latest technological advancements as our world is changing fast. The most significant changes have been in ML (machine learning) and AI (artificial intelligence). These tools enable companies to operate more efficiently, save time, and maintain their competitive edge. That explains why there are so many notable AI and ML companies today.

We knew early on that AI and ML would shape the future, and we wanted to create solutions that help.

We make use of our vast experience developing cutting-edge, bespoke AI-powered software solutions, utilizing the newest tools and technologies, to respond proactively to shifting company needs.

We develop and use cutting-edge machine learning algorithms, bringing clever solutions to organizations to transform them. Our knowledge enables software programs to fully utilize the possibilities of quickly created data.

We apply generative AI models and algorithms to enable computers to produce content, learn, and adapt with astonishing ease. Our efficient generative AI development solutions encourage creativity while automating tedious activities.

By developing strong Big Data analytics and AI/ML-powered software solutions that use predictive models to process all kinds and formats of datasets in real-time, we enable organizations to make well-informed decisions.

From streamlining operations to automating workflows, our experts are here to help you harness the power of AI and ML solutions for success.

We've organized all AI models by industry to make it easy for you. Find out how AI can help your business, and get a free consultation to talk about custom AI/ML services that can take your business to the next level.

Our artificial intelligence development company is here to bring smart solutions to your fingertips. We create mobile apps that use AI and machine learning to make your life easier.

area, so you can count on us to provide you with software solutions that live up to customer expectations as well as insights into the latest trends.

Machine learning concentrates on enhancement and personalization, but artificial intelligence makes it simple to understand complicated jobs. Employ our AI and ML engineers to combine the two technologies and create completely original software for your target markets.

Hire our mobile app developers with AI and ML skills to create intelligent apps for your intended user base. You can incorporate any elements your viewers would like to use and enjoy using state-of-the-art technologies. Customize news feeds to incorporate recommendation engines into your e-commerce applications and provide content recommendations according to user preferences.

Our data-centric methodology provides the premium fuel that accurate models long for, igniting company AI/ML ambitions. We easily customize experiences, reveal hidden insights, and direct wise decisions.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

A qualified AI development company can make developing an AI solution simple. These individuals not only assist you in validating your concept but also aid you in completing the necessary research and development tasks to get your solution off the ground and into production.

It's important to realize that artificial intelligence (AI) isn't as logical as other services. In most cases, it is a separate component of a bigger program that serves to enhance the application's functionality, performance, and user experience.

An AI system comprises various algorithms and approaches rather than a single service. In our view, Artificial Intelligence (AI) solutions should be focused on particular applications. As a result of all these platforms, we can create AI services tailored to the specific needs of different goods.

The whole software development lifecycle benefits from AI's accuracy, speed, and efficiency. The use of AI-powered tools aids in detecting and correcting code faults. All the operating environments will perform smoothly as a result.

Accurate forecasting of sales, simpler product marketing, real-time decision-making and risk detection are just a few advantages of incorporating ML into your company's operations. You may discover more about the advantages of machine learning and how it can alter your organization by consulting a machine learning application development firm like ours.

In our minds, your project is divided into modules, each with its level of difficulty and set of needs. As a result, the design of each module may be tailored to its specific needs. Despite this, we must treat architecture as a living organism, and it will alter and adapt as the project progresses. In most cases, deciding on a single design for the entire system is bad. You should think of your system as a collection of modules and then pick a system that effectively meets the requirements of each component, always preferring simplicity.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

The term "Metaverse" refers to a collaborative online environment where users can carry on real-time conversations. It will be a realm connected to others, allowing people from different virtual worlds to interact and communicate with one another, share objects and assets, and work together on projects regardless of where they are in the globe.

In the future, the Metaverse will bring together what the various corporations' independent apps are today. The Metaverse is an interactive digital space that is getting ready to open up new possibilities for people's work, play, and communication. Businesses of all sizes are interested in the Metaverse because it presents a chance to market their products to millennials.

Augmented reality(AR) is essential in developing the Metaverse and enhancing the user experience of virtual work and play environments. The idea of the Metaverse virtual world is intricately intertwined with the virtual reality (VR) concept in the Metaverse. Augmented reality headsets allow for the integration of virtual objects into the real world.

The use of a Virtual Reality headset or other devices is not necessary to participate in the Metaverse; nonetheless, many industry experts predict that Virtual Reality augmented technology will become an essential component in the development of the Metaverse inside the new ecosystem.

Virtual reality is accessible to everyone who can don a headset and follow the on-screen instructions. Anyone can access and use it to observe and operate in a digital environment. Users equipped with full VR headsets can completely submerge themselves in a virtual environment that surrounds them on all sides and in which they are free to move around.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

Page: Healthcare Software Testing Company | Healthcare Application Testing Services

Discover our work to drive success and take business to new heights!

Join the team. Spark innovation.

Want to ensure the quality of your healthcare software? As the leading healthcare software testing agency, we test the quality of medical software using expert testing methodologies. Our healthcare software testing team ensures quality, performance, security, and compliance.

Healthcare Software Testing

HealthCare Domain Testing

Healthcare Application Testing

Healthcare software testing verifies the quality of medical IT solutions. It ensures the healthcare software complies with the required standards and regulations like FDA, HL7, HIPAA, etc. Compliance with these standard regulations assures that vital and sensitive patient information is safe and secure. Healthcare software testing is expensive. You can outsource testing services to an expert testing agency like Concetto to reduce costs significantly.

Healthcare IT Solutions are complex as they help improve precision and procedural accuracy. Companies need to partner with an experienced and technically sound development agency in developing healthcare software. Healthcare software solutions must comply with standard security and data exchange regulations like HIPAA, ePHI, FDA, etc.

We deliver secure, scalable, and quality healthcare solutions with a professional healthcare application testing team with deep expertise in advanced testing tools. We perform AI-driven automated tests to verify security and functional efficiency.

We test the healthcare software and offer end-to-end support for strategy, testing, and post-launch maintenance. Our Healthcare software testing consulting services evaluate the software to identify vulnerabilities and risks and plan a strategy for testing. Testing healthcare applications includes validating the interoperability, usability, performance, and compliance with industry standards.

We deliver healthcare applications that are flawless and satisfy all regulatory standards. Our healthcare application testing services follow proven and time-tested testing methods established with years of expertise. If you want to get your healthcare software tested and validated for quality and compliance, contact Concetto Labs today for affordable quality assurance services.

We create and test medical software users can rely on for their health concerns. While developing health software solutions, the focus is security, ease of use, and compliance with regulatory standards. We manually test the software and perform AI-driven automated tests for accuracy and efficiency.

We test the functionality of healthcare software to ensure that the healthcare solution works as planned. We test the software using automation and manual tests to reduce the testing costs and time.

The security of patient data is the priority for healthcare software. Compliance with regulations like HIPAA and GDPR protects the confidentiality of patient data. We test the healthcare software for both security and HIPAA compliance.

The healthcare software should perform efficiently across all platforms and devices alike. Our QA engineers ensure this efficiency with compatibility testing and also check the software for ease of use.

Usability testing has higher significance when it comes to healthcare solutions. People should find it easier to book healthcare services or find a doctor on the app. We ensure the healthcare solution is user-friendly with efficient features.

Whenever we add a new feature to the healthcare software or make changes as per requirements, we conduct a regression test. It helps us ensure no unwanted changes happen in the code and functionality. The app must serve the core purpose.

The exchange of medical data should be secure and per the standard rules. Our healthcare software testing engineers check the software thoroughly to verify if it can exchange data using major data transfer standards such as HL7, FHIR, DICOM, etc.

Connect with Concetto Labs to get the quote for reliable and secure healthcare software testing.

With our expertise in healthcare app testing solutions, we help our clients identify potential threats and resolve them effectively. Our healthcare app solutions are secure and scalable and deliver a better user experience.

With our healthcare app testing services, you can reduce overall cost and time-to-market.

Healthcare software stores and exchanges sensitive patient data and thus needs higher security. A security breach for healthcare applications can lead to major data loss and reputation. Healthcare software testing ensures a secure and compliant software launch.

Medical software exchanges a wide range of patient health and financial data. Thus, such software must adhere to HIPAA, ePHI, FDA, and other regulatory guidelines. Healthcare software testing ensures the software complies with these regulations.

Testing identifies defects early in the development process and helps resolve issues promptly. Thus, there is a reduced risk of potential security breaches or cyber-attacks. Healthcare testing also results in higher application quality and reliability.

People trust healthcare applications for their life safety, thus, they need to be highly efficient and secure. Concetto Labs holds years of experience in QA and testing services. We leverage automated and manual tests to ensure the efficiency and security of these applications. Healthcare testing checks if the apps function smoothly with no flaws.

We combine test automation with manual testing, which is time-consuming, labor-intensive, and prone to human error. Automating repetitive and complex testing tasks, we help healthcare organizations significantly reduce costs. Automated tests are efficient and help save time and labor, training, and resource allocation costs.

Test automation helps find bugs faster and resolve them at an early stage. We conduct repeated automated and manual tests at every development stage to detect and resolve bugs quickly. Thus, we deliver quality healthcare applications that ensure patient data safety and efficiency.

With healthcare software testing, we test healthcare applications under various conditions by simulating various user interactions. It helps identify and address performance bottlenecks or issues that impact the user experience. We ensure to eliminate slow response times or system crashes.

We have a 97% Client retention rate as we build lasting relationships with clients. We focus on client satisfaction for each project we take. Our healthcare testing services fit the specific requirements and budgets of various clients. You can hire our talented QA engineers with flexible and scalable models.

We leverage enterprise-grade infrastructure with best security practices. We also invest in AI and ML technologies for efficient automation testing. The automated tests help identify bugs quickly with less effort, manual errors, and costs. Get top-notch healthcare solutions with advanced technology.

Is a game loading slowly? Handling spikes & latency often creates a nightmare. From top to bottom, we'll investigate & fix performance bottlenecks. Hire unity3d game developer today!

Game users constantly demand to add new surroundings, climbings etc. We make this possible by building augmented reality features in a way that don't entail special headset to play.

Immense opportunities are available to market a game on social platforms. Using Unity 3D freemium, we develop indie games that are lesser than 20 MB in size & fit for Facebook/Twitter/others.

Using advanced tools offered by Unity, we craft world-class game user experience. Make Unity games that support both 2D & 3D interactions, according to the device on which it is played.

No matter the popularity, a game which fails to scale has to lose the momentum. Pokemon is the best example of such a struggle. Using our decade-long experience, evolve your game's back-end APIs. Hire a game development team from Concetto Labs that has the smartest team members to create appealing games.

Top-notch Unity developers at Concetto Labs create adrenaline-pumping, exciting VR games. Today, 90% of games played on Samsung Odyssey, Oculus Rift & Google Cardboard are VR based.

Collect audiences from all three operating systems - iOS, Android & Windows. Our Unity 3D coders cater 'build once, deploy anywhere' codebase, hence a single source seamlessly works across devices. We have game programmers for hire who have worked for developing multiple categories games for one or more platforms, hence making them an expert in cross-platform game development.

For every contract, there will be a middle entity preferred by both you and us. This makes sure that you pay only for the work completed. We understand that it's a risk to pay anything in advance. We'll select escrow partner who offers low-cost transaction.

What is your experience when dealing with an MNC with multiple offices? How will you catch an individual in case something goes un-satisfactory? Opposed to this, how about directly contacting a talent or a small group who presents resume, experience, projects etc. in the first place?

I am not saying that our entire portfolio is filled with all Unity projects. But asking experience of a company from a past customer turns out as a good precautionary measure. Further, you have the right to interview a Unity developer by hiring an interviewer from your end. We're open for all possibilities.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

It all depends on the market situation and demand of the target audience. There are games built by spending hundreds of dollars and made negative ROI, but the example of successful games also exist which were created only by adding few modules on top of highly played ones and generated a lucrative income.

In the case when you want to hire a Unity 2D/3D developer, the package is not all-inclusive as you already have a pathway in the hand and want us to implement as per your Instructions. When you are purchasing a solution from us, we definitely extend support in all these aspects.

Yes, of course. A new genre in the last decade. Facebook games are tremendously played. Further, social games are lightweight in nature and increase getting chance of getting clicked than Play Store games.

Concetto Labs accepts all kinds of the game project comprising work of 4 hours or more.

You don't have to order straight away. Please drop your requirements to us via Google drive and we'll first give estimation quote.

Game development cost depends on factors like complexity, design, and features. Single or multiplayer also affects cost, ranging from $20,000 to $300,000. Partner expertise impacts game quality. The Unity 3D process affects cost variation. If you are planning to hire a unity developer, you must consult an expert game app development company and get an idea on the budget that need to be invested.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

For example, you can sign up for a Google Account if you want to create and manage content like emails and photos, or see more relevant search results. And you can use many Google services when you're signed out or without creating an account at all, like searching on Google or watching YouTube videos. You can also choose to browse the web in a private mode, like Chrome Incognito mode, which helps keep your browsing private from other people who use your device. And across our services, you can adjust your privacy settings to control whether we collect some types of data and how we use it.

To help explain things as clearly as possible, we've added examples, explanatory videos, and definitions for key terms. And if you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, you can contact us.

We want you to understand the types of information we collect as you use our services

We collect information to provide better services to all our users — from figuring out basic stuff like which language you speak, to more complex things like which ads you'll find most useful, the people who matter most to you online, or which YouTube videos you might like. The information Google collects, and how that information is used, depends on how you use our services and how you manage your privacy controls.

When you're not signed in to a Google Account, we store the information we collect with unique identifiers tied to the browser, application, or device you're using. This allows us to do things like maintain your preferences across browsing sessions, such as your preferred language or whether to show you more relevant search results or ads based on your activity.

When you're signed in, we also collect information that we store with your Google Account, which we treat as personal information.

When you create a Google Account, you provide us with personal information that includes your name and a password. You can also choose to add a phone number or payment information to your account. Even if you aren't signed in to a Google Account, you might choose to provide us with information — like an email address to communicate with Google or receive updates about our services.

We also collect the content you create, upload, or receive from others when using our services. This includes things like email you write and receive, photos and videos you save, docs and spreadsheets you create, and comments you make on YouTube videos.

We collect information about the apps, browsers, and devices you use to access Google services, which helps us provide features like automatic product updates and dimming your screen if your battery runs low.

The information we collect includes unique identifiers, browser type and settings, device type and settings, operating system, mobile network information including carrier name and phone number, and application version number. We also collect information about the interaction of your apps, browsers, and devices with our services, including IP address, crash reports, system activity, and the date, time, and referrer URL of your request.

We collect this information when a Google service on your device contacts our servers — for example, when you install an app from the Play Store or when a service checks for automatic updates. If you're using an Android device with Google apps, your device periodically contacts Google servers to provide information about your device and connection to our services. This information includes things like your device type and carrier name, crash reports, which apps you've installed, and, depending on your device settings, other information about how you're using your Android device.

We collect information about your activity in our services, which we use to do things like recommend a YouTube video you might like. The activity information we collect may include:

If you use our services to make and receive calls or send and receive messages, we may collect call and message log information like your phone number, calling-party number, receiving-party number, forwarding numbers, sender and recipient email address, time and date of calls and messages, duration of calls, routing information, and types and volumes of calls and messages.

You can visit your Google Account to find and manage activity information that's saved in your account.

Go to Google Account

We collect location information when you use our services, which helps us offer features like driving directions, search results for things near you, and ads based on your location.

Depending on the products you're using and settings you choose, Google may use different types of location information to help make some services and products you use more helpful. These include:

The types of location data we collect and how long we store it depend in part on your device and account settings. For example, you can turn your Android device's location on or off using the device's settings app.

You can also turn on Location History if you want to create a private map of where you go with your signed-in devices. And if your Web & App Activity setting is enabled, your searches and other activity from Google services, which may also include location information, is saved to your Google Account. Learn more about how we use location information.

In some circumstances, Google also collects information about you from publicly accessible sources. For example, if your name appears in your local newspaper, Google's Search engine may index that article and display it to other people if they search for your name. We may also collect information about you from trusted partners, such as directory services who provide us with business information to be displayed on Google's services, marketing partners who provide us with information about potential customers of our business services, and security partners who provide us with information to protect against abuse. We also receive information from partners to provide advertising and research services on their behalf.

We use various technologies to collect and store information, including cookies, pixel tags, local storage, such as browser web storage or application data caches, databases, and server logs.

We use data to build better services

We use the information we collect from all our services for the following purposes:

We use your information to deliver our services, like processing the terms you search for in order to return results or helping you share content by suggesting recipients from your contacts. Maintain & improve our services We also use your information to ensure our services are working as intended, such as tracking outages or troubleshooting issues that you report to us. And we use your information to make improvements to our services — for example, understanding which search terms are most frequently misspelled helps us improve spell-check features used across our services. Develop new services We use the information we collect in existing services to help us develop new ones. For example, understanding how people organized their photos in Picasa, Google’s first photos app, helped us design and launch Google Photos. Provide personalized services, including content and ads We use the information we collect to customize our services for you, including providing recommendations, personalized content, and customized search results. For example, Security Checkup provides security tips adapted to how you use Google products. And, depending on your available settings, Google Play could use information like apps you’ve already installed and videos you’ve watched on YouTube to suggest new apps you might like. Depending on your settings, we may also show you personalized ads based on your interests and activity across Google services. For example, if you search for “mountain bikes,” you may see ads for sports equipment on YouTube. You can control what information we use to show you ads by visiting your ad settings in My Ad Center. We don’t show you personalized ads based on sensitive categories, such as race, religion, sexual orientation, or health. We don’t show you personalized ads based on your content from Drive, Gmail, or Photos. We don’t share information that personally identifies you with advertisers, such as your name or email, unless you ask us to. For example, if you see an ad for a nearby flower shop and select the “tap to call” button, we’ll connect your call and may share your phone number with the flower shop. Go to My Ad Center Measure performance We use data for analytics and measurement to understand how our services are used. For example, we analyze data about your visits to our sites to do things like optimize product design. And we also use data about the ads you interact with, including your related Google Search activity, to help advertisers understand the performance of their ad campaigns. We use a variety of tools to do this, including Google Analytics. When you visit sites or use apps that use Google Analytics, a Google Analytics customer may choose to enable Google to link information about your activity from that site or app with activity from other sites or apps that use our ad services.

Communicate with you We use information we collect, like your email address, to interact with you directly. For example, we may send you a notification if we detect suspicious activity, like an attempt to sign in to your Google Account from an unusual location. Or we may let you know about upcoming changes or improvements to our services. And if you contact Google, we'll keep a record of your request in order to help solve any issues you might be facing.

Protect Google, our users, and the public We use information to help improve the safety and reliability of our services. This includes detecting, preventing, and responding to fraud, abuse, security risks, and technical issues that could harm Google, our users, or the public. We use different technologies to process your information for these purposes. We use automated systems that analyze your content to provide you with things like customized search results, personalized ads, or other features tailored to how you use our services. And we analyze your content to help us detect abuse such as spam, malware, and illegal content. We also use algorithms to recognize patterns in data. For example, Google Translate helps people communicate across languages by detecting common language patterns in phrases you ask it to translate. We may use the information we collect across our services and across your devices for the purposes described above. For example, depending on your available settings, if you watch videos of guitar players on YouTube, you might see an ad for guitar lessons on a site that uses our ad products. Depending on your account settings, your activity on other sites and apps may be associated with your personal information in order to improve Google's services and the ads delivered by Google.

If other users already have your email address or other information that identifies you, we may show them your publicly visible Google Account information, such as your name and photo. This helps people identify an email coming from you, for example. We'll ask for your consent before using your information for a purpose that isn't covered in this Privacy Policy.

We also use your information to ensure our services are working as intended, such as tracking outages or troubleshooting issues that you report to us. And we use your information to make improvements to our services — for example, understanding which search terms are most frequently misspelled helps us improve spell-check features used across our services.

You have choices regarding the information we collect and how it's used

This section describes key controls for managing your privacy across our services. When you're signed in, you can always review and update information by visiting the services you use. For example, Photos and Drive are both designed to help you manage specific types of content you've saved with Google.

We also built a place for you to review and control information saved in your Google Account. Your Google

Account includes:

Decide what types of activity you'd like saved in your account. For example, if you have YouTube History turned on, the videos you watch and the things you search for are saved in your account so you can get better recommendations and remember where you left off. And if you have Web & App Activity turned on, your searches and activity from other Google services are saved in your account so you can get more personalized experiences like faster searches and more helpful app and content recommendations. Web & App Activity also has a subsetting that lets you control whether information about your activity on other sites, apps, and devices that use Google services, such as apps you install and use on Android, is saved in your Google Account and used to improve Google services.

Go to Activity Controls

Manage your preferences about the ads shown to you on Google and on sites and apps that partner with Google to show ads. You can modify your interests, choose whether your personal information is used to make ads more relevant to you, and turn on or off certain advertising services.

Go to My Ad Center

Manage personal info in your Google Account and control who can see it across Google services.

Go to About You

Choose whether your name and photo appear next to your activity, like reviews and recommendations, that appear in ads.

Go to Shared Endorsements

To delete your information, you can:

Delete your information

Inactive Account Manager allows you to give someone else access to parts of your Google Account in case you're unexpectedly unable to use your account.

And finally, you can also request to remove content from specific Google services based on applicable law and our policies.

There are other ways to control the information Google collects whether or not you're signed in to a Google Account, including:

Many of our services let you share information with other people, and you have control over how you share. For example, you can share videos on YouTube publicly or you can decide to keep your videos private. Remember, when you share information publicly, your content may become accessible through search engines, including Google Search.

When you're signed in and interact with some Google services, like leaving comments on a YouTube video or reviewing an app in Play, your name and photo appear next to your activity. We may also display this information in ads depending on your Shared endorsements setting.

We do not share your personal information with companies, organizations, or individuals outside of Google except in the following cases:

We'll share personal information outside of Google when we have your consent. For example, if you use Google Home to make a reservation through a booking service, we'll get your permission before sharing your name or phone number with the restaurant. We also provide you with controls to review and manage third party apps and sites you have given access to data in your Google Account. We'll ask for your explicit consent to share any sensitive personal information.

If you're a student or work for an organization that uses Google services, your domain administrator and resellers who manage your account will have access to your Google Account. They may be able to:

We provide personal information to our affiliates and other trusted businesses or persons to process it for us, based on our instructions and in compliance with our Privacy Policy and any other appropriate confidentiality and security measures. For example, we use service providers to help operate our data centers, deliver our products and services, improve our internal business processes, and offer additional support to customers and users. We also use service providers to help review YouTube video content for public safety and analyze and listen to samples of saved user audio to help improve Google's audio recognition technologies.

We will share personal information outside of Google if we have a good-faith belief that disclosure of the information is reasonably necessary to:

We may share non-personally identifiable information publicly and with our partners — like publishers, advertisers, developers, or rights holders. For example, we share information publicly to show trends about the general use of our services. We also allow specific partners to collect information from your browser or device for advertising and measurement purposes using their own cookies or similar technologies.

If Google is involved in a merger, acquisition, or sale of assets, we'll continue to ensure the confidentiality of your personal information and give affected users notice before personal information is transferred or becomes subject to a different privacy policy.

We build security into our services to protect your information

All Google products are built with strong security features that continuously protect your information. The insights we gain from maintaining our services help us detect and automatically block security threats from ever reaching you. And if we do detect something risky that we think you should know about, we'll notify you and help guide you through steps to stay better protected.

We work hard to protect you and Google from unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction of information we hold, including:

You can export a copy of your information or delete it from your Google Account at any time

You can export a copy of content in your Google Account if you want to back it up or use it with a service outside of Google.

Export your data

To delete your information, you can:

We retain the data we collect for different periods of time depending on what it is, how we use it, and how you configure your settings:

When you delete data, we follow a deletion process to make sure that your data is safely and completely removed from our servers or retained only in anonymized form. We try to ensure that our services protect information from accidental or malicious deletion. Because of this, there may be delays between when you delete something and when copies are deleted from our active and backup systems.

You can read more about Google's data retention periods, including how long it takes us to delete your information.

We regularly review this Privacy Policy and make sure that we process your information in ways that comply with it.

We maintain servers around the world and your information may be processed on servers located outside of the country where you live. Data protection laws vary among countries, with some providing more protection than others. Regardless of where your information is processed, we apply the same protections described in this policy. We also comply with certain legal frameworks relating to the transfer of data.

When we receive formal written complaints, we respond by contacting the person who made the complaint. We work with the appropriate regulatory authorities, including local data protection authorities, to resolve any complaints regarding the transfer of your data that we cannot resolve with you directly.

This Privacy Policy applies to all of the services offered by Google LLC and its affiliates, including YouTube, Android, and services offered on third-party sites, such as advertising services. This Privacy Policy doesn't apply to services that have separate privacy policies that do not incorporate this Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy doesn't apply to:

We change this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will not reduce your rights under this Privacy Policy without your explicit consent. We always indicate the date the last changes were published and we offer access to archived versions for your review. If changes are significant, we'll provide a more prominent notice (including, for certain services, email notification of Privacy Policy changes).

The following privacy notices provide additional information about some Google services:

A process or set of rules followed by a computer in performing problem-solving operations.

An application data cache is a data repository on a device. It can, for example, enable a web application to run without an internet connection and improve the performance of the application by enabling faster loading of content.

Browser web storage enables websites to store data in a browser on a device. When used in "local storage" mode, it enables data to be stored across sessions. This makes data retrievable even after a browser has been closed and reopened. One technology that facilitates web storage is HTML 5.

A cookie is a small file containing a string of characters that is sent to your computer when you visit a website. When you visit the site again, the cookie allows that site to recognize your browser. Cookies may store user preferences and other information. You can configure your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. However, some website features or services may not function properly without cookies. Learn more about how Google uses cookies and how Google uses data, including cookies, when you use our partners' sites or apps.

A device is a computer that can be used to access Google services. For example, desktop computers, tablets, smart speakers, and smartphones are all considered devices.

You may access some of our services by signing up for a Google Account and providing us with some personal information (typically your name, email address, and a password). This account information is used to authenticate you when you access Google services and protect your account from unauthorized access by others. You can edit or delete your account at any time through your Google Account settings.

Every device connected to the Internet is assigned a number known as an Internet protocol (IP) address. These numbers are usually assigned in geographic blocks. An IP address can often be used to identify the location from which a device is connecting to the Internet. Learn more about how we use location information.

This is information that is recorded about users so that it no longer reflects or references an individually-identifiable user.

This is information that you provide to us which personally identifies you, such as your name, email address, or billing information, or other data that can be reasonably linked to such information by Google, such as information we associate with your Google Account.

A pixel tag is a type of technology placed on a website or within the body of an email for the purpose of tracking certain activity, such as views of a website or when an email is opened. Pixel tags are often used in combination with cookies.

A Referrer URL (Uniform Resource Locator) is information transmitted to a destination webpage by a web browser, typically when you click a link to that page. The Referrer URL contains the URL of the last webpage the browser visited.

This is a particular category of personal information relating to topics such as confidential medical facts, racial or ethnic origins, political or religious beliefs, or sexuality.

Like most websites, our servers automatically record the page requests made when you visit our sites. These “server logs” typically include your web request, Internet Protocol address, browser type, browser language, the date and time of your request, and one or more cookies that may uniquely identify your browser.

A typical log entry for a search for “cars” looks like this:

A unique identifier is a string of characters that can be used to uniquely identify a browser, app, or device. Different identifiers vary in how permanent they are, whether they can be reset by users, and how they can be accessed.

Unique identifiers can be used for various purposes, including security and fraud detection, syncing services such as your email inbox, remembering your preferences, and providing personalized advertising. For example, unique identifiers stored in cookies help sites display content in your browser in your preferred language. You can configure your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent. Learn more about how Google uses cookies.

On other platforms besides browsers, unique identifiers are used to recognize a specific device or app on that device. For example, a unique identifier such as the Advertising ID is used to provide relevant advertising on Android devices, and can be managed in your device’s settings. Unique identifiers may also be incorporated into a device by its manufacturer (sometimes called a universally unique ID or UUID), such as the IMEI-number of a mobile phone. For example, a device’s unique identifier can be used to customize our service to your device or analyze device issues related to our services.

If you’re signed in to your Google Account and have Web & App Activity turned on, your activity data on Google sites, apps, and services may be saved in your account’s Web & App Activity. Some activity may include information about the general area you were in when using the Google service. When you search for something using a general area, your search will use an area of at least 3 sq km, or expand until the area represents the locations of at least 1,000 people. This helps protect your privacy.

In some cases, areas that you have searched from in the past may be used to estimate a relevant location for your search. For example, if you search for coffee shops while in Chelsea, Google might show results for Chelsea in future searches.

You can view and control your Web & App Activity at My Activity.

Websites and apps that integrate Google services like ads and analytics share information with us.

This information is collected regardless of which browser or browser mode you use. For example, although Incognito mode in Chrome can help keep your browsing private from other people who use your device, third party sites and apps that integrate our services may still share information with Google when you visit them.

You can learn more about some of the ways you can control the information that is shared when you visit or interact with sites and apps that use Google services.

For example, if you watch videos about baking on YouTube, you may see more ads that relate to baking as you browse the web. We also may use your IP address to determine your approximate location, so that we can serve you ads for a nearby pizza delivery service if you search for “pizza.” Learn more about Google ads and why you may see particular ads.

For example, merchants may upload data from their loyalty-card programs so that they can include loyalty information in search or shopping results, or better understand the performance of their ad campaigns. We only provide aggregated reports to advertisers that don’t reveal information about individual people.

Android devices with Google apps include devices sold by Google or one of our partners and include phones, cameras, vehicles, wearables, and televisions. These devices use Google Play Services and other pre-installed apps that include services like Gmail, Maps, your phone’s camera and phone dialer, text-to-speech conversion, keyboard input, and security features. Learn more about Google Play Services.

For example, when you’re signed in to your Google Account and have the Web & App Activity control enabled, you can get more relevant search results that are based on your previous searches and activity from other Google services. You can learn more here. You may also get customized search results even when you're signed out. If you don't want this level of search customization, you can search and browse privately or turn off signed-out search personalization.

Examples of how we use your information to deliver our services include:

When we detect spam, malware, illegal content (including child sexual abuse and exploitation material), and other forms of abuse on our systems in violation of our policies, we may disable your account or take other appropriate action. In certain circumstances, we may also report the violation to appropriate authorities.

For example, we can use information from your devices to help you decide which device you'd like to use to install an app or view a movie you buy from Google Play. We also use this information to help protect your account.

For example, we analyze how people interact with advertising to improve the performance of our ads.

For example, we continuously monitor our systems to look for problems. And if we find something wrong with a specific feature, reviewing activity information collected before the problem started allows us to fix things more quickly.

If you use Google's Location services on Android, we can improve the performance of apps that rely on your location, like Google Maps. If you use Google's Location services, your device sends information to Google about its location, sensors (like accelerometer), and nearby cell towers and Wi-Fi access points (like MAC address and signal strength). All these things help to determine your location. You can use your device settings to enable Google Location services. Learn more

Like other technology and communications companies, Google regularly receives requests from governments and courts around the world to disclose user data. Respect for the privacy and security of data you store with Google underpins our approach to complying with these legal requests. Our legal team reviews each and every request, regardless of type, and we frequently push back when a request appears to be overly broad or doesn't follow the correct process. For example, we use cookies to analyze how people interact with our services. And that analysis can help us build better products. For example, it may help us discover that it's taking people too long to complete a certain task or that they have trouble finishing steps at all. We can then redesign that feature and improve the product for everyone.

Google Analytics relies on first-party cookies, which means the cookies are set by the Google Analytics customer. Using our systems, data generated through Google Analytics can be linked by the Google Analytics customer and by Google to third-party cookies that are related to visits to other websites. For example, an advertiser may want to use its Google Analytics data to create more relevant ads, or to further analyze its traffic. Learn more

For example, to prevent abuse and increase transparency and accountability over our online content moderation practices, Google shares data about requests for removal of content from our services with Lumen, which collects and analyzes these requests to facilitate research to help Internet users understand their rights. Learn more.

There are over 2 million non-Google websites and apps that partner with Google to show ads. Learn more

For example, if you add a credit card or other payment method to your Google Account, you can use it to buy things across our services, like apps in the Play Store. We may also ask for other information, like a business tax ID, to help process your payment. In some cases, we may also need to verify your identity and may ask you for information to do this.

We may also use payment information to verify that you meet age requirements, if, for example, you enter an incorrect birthday indicating you're not old enough to have a Google Account. Learn more

You may also see personalized ads based on information from the advertiser. If you shopped on an advertiser's website, for example, they can use that visit information to show you ads. Learn more

If you add your phone number to your account, it can be used for different purposes across Google services, depending on your settings. For example, your phone number can be used to help you access your account if you forget your password, help people find and connect with you, and make the ads you see more relevant to you. Learn more

You might choose to save places to your Google Account that are important to you, such as your home or your work. If you set your home or work addresses, they can be used to help you do things more easily, such as getting directions or finding results closer to your home or work, and for more useful ads.

You can edit or delete your home or work addresses anytime in your Google Account.

For example, information about security threats can help us notify you if we think your account has been compromised (at which point we can help you take steps to protect your account).

For example, we may collect information that's publicly available online or from other public sources to help train Google's AI models and build products and features like Google Translate, Gemini Apps, and Cloud AI capabilities. Or, if your business's information appears on a website, we may index and display it on Google services.

For example, we use a cookie called 'lbc' that makes it possible for you to open many Google Docs in one browser. Blocking this cookie would prevent Google Docs from working as expected. Learn more

Some examples of how we use your information to help keep our services safe and reliable include:

When showing you personalized ads, we use topics that we think might be of interest to you based on your activity. For example, you may see ads for things like "Cooking and Recipes" or "Air Travel." We don't use topics or show personalized ads based on sensitive categories like race, religion, sexual orientation, or health.

And we require the same from advertisers that use our services.

Your device may have sensors that can be used to better understand your location and movement. For example, an accelerometer can be used to determine your speed and a gyroscope to figure out your direction of travel. Learn more about how we use location information.

For example, we operate data centers located around the world to help keep our products continuously available for users.

Examples of these services include:

When lots of people start searching for something, it can provide useful information about particular trends at that time. Google Trends samples Google web searches to estimate the popularity of searches over a certain period of time and shares those results publicly in aggregated terms. Learn more

For example, you can delete your blog from Blogger or a Google Site you own from Google Sites. You can also delete reviews you've left on apps, games, and other content in the Play Store.

For example, we allow YouTube creators and advertisers to work with measurement companies to learn about the audience of their YouTube videos or ads, using cookies or similar technologies. Another example is merchants on our shopping pages, who use cookies to understand how many different people see their product listings. Learn more about these partners and how they use your information.

Your Chrome browsing history is only saved to your account if you've enabled Chrome synchronization with your Google Account. Learn more

For example, when you type an address in the To, Cc, or Bcc field of an email you're composing, Gmail will suggest addresses based on the people you contact most frequently.

For example, we process information about requests to remove content from our services under Google's content removal policies or applicable law to assess the request, and to ensure transparency, improve accountability and prevent abuse and fraud in these practices.

For example, we process your information to report use statistics to rights holders about how their content was used in our services. We may also process your information if people search for your name and we display search results for sites containing publicly available information about you.

Depending on your available settings, some examples of how we use the information we collect across our services include:

For example, we collect information about views and interactions with ads so we can provide aggregated reports to advertisers, like telling them whether we served their ad on a page and whether the ad was likely seen by a viewer. We may also measure other interactions, such as how you move your mouse over an ad or if you interact with the page on which the ad appears.

For example, you can choose whether you want Google to save an audio recording to your Google Account when you interact with Google Search, Assistant, and Maps. When your device detects an audio activation command, like "Hey Google," Google records your voice and audio plus a few seconds before the activation.

This activity might come from your use of Google services, like from syncing your account with Chrome or your visits to sites and apps that partner with Google. Many websites and apps partner with Google to improve their content and services. For example, a website might use our advertising services (like AdSense) or analytics tools (like Google Analytics), or it might embed other content (such as videos from YouTube). These services may share information about your activity with Google and, depending on your account settings and the products in use (for instance, when a partner uses Google Analytics in conjunction with our advertising services), this data may be associated with your personal information.

Build dynamic and scalable for your business by hiring dedicated MEAN Stack developers from Concetto Labs. Leverage the expertise of MEAN technologies (MongoDB, Express.js, Angular, and Node.js) and stay ahead of the curve.

MEAN Stack Application Development

MEAN Stack Web Hosting

MEAN Stack E-commerce

If you're looking to hire dedicated MEAN stack developers in India, you've come to the right place. Concetto Labs is one of the top MEAN Stack development companies in India, developing and delivering MEAN stack services for various industries globally. We provide us with employing mean stack developers who can develop illustrious web apps that are tailored to your business needs.

If you want to augment the web apps associated with your company, you need to know what our MEAN Stack developers can do for you.

With over seven years of experience, our MEAN stack engineers and coders are well-versed in the usage of MEAN technologies (MongoDB, ExpressJS, Angular, NodeJS). So, you can be sure you will get enterprise-grade web applications if you hire dedicated MEAN Stack developers from Concetto Labs. Also, the MEAN stack solutions will solve all your business's challenges.

The remote MEAN Stack developers you hire from us can efficiently manage the front-end and back-end development of an application. With Concetto Labs, you can choose from a vast pool of talented MEAN Stack engineers, programmers, and coders. Pick and hire dedicated MEAN Stack engineers per your business needs and industry demands.

MEAN takes care of everything from clients and servers to databases. As such, you need to hire a MEAN Stack development company with developers who are au fait with the technology and conversant with creating web applications that are unique to your business and position you ahead of your competition.

You will get exactly that at Concetto Labs. We take pride in that companies who hire MEAN stack developers get savants who can handle any business, whether a start-up or an entrenched syndicate. Hire full-stack developers from us, and you and your venture will be light years ahead in your field.

Our programmers aren't just versed in creating and developing web apps. They are also thoroughly conversant with the latest developments in the field and bring this cognition into play when they design and maintain your web apps for you. As such, with our developers, you get proficiency and ingenuity in MEAN stack solutions.

Recruit a specialized team of tech experts tailored to your unique business needs.

Grow your team effortlessly by bringing in tech experts, enabling seamless scalability.

Collaborate to get flexible support for agile development of tailored software and products.

Hire dedicated MEAN Stack coders from India to avail of the combined benefits of the four MEAN technologies. We deliver custom MEAN Stack Development Services using the specialized skills of our MEAN engineers.

Get the tools you need to support your business with the help of MongoDB, ExpressJS, Angular & Node.js. A website isn't all-in-all to handle daily operations. There're many more software packages like Help Desk, Accounting, CRM, Collaboration & Live Chat etc. They don't come simply with WordPress. Hire a MEAN stack developer for that purpose.

I know that you have good command over back-end of WordPress/Magento. I also know that 0% coding is required for tasks like adding a new scroll bar, to take backup etc. Because there exists user-friendly menu-bar & CMS. Add the same facilities in your mobile application altogether. Add a reliable CMS to it with mean stack programming.

There are plenty of options available to market your mobile app. Take, for example, it can be published either on the Google Play store or the iPhone App store. Or on both. Mobile App can also be hosted to Microsoft Store. Different from Native Applications, MEAN stack application will require no configurations to host it on any given platform. We assure economic rate, fast publishing.

By mistake, if you purchased a mobile or other business app that is written in the operating system specific languages, e.g. Swift or Kotlin, it's possible to re-develop similar replica which would now run on all platforms. Not only that, it will sync in real-time with your website to show updated status. Concetto Labs guarantees 0% data loss. The past cannot be changed, but the future is in your hand.

Doubtful about inner workings of a business application? Are there multiple errors on an array of screens in your mobile application? Improvise it before it becomes a headache or a big issue. Manual & automatic software testing experts from Concetto Labs will debug each file line-by-line. They will observe the output and check the gaps in results. Recommendations can be eye-opening.

Maintenance doesn't include just back-up, restore & minor modifications. But it also includes functionality addition, training, knowledge-sharing & even major upgrade depending on budget and the contract terms. Longtime customer will benefit greater discounts. There are maintenance packages suitable for shops of all sizes and shapes. It can be as less as $30/month.

While selecting a MEAN stack development company, there arises many questions. Will they allow to take an interview of the candidate? How would be transparency during project execution? Our answer is yes, just get peace of mind, we shall get full control in your hand. Clients receive hourly break-up report.

World of software technologies is not stagnant. It is constantly evolving. So why build an in-house business system using MEAN bundle in specific? Because MEAN stack's ingredient components are popular, community-supported. It is popular and based on MVC architecture. It's 100% free. It gives you a tight grip over authentication with multi-layered security. It is suitable for data-intensive needs.

Notably, under MEAN web application, both front-end and back-end are created by utilizing JavaScript alone. This makes it purely event-driven & lightweight. Node.js, a part of MEAN stack, nurtures non-blocking I/O model to MEAN website, this, in turn, results in real-time response. In non-technical language, I would simply say that in the digital era, most documents remain in HTML/XML format, & MEAN stack is designed around HTML - at its core, minimizing dependencies on other computer languages. So, the mismatch between your website & machine language is avoided.

Not everything which your profession requires can be accommodated by developing a single feature or set of features. Perhaps, during times, maybe your mobile application has to interchange data points with an external website. Take, for example, MLS integration for real-estate agents is common. It's easy to exchange information bits when the application is written in MEAN stack.

20% of CEOs agree that digital transformation long last 5 years. Then an app has to be re-designed to stay on top of the wave. If your website or ERP has a dull look-out, Concetto Labs JavaScript experts shall add breadth & give new life. The good ambiance of a software appeals to users to continue. You don't have to take re-design fully, just order UI/Ux renovation of one or few pages.

As opposed to individuals or retailers, micro/small and medium-size companies seek continuous delivery and enhancement. MEAN stack is adaptive to generate a series of connected business apps, of all types. Under this category, we serve those advantages. Many factors are involved. Hours, budget, the complexity of programming, technical competency, ask for the quote.

Have you heard the term building renovation vs. building redevelopment? Same fundamentals apply to digital ground. White label app is like renovation that serves 95% needs. Why we use WordPress? Is it convenient to create a new CMS instead of WordPress? No. Similarly, use CiviCRM, Dolibarr, iDempiere etc. 100% free ERP-CRM suites & still add your company logo. Customize using MEAN.

Of what use is your mobile application if it can not tell how many visitors came until now? From what regions? Where they clicked? In short, analytics bundle is compulsory for insights. If you did not purchase for your business application, or if you want to customize it for better readability, come to us. We shall add missing things and make it human-friendly, business oriented.

Multi-currency transaction capability expands the horizon. Business can deal with people of any country. Node.js, a premier piece of MEAN software stack, bestows the facility to accept payments from a variety of gateways. Basically, we write rules for recurring payment, auto-generate invoice etc. Don't waste money for monthly salary, rather automate processes.

Our app developers work day and night & optimize mobile or web application. No more slow loading or response. No matter the project size, we are always ready to go extra mile for your business growth. We've 10,000 sq. ft. area to ensure a secure development environment & 90% client retention.

Since the inception of Web 2.0, JavaScript is everywhere. If your online store is built using WooCommerce/Magento/other, we'll provide re-usable modules for multi-vendor support.

Every organization has set of criteria. Yet, MEAN stack offers limitless possibilities. Under-the-hood, all the apps, e.g. that of musician's app/hotel/oil & gas can be subtly tailored using MEAN stack Certain aspects of a mobile app impact its visibility, e.g. HTML title/meta tags, iframes, AJAX etc. If you are annoyed with less traffic on your application, contact us.

An IT company has many advantages in outsourcing. Concetto Labs provides dedicated resources who are well-conversant with MongoDB - as part of MEAN stack services

These are graphics that are not stationary. Our designers know the required coding for moving graphics. An example includes video games, animated logo, tutorials etc.

Concetto Labs will provide MEAN mobile application related to HR that is multi-faceted. It handles payslips, deductions, attendance. compliance & more.

Bring your concept to life & change the lifestyle of people that will result in environmental improvement. Related graphics are signage, wall murals, in exhibition etc.

Again, MEAN stack has a minimum dependency on what programming language the software is written, so redefine learning experience by hiring MEAN app developer.

Standard, the robotic answer is not delivered by Concetto Labs. Respective, to the point answer by human being avoids long loop.

More or less, changing price shows dis-honesty of a seller. Why she spoke hiked amount first time? But let me clear that coupons & discounts are different things.

Our payment condition is 50%-25%-25%. Never approach an IT owner asking full payment in one shot.

Hire Mean Stack experts from India for every level of complexity your business has. We have the right experts who deliver the right solutions at the right time.

Customer Satisfaction

Integrity & Transparency

24/7 Customer support

Flexible engagement models

360-Degree solutions

Competitive pricing & delivery

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Assess your requirements. Generally speaking, we do not encourage to hire a full-fledged team. MEAN stack anticipates specialization of a couple of skills - identify the one your business needs. In other words, a MEAN stack programmer is well-conversant on all 4 components - MongoDB, ExpressJS, Angular & Node.js but has one USP(unique selling point) or specialization.

Of course. We don't expect the customer to possess technical knowledge unless the client is also an IT company. Do we people have to know making of a recipe when buying a food product? Obviously no. Related information about the product is printed by the manufacturer for our information.

Concetto Labs presents resumes of in-house talents with respected experience & past projects. The charge of each one is also given in the no-obligation free quote email which remains proportional to skills. Choose yourself, or take our recommendation, we strive to minimize client's expenses.

Geography is no barrier in the case of software services outsourcing. Center point is real-world cross verification & authenticity of provider. Our remote programmers work for Australia, EU, Asia & America based businesses.

It is around USD $3,000 for 20 days a month & 8 hours a day.

We will be happier if you first called them and came via reference. To see previous clients, please go to the testimonials page on our website - from where you can find their email & mobile numbers.

Almost all, including hotel/resort app, oil & gas, fashion industry, apparel, arts, healthcare app etc. As far as you, as a client, is capable to send domain-specific input, coding and implementing is no impediment from our side.

One-off tasks are served but should be compromising at least 4 hours of work. These may take a little more time as we can not divert developers from on-going long running projects. Call us to know the availability schedule.

Relax, just become stress-free. Go to our Facebook profile, connect with us. Watch events occurring at our offices. Communicate with us for a time being. Meet our people. Ask for estimation figures and compare them with other software vendors. I 100% guarantee that you won't be cheated.

Certainly no for major changes, yes for minor changes - when at the initial stage. We'll assist you precisely during the requirements gathering phase.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is "NEVER a NO." They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

Summary: React.JS is now widely used for Office Add-in Development because of its high performance, flexibility, and compatibility with different platforms. This blog explores the 10 advantages of React.JS for office add-in development, as to why this technology is the industry favorite among developers and companies.

Office Add-ins have recently become quite popular because companies are always in search of solutions that would allow them to enhance the performance of the programs used in Microsoft Office Suite, including Word, Excel, and Outlook. Microsoft Office Add-ins are a genuine way of adding new functionality or features into the existing Microsoft Office applications thus making it easier to work with.

When it comes to the creation of these add-ins, React.JS is one of the most popular front-end frameworks among developers. The ability to program in the user interface, its fast execution and the reader's support from the Microsoft Office Add-ins developers make it perfect for developing lively and efficient add-ins for Office. This blog will discuss why React.JS for Office Add-in Development is a potent pairing and what advantages stem from it.

Deciding on the right type of technology that you are going to use in developing the building add-ins for MS Office might really matter much in the outcome of the project that you are planning to undertake. Some of the frameworks used in the industry for creating dynamic and mature interfaces include React.JS created by Facebook. It is rather helpful in Office Add-in Development/extendibility due to its modular structure to create relatable UI components.

As more customers and businesses turn to Microsoft Office Add-ins that are both interactive and high-performance, React.JS is well-suited to meet the demands and needs of its consumers thanks to its flexibility, scalability, and speed of development. Now, let us explore 10 advantages of using React.JS for Microsoft Office Add-ins development.

React.JS is used to design complex and interactive views and therefore it is suitable for enhancing the user interface of Office Add-ins. In its virtual DOM (Document Object Model), React.JS changes only those areas that should be modified facilitating smoother interaction and faster response. Users face less delay and high performance when using add-ins that entail the handling of large volumes of data such as Excel dashboards.

Another advantage of the application of React.JS is the provision of a method for developing cross-platform add-ins. This is important for businesses since Office Add-ins may be required to run on Windows, Mac, or with online versions of Microsoft Office. React.JS will help you make your add-in as native-like as possible and thereby enhance the productivity of the user no matter the OS that he or she is using.

Optimization is one of the key considerations when developing add-ins for Office, and React.JS performs exceptionally well due to a reduced number of components. The virtual DOM optimized within the framework also makes it possible to have faster updates and the re-rendering necessary to guarantee that Office Add-ins do not freeze when handling large datasets or undertaking sophisticated operations.

If your business already employs Microsoft Office Add-ins or other third-party solutions, it is easy to merge with React.JS. The architecture of components in React also protects them from conflicts when inserted into other settings due to modularity. This leads to the usage of the add-ins in harmony with the other applications available under the Microsoft Office productivity suite. Faster Development Time React.JS is easy and effective, reducing the development time than the traditional way of creating applications. Its modularity means that repeated pieces of code are not written over and over by React.JS developers, but instead, they can reuse components. Said said an accelerated development timeline leads to faster rollouts of Microsoft Office add-ins and quicker overall market entry for businesses.

Since add-ins are used in a business environment, there is typically a need for more elaborate and feature-filled add-ins as the business expands. In terms of modularity and maintainability, React.JS facilitates easier scalability. It allows developers to build new components or modify the existing ones without affecting the entire program. This modularity also means that updates are less frequent and do not take time and your Microsoft Office Add-ins will always be on the latest version with features you need.

The React.JS community is well-developed, international, and constantly making advancements to the platform. This large community provides many resources, libraries, and tools that help make the development process easier for React JS developers. Furthermore, the community provides help and answers to various problems, which enables developers to develop and implement robust Microsoft Office add-ins.

Talk to Our Expert!

If one is developing complex add-ins, it can be very helpful to have access to numerous plugins. One of the biggest benefits of using React.JS is the availability of its plugin system which can help to add more features and integrate other utilities seamlessly. Whether you require data visualization add-ons for Excel or content management add-ons for Word, you will find that React.JS offers an impressive number of third-party plugins to help speed up your workflow.

Testing and debugging are very important stages in any development process, and React.JS helps in this. Since it has a component-based approach, the Microsoft Office add-in developers are able to work with each component separately and then run tests. This makes it possible to fine-tune each or some of the sections of the add-in and make sure that most of the flaws are corrected before the final product is launched.

When you opt for React.JS to assist you in your Office Add-in Development, you are selecting a technology that is constantly changing. React comes with the flexibility of covering the needs of all popular projects and its frequent updates mean that users get the paramount of performance. It is crucial to develop your add-ins with React.JS so that it can be adapted to current and emerging trends in web applications and Office applications.

React.JS is quite beneficial in the development of Microsoft Office Add-ins that work fast and are easy to scale and maintain. Due to its component-based architecture, the possibility of providing cross-platform compatibility, and rich UI, it is a great choice for creating Office add-ins. Whether you are boosting the efficiency of your employees, or developing feature-rich add-ins for Microsoft Office add-ins Store, React.JS can enhance the development speed and the level of user experience.

PowerApps common data service allows data to be integrated from multiple places into a single source that can be further used in multiple Microsoft based products including PowerApps, Power BI, Power Automate and more with data already available in Dynamics 365 applications.

Common Data Service abbreviated as CDS is a data storage service in form of tables and entities. It is mainly used in Power Apps portal and is accessible through other power platform Consultant services and Microsoft dynamics. The data can be feed and extracted into CDS entities in multiple ways. So, in a nutshell, CDS is a data storage and retrieval system just like any other database.

CDS aka common data service in PowerApps is a free database service that can be used in PowerApps to store and retrieve data from the application. Unlike other database, it stores your PowerApps data for free and is easy to manage. It eliminates the need of database developer to build a database for storage and retrieval of data and comes free of cost since you're already paying for the PowerApps license.

CDS is a standard data model for basic interactions that are extended to support the industry-based requirement. CDS version 1 was an add-on that was designed to enable PowerApps work with Microsoft dynamics CRM 365.

Microsoft Dataverse allows data to be integrated from multiple sources into a single store that can be further used in Power Automate, Power Apps, Power BI and virtual agents. Here, the data is already available from the Dynamics 365 applications.

It is an attempt of Microsoft leaders to provide entrepreneurs that belong to non-technical background to develop scalable mobile apps. This platform provides some selective templates that businesses can opt for and build a mobile app without coding expertise.

PowerApps offer a wide range of plans, from which the Plan 2 is absolutely free. It gives access to all the features for 30 days, which can be considered as trial option.

PowerApps is a collection of services, apps, connectors, and data platform that provides a quick application development milieu to build custom apps for businesses.

Yes, you can work offline as well. All you need to do is build a canvas app and perform offline tasks such as: Open PowerApps Mobile and run apps when offline, you also determine when an app is online, offline or in metered connection by using Connection Signal Object.

Just follow these below-mentioned steps:

PowerApps are designed to fulfill internal needs of any organization, which means it allows you to develop dynamic apps within your business. These are not designed for consumer consumption due to licensing model it offers and limitation for external users. It enables you to maintain stability and long-term usage as it doesn't require any coding to run apps. However, it's a cloud-based app you need to be aware of upgradations in features.

You can use PowerApps on desktop by downloading PowerApps Studio from Windows Store and use it for play apps.

Looking to ensure the HIPAA Compliance for your software solutions? Concetto Labs can help you with our expert HIPAA compliance software testing services. Run your healthcare software applications with complete technical and HIPAA privacy and standards.

HIPAA Compliance Testing

HIPAA Software Testing

HIPAA Penetration Testing

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) is a federal law established in 1996 that requires businesses to keep patient information securely. The US Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) issued the HIPAA Privacy & Security Rule to protect sensitive Patient Health Information. Businesses providing treatment and operations in healthcare, having access to patient information, payments, treatments, or operations, must comply with HIPAA.

Are you developing healthcare software? It must comply with the technical safeguards required by HIPAA to ensure the security and privacy of patient information. Concetto Labs is a leading software testing company with experience in healthcare software and HIPAA compliance testing.

Whether a simple web application, a mobile app, or an advanced IoT devices system, we can help you test it for HIPAA compliance. If your applications are not compliant, it may lead to significant fines and loss of credibility.

With our outsourced HIPAA compliance testing services, we assess your company's compliance needs, define the scope of your software testing, and create a defined strategy for HIPAA testing with measurable goals for effective compliance testing.

Our HIPAA software testing engineers establish robust HIPAA compliance frameworks to ensure effective testing while following regulatory standards.

We take care of the testing process to help our clients protect their software against HIPAA compliance breaches. Our seasoned HIPAA compliance consultants analyze software, determine technical safeguards, and choose a tailored tech stack for optimal HIPAA compliance testing

We apply positive and negative test cases to verify the access granted to users. Positive test cases include testing passwords, PINs, smart cards, tokens, keys, or biometrics. Negative test cases include testing an empty ID/password field, an invalid ID, or an expired or blocked account. Negative tests ensure the app denies access to unauthorized users.

We apply positive and negative test cases to verify the access granted to users. Positive test cases include testing passwords, PINs, smart cards, tokens, keys, or biometrics. Negative test cases include testing an empty ID/password field, an invalid ID, or an expired or blocked account. Negative tests ensure the app denies access to unauthorized users.

We check the activity log to ensure it has all the user activity records when they access ePHI. The logs must provide a detailed description of changes made to the information along with different user roles attempting to access ePHI.

Need expert guidance on HIPAA compliance testing? Our seasoned HIPAA compliance consultants and QA engineers will analyze your software and provide relevant recommendations for updates and compliance. We provide complete support for strategy, testing, and updates.

With our HIPAA compliance testing services, we ensure the software has integrity controls. These controls check ePHI for human errors like accidental changes. We also provide the accuracy of data backups by verifying that ePHI is not changed or destroyed unauthorizedly.

We perform HIPAA vulnerability scans to test flaws or weaknesses in information systems. We also identify incorrectly implemented or configured information systems. With a vulnerability scan, we help you protect ePHI and other infrastructure risks.

Connect with Concetto Labs to get a reliable medical hipaa compliance testing software.

An in-house HIPAA compliance testing team can burden you more financially. Concetto Labs, an offshore testing service provider, can help you save huge expenditures. We offer expert resources and advanced technology at reasonable costs.

Under compliance testing, we thoroughly assess systems and applications to identify vulnerabilities that could compromise patient data security. Thus, we help you address and fix issues before they become serious problems.

We bring our years of QA and testing services expertise in the healthcare industry. Our testing engineers are well aware of the HIPAA regulations and follow all the standards to ensure software compliance with HIPAA. We offer end-to-end HIPAA compliance testing services, from creating a thorough test strategy to choosing the right tools for testing. Our seasoned quality assurance engineers provide 24/7 support for any technical issues or security glitches.

With validated testers, Concetto Labs offers a wide range of the best-trained and experienced quality assurance engineers. Our QA engineers help companies avoid significant penalties and avoid legal issues. We ensure to follow all set regulations for compliance.

As the top healthcare testing company, we ensure to deliver high-quality applications that comply with HIPAA regulations. We use the most advanced technologies and tools to test the compliance of applications. We ensure the apps are not only HIPAA compliant but also bug-free.

HIPAA sets standards for protecting sensitive patient information. Companies dealing with health data must comply with these regulations. With our HIPAA compliance testing services, we help ensure that the software and systems meet the required standards.

With an outsourced team for HIPAA compliance, companies reduce the added burden on the in-house team. They can focus on their core tasks while the offshore team handles the compliance testing. Thus, it maintains overall efficiency and productivity.

The prime priority of HIPAA compliance testing services is the security and privacy of patient data. When you partner with an experienced HIPAA compliance testing agency, you get access to experienced QA engineers who ensure unmatched data protection.

We have worked with all sizes of businesses, from startups to enterprises, and helped them comply with HIPAA. We focus on delivering efficient, high-performing, and quality software.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Businesses that store and handle patient data must comply with HIPAA. They include- healthcare providers, health plan groups and insurers, healthcare clearinghouses, etc.

The cost of a HIPAA audit usually depends on several factors, including the scope of the audit, software size, complexity, etc. You can contact us with detailed requirements to get the quote.

On average, completing a HIPAA Audit takes 4-6 weeks. However, the timeline also depends on the remediation suggested in the gap analysis.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Ember.js is an open-source JavaScript web framework, based on the Model–view–viewmodel pattern.

It makes the process of development very productive. It provides easy testing, allowing Ember.js developers to simply choose a test runner to use and then immediately start writing and executing.

In comparison to other JavaScript technologies such as Vue.js and React, Ember.js development is associated with a sufficiently higher entrance threshold, meaning that support of applications created within this framework will require narrow specialists to be involved in it.

Ember JS is front-end, it is a complete MVC package with more options, it facilitates ember-data which makes it stronger to communicate with REST Api and makes concentration on front-end development.

As EmberJs is a framework with conventions defined, time to develop a feature is very less compared to lib like react.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Concetto Labs offers top-ranking ASP NET Core developers, engineers, programmers, coders, architects, and consultants for hire. Hire asp net core mvc developer at flexible and affordable hiring models.

Yes, surely. We provide complete support from inception, designing, development to launch. Hire net core developers from Concetto Labs to get full stack development services.

Depending on the prospects, requirements, qualities, and complexity of the application, the cost to hire an ASP.NET Core developer might range from $25 to $100 per hour. It is recommended to project requirements with developers before hiring them.

The cost of an ASP.NET Core development project varies depending on the complexity, scope, and features required. Simple applications may range around $5000 to $15000, while more complex, enterprise-level applications range around $20000 to $1,00,000. Factors affecting the project cost include project duration, developer expertise, third-party integrations, and ongoing support or maintenance requirements.

You must migrate your application to .NET Core when you need enhanced performance, cross-platform compatibility, and modern development capabilities. If your current application faces maintenance challenges, lacks scalability, or required cloud integration, it is good to migrate. Additionally, if your existing tech stack is outdated or if supports for older .NET version is ending, moving to .NET core ensures long-term sustainability and access to latest features.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

Being a trusted Live Streaming App Development company, we deliver a wide range of app development solutions to boost your business. Here, we have listed few factors that will assist you in making decisions for all your business requirements.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

It's a kind of live broadcast that occurs on a computer where thousands of users can watch in real-time. Game players are the most frequent users, and most popular social apps are Facebook, Instagram, and other launched live streams.

If you have plans to start an online video streaming business, then developing an online live streaming app is the best option. It connects you to several users across the world.

Well, the fact says all. 50% of the marketer use videos to get the highest ROI. Also, 70% of internet traffic we can get from watching videos as 50% of the data usage is used in it. And businesses using live streaming can get the highest results by appearing in the top channel list.

It is observed that the community is much higher than the production potential of commercial networks. And in one month, three times more videos are uploaded by major US TV channels to earn more with paid apps, subscriptions, and other live consultations.

Generally, the actual cost depends on the factors, features, and functionality a user needs to consider and add on their video streaming app. So, the customer needs to discuss over call the hourly rate of a developer.

Live streaming applications are in huge demand among young and adults alike. The features like an unlimited variety of content, and on-demand streaming anytime, anywhere have created a huge market for live streaming applications. It is highly profitable to invest in live-streaming applications.

Yes. We have a professional team of offshore Live streaming app coders and programmers. You can hire dedicated live streaming app developers from Concetto Labs at affordable and flexible hiring models and rates.

The technologies we use to build a live streaming app are:

The time required to develop a custom live streaming app will depend on the type and complexity of your live streaming application. The more complex features and APIs, the more time it will take to develop.

Examine our most recent findings and trends in cutting-edge technology to remain ahead in this world of digital firsts!

Today in the fast-forward internet world everything is just a click away. So, we can analyze from this that content plays an important role in our lives. Video content is easy to relate to and covers every age group of users, increasing the reach of content delivery.

Nearly 2.72 billion people forecast would start watching on-demand videos by 2023. The market is projected with $70 billion worth by 2021. A few of the streaming services include YouTube, Twitch, Hulu, Netflix, and Spotify, which offer a wide variety of video-on-demand content such as podcasts...

Founder & CEO of Soyaka

Indonesia

I am the founder and CEO of the Shox application and Soyeka AI. I've been working with the Concetto Labs team for about two years at this point. They have worked with us in a very productive, supportive, and collaborative manner ever since day one. I appreciate you talking with me.

Founder & CEO of Kgalagadi Pharmacy

Botswana

I'm James Mukabi from Botswana, and I'm a happy customer of Concetto Labs. In order to create our new medicine delivery app, we built Concetto Lab. I discovered the Concetto Labs crew to be highly professional and knowledgeable about their job when we were developing the app. The crew is welcoming, they listen to you, and they walk you through each step as the project takes shape. Finally, I can attest that the product was precisely what we had envisioned.

Founder & CEO of Skrachy

USA

I am the creator and CEO of Scratchy, a DJ-focused digital streaming platform. About 2.5 years ago, I approached the Concetto Labs team with nothing more than an idea and a vision. The team at Concetto Labs was able to implement that notion & goal. A streaming platform by the name of Scratchy also has a built-in marketplace, an advertising engine, and a mobile app. Without the Concetto Labs team's devotion & commitment, I'm not sure how I would have been able to do this.

Founder & CEO of HoliSoft

Italy

My company is a software house, but we have no expertise in web development. We have been working with Concetto Labs for two years. We are very happy with our collaboration because they are very efficient, fast, and also have excellent graphic solution. Thank you, Concetto Labs.

Founder & CEO of Fennix Global

These are a few justifications for choosing Concetto Labs for your upcoming website project. They are quick implementation timeframes, capable & accommodating customer service, and frequent meetings that facilitate seamless project progress. Concetto Lab provide a strong foundation that will meet our demands for a number of years. For anyone searching for solutions for website development, I heartily suggest them.

Founder & CEO of KAI App

USA

My name is Mercy. I am the owner of the Kai app, and I had the chance to collaborate with Concetto Labs to have this fantastic software made for me. Because I had the finest experience, I would give it a five out of five. It was always excellent, quite professional, and the software was well-liked. And if I were to work with them again, I'd suggest Concetto Labs to anyone looking to download or make apps.

We have the expertise to deliver high-quality software, web, and mobile applications from concept to deployment and beyond.

Ionic offers great functionality where customizing the apps for iOS or Android is pretty easy. Here, we help you to satisfy market demands with innovative apps delivering native mobile experiences. Hire vetted Ionic developers that offer robust solutions specific to your business, on the Ionic framework.

With Concetto Labs as your reliable Ionic development agency in India and the USA, you can easily extend your team with the right Ionic resources. The Ionic developers at Concetto undergo complex screening and interviews to test their skills and get the place. They are highly qualified and keep themselves updated with the latest technology trends. When you connect with Concetto Labs to hire Ionic developers, we ensure that you get just the best and what you desire.

Recruit a specialized team of tech experts tailored to your unique business needs.

Grow your team effortlessly by bringing in tech experts, enabling seamless scalability.

Collaborate to get flexible support for agile development of tailored software and products.

Nurture the growth of your business by hiring vetted Ionic App Developers who can offer innovative solutions. Ionic gives unprecedented value to speed as it is exclusively built to perform on mobile devices. Its potential and performance are awe-inspiring. Ionic is synonymous with clean and straightforward, which is also functional. It can render beautiful displays on mobile devices across different platforms. Ionic development tools are both native and web optimized. And to add to it all, Ionic cross-platform development is quite progressive, allowing revolution in performance. Ionic is powerful and performance-driven, designed to cater to even the most challenging business needs.

At Ionic Framework, we deeply understand the potential of Ionic app development for the success of your business. Our Ionic app programmers and engineers offer other services such as web development, Ionic game development, and more. This is just the basics of what we offer. We guarantee that you will be even more impressed with our advanced services. We promise you the results are impressive.

Furthermore, you work with professional Ionic app developers who are experts in Ionic application development. We are transparent during the project initiation phase. As you submit the requirements, we, in conjunction with our designers, programmers and other people who are going to execute the project analyze it. Then we divide and count work methodically - each person. So, you know in advance maximum and minimum cost, not deviating more than 30% plus or minus.

Relax. Our customers are spread across many countries. If not customers, we have references as well. Even better, talk to us, engage with the team remotely, via Skype, via Facebook etc. Another way to complete tasks is to go ticket basis where only limited work is input in a certain time-period but that costs a little higher.

It is around USD $3,000 for 20 days a month & 8 hours a day.

We will be happier if you first called them and came via reference. To see previous clients, please go to the testimonials page on our website - from where you can find their email & mobile numbers

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #notohiddencosts

Dynamics 365 Business Central is an integrated cloud-based ERP software for small and medium-sized enterprises.

8+ Years Experience

500+ Delivered Projects

97% Client Retention Rate

With Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, users may replace their outdated ERP system or entry-level accounting software with a single, all-inclusive solution for managing operations, sales, finances, and customer care.

Formerly known as Dynamics NAV, Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, is an AI business management tool designed for start-ups and small to medium-sized organizations that operate in the cloud. It is a perfect all-in-one application for enterprises in progress since it can handle business processes within the organization and has basic CRM capabilities. It can also be used by customers to transition from their basic accounting software to Dynamics 365 Business Central. Improve NAV to Microsoft Dynamics 365 BC, the advanced digital ERP system that can address different business processes for operations, sales, finance, and customer service.

Harness comprehensive modules for finance, operations, sales, and service integration. Transform business processes and elevate performance—let's discuss customizing your solution today!

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central uses an interface in which applications share a standard data model to enable real-time sharing and visibility. Beyond basic CRM, it includes finance and human capital management, as well as business solutions through AI decision-making. Integrate Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central API and consulting service to achieve seamless business management and continuous improvement.

Dynamics 365 Business Central, Microsoft's AI-powered ERP, boosts steady growth and simplifies procedures to increase business efficiency.

Enterprises can connect and increase efficiency by utilizing automated activities and workflows within the recognizable Microsoft interface of Word, Excel, and Outlook.

These are made possible by Microsoft's innovative, intelligent technologies, which help you accomplish more and obtain a comprehensive understanding of the organization through connected data, business analytics, and advice.

With a flexible architecture that simplifies expanding beyond Business Central in response to changing business requirements, these solutions can be swiftly implemented, developed, and adjusted in real-time.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

It's a powerful and scalable ERP and company management tool that helps companies to increase client relations, streamline operations, and manage finances better. It can be hosted on-site or in the cloud. Microsoft hosts maintains, and upgrades the cloud-based solution on a monthly basis.

The "umbrella term" for Microsoft's business application suite, including Business Central, 365 Sales, 365 Field Services, 365 Customer Service, and many more, is Dynamics 365. These business apps are all made to fit particular needs within the company. In particular, Business Central is made for ERP tasks, thus companies looking for an "all-in-one" solution can use it.

Although they are both components of the Microsoft Dynamics suite, Business Central and CRM have different features. While CRM is focused on customer relationship management and sales, Business Central is an ERP system.

NAV has evolved into Business Central in the present day. Better interoperability with Microsoft's other products, a real cloud-based deployment, and an easier-to-use interface characterize Business Central.

It is more appropriate to describe Business Central as "implemented" than as installed. To meet your business needs, deployment can be done on-premises or in the cloud using a variety of subscription options.

Examine our most recent findings and trends in cutting-edge technology to remain ahead in this world of digital firsts!

The tools provided by Microsoft Office are adaptable, but sometimes you want to implement something that Outlook, PowerPoint, word, and Excel can't do at that time you should opt for Microsoft Office Add-In which is capable of providing extra something...

Microsoft's Office 365 comes with many functions, but you can customize your subscription with several add-ins that provide additional functionality...

Microsoft Power Automate is a very basic workflow-based automation tool that just works by dragging and dropping tasks to automate repetitive and manual processes...

Page: Microsoft Dynamics 365 Copilot Consulting Services | Concetto Labs

Discover our work to drive success and take business to new heights!

Join the team. Spark innovation.

Launched in 2023, Copilot works as Microsoft's AI assistant. The tool is developed as part of a bigger project on creating generative AI systems. Specialized Copilots can leverage various Microsoft Dynamics 365 business applications including Finance, Sales, and Customer Service. These customized Copilots assist in performing repetitive tasks, data analysis, and tracking of processes, enabling organizations to run smoothly while making informed decisions in real-time.

AI-Powered Assistance

Seamless Integration

Enhanced User Experience

Specialized Copilots are created for specific business processes and improve the probability of users completing their tasks faster. This innovation is a major step in the application of AI in business as it focuses on the incorporation of AI in everyday business processes.

Copilot for Dynamics 365 provides AI assistance to enhance the performance and productivity of the teams that perform operations for your business such as marketing, finance, supply chain, sales, and support. It provides a chat interface for quick summaries of updates, and news about accounts, meetings, and sales opportunities, among many other things. Copilot's generative AI capabilities may be used for record summarization and email content generation, and users can easily link it with Teams and Outlook to improve data management.

With Copilot, marketers can easily target the proper demographic by characterizing the segment in their terms thanks to a tool called query assist. Marketers may quickly examine and adjust the recommended list before launching their next email campaign. It was previously known as Dynamics 365 Customer Insights – Journeys.

The Sales Copilot helps sellers using Dynamics 365 Sales by providing them with more time to focus on customers. It composes email replies and recaps of Teams meetings automatically.

The customer service for Dynamics 365 Copilot uses generative AI to make it unnecessary for agents to read extensive email chains, notes, and case specifics. They may swiftly deliver great customer service as a result. Agents can also pose free-form questions, just like they would to a coworker or supervisor who might know the answer, akin to other Business Apps' Copilot features. Minimize service disruption.

When you connect Copilot to Dynamics 365 Field Service, it will assist you in scheduling, resource utilization, and business operations management to promote productivity.

Your go-to tool for data summary, fact-finding, and email writing in Dynamics 365 Finance is Copilot, which will streamline and expedite your financial activities.

With Dynamics 365 Supply Chain Management, Copilot's generative AI capabilities help you manage crucial modifications to purchase orders, evaluate related risks, and improve your sourcing choices.

Dynamics 365 Business Central's Copilot features let you integrate AI technology into your routine business procedures. Take advantage of AI-generated product descriptions and AI-powered features like late payment prediction and cash flow forecasting.

Make project plans powered by AI, gain insights into project hazards, and quickly produce enlightening status updates.

AI improves productivity and decision-making for your business. Improve your business efficiency—analyze how Microsoft Dynamics 365 Copilot works for smooth operations.

By utilizing natural language processing and next-generation AI capabilities, Copilot enhances Dynamics 365 for business professionals. It helps them generate ideas and content more quickly, finish tedious activities, and obtain insights and the best course of action simply by stating what needs to be done. This means that you can focus more on the development of your business without worrying much about the technicalities. Dynamics 365 Copilot is versatile depending on the growth of your business meaning you are ready for the next level.

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Copilot provides different licensing options depending on any organization's requirements. It is very flexible as to which applications will be used and you only pay for the services you require. Such flexibility enables you to choose a 'base' app, which offers fundamental functionalities; the extra apps can be incorporated using an 'attach' license at a lower cost. This will help avoid the use of resources that are not useful to the business hence reducing the expenses. Licensing at Microsoft is convenient in terms of cost, and is also flexible, meaning that it can be adjusted according to the size of the company.

Every home needs various grocery goods, and many companies see selling these items as an opportunity for profitable expansion within the realm of overall food products

Our client from Canada contacted us to authorize us to develop a creative and competitive supermarket application for their network of grocery shops. They searched for a comprehensive digital app solution for Groce Mart, including typical household items.

The customer wanted to make buying food for their homes once every two weeks or once a month as easy as possible for the buyer. The goods available to each purchaser might range from 20 to 45 items on average. The customer requested that strong UI and UX be ensured so that the product does not seem crowded and detract from the overall user experience. Other obstacles were managing the delivery time, adding more things to the buying basket, and auto-downloading the photographs while the search was being carried out.

UI/UX

Backend

Development Platform

Database

We went above and beyond the client's requirements when developing the application for the Grocery Delivery Service we created. We met the deadline for delivering the application. The bundle had three apps: one for customers, one for administrators, and one for delivery boys. The program improved the efficiency of the services that our clients provided to their customers.

Before ever considering a screen to be finished, the experienced UI/UX designers on our team painstakingly developed it and put it through a rigorous review process. The backend team did an excellent job of giving the administrative panel a variety of excellent controls. Using these controls, administrators will have the power to adjust any part of the business logic in a practical and timely manner.

The administrative panel provides several benefits, including an interactive dashboard view. This view enables the promoters to view several key performance indicators (KPIs) as charts, allowing them to see areas where the company is succeeding and regions where it could be improved.

The administrator can observe which product categories bring in the most money for the company, which items have been purchased the most often, how much each client spends on average, and other relevant information.

Discover our work to drive success and take business to new heights!

Join the team. Spark innovation.

Are you still allowing manual tests to affect your software release times? Accelerate your test cycle times for faster time-to-market with our automation testing services. Be an early player with automated software test services to get an edge over your peers.

Performance Testing

E-Learning Testing

Regression Testing

Automated testing is the new norm with modern agile and DevOps software projects. With our automated testing services, we focus on Continuous delivery (CD) that ensures delivering new code releases as fast as possible to customers. With continuous integration (CI), we verify new code changes with automated tests. Thus, our QA automation testing services ensure quality at each development stage, keeping the software ready for release.

Automation in software testing processes is more prevalent now, thanks to the affordability and efficiency of these tests. The automated test scripts help curb the hassles and hours wasted in manual regression tests.

With intelligent automated testing software and automation tools, organizations can switch to computerized tests for more efficient and timely software releases.

Concetto Labs, one of the leading automation testing companies, has years of experience offering software test automation services to global clients.

We always stay on top of the latest automation trends and frameworks. Our professional team of QA engineers is well-versed in using the most advanced automation tester tools, including Selenium, Cucumber, Jira, and more.

We follow a proven software testing automation strategy and approach that helps us fix the bugs and issues in the software quickly and with high precision.

We design and follow the test automation strategy that aligns with the client's enterprise goals. Also, we follow an evaluation exercise to recommend just the right test automation software and tools for automated tests.

Thus, with our test automation services, we help organizations reduce regression testing time and reduce time-to-market while saving massive costs.

Sona Care is a smartphone app that offers meditation and psychology classes and soothing sound recordings.

Travel exploration apps can benefit people in travel arrangements.

We always start with a strategy for perfect software automation testing. First, we define the goals for the tests and, based on that, decide which tests to automate, the level of testing, testing tools, frameworks, and more.

The interface of your software needs detailed testing before launch. Our automated GUI testing service covers validating menus, sidebars, text boxes, buttons, fonts, colors, hyperlinks, and every element.

Your project may need a custom test automation framework. Concetto Labs can create a custom test automation solution with the guidelines to follow to run the test, like coding standards, procedures, and more.

We offer automated performance test scripts to analyze software performance for all aspects. We cover testing network, browser, page response time, & server request processing in our test automation services.

Regression tests can be expensive and time-consuming if run manually. We can save you time with our software automated testing and automated regression testing services. Count on us for hassle-free software testing

Being a leading automated software testing company, we help businesses add, review, and maintain automation scripts. With each release, we help enterprises update & optimize existing test scripts.

Manual tests are more prone to un-notified human errors in the test cycles. With automated QA testing, codes are verified and validated with every new update to identify errors early for more accuracy and precision.

Do you want to keep pace with the latest industry trends? We offer extremely agile and flexible QA automation services to help you pivot when needed to match your customer expectations.

Do not let slow and inefficient manual tests delay your software release. We clear the software release path with our quality assurance automation testing services for a time-efficient software launch.

Partnering with Concetto Labs for automated testing services means you have the experts by your side. We design and execute test automation scripts that support bug-free superior quality software and faster releases.

Do you want to keep pace with the latest industry trends? We are extremely agile and flexible to help you pivot when needed to match your customer expectations.

Here are some frequently asked questions about employing our developers that may help you.

Automated test services are the key to meeting the changing user demands on time. Here are some of the reasons why automated testing is beneficial for you.

Automation testing services can be used to automate various types of tests like functional testing, regression testing, performance testing, and security testing.

When choosing automation testing services for your project, you should consider factors such as the experience and expertise of the automation testing company provider, the type of automation tools and frameworks they use, their testing process and methodologies, and their pricing and delivery models. It would help if you also look for reviews and testimonials from their past clients.

The cost of automation testing services can vary depending on factors such as the project's complexity, the type of automation tools used, the number of test cases, and the project's duration. Some service providers may charge per hour, while others may offer fixed-price or subscription-based pricing models. Getting a detailed quote from the service provider before finalizing the project is best.

Discover our work to drive success and take business to new heights!

Join the team. Spark innovation.

Global leader for all the IT solutions.

We challenge the standards of configuration, push the limits of advancement. Concetto Labs began in 2014, and we've not looked back rather are consistently discovering, developing & learning from that point forward.

We came so far and a lot has occurred in the previous years. We assembled things; we met such a significant number of individuals, made long lasting fellowships, adapted so much and developed in general. It was an uneven ride. Yet a wonderful goal isn't justified regardless of the battle of the voyage. We spend significant time in making ideas digital that are just usable, practical and sufficiently instinctive to improve life.

We prevail with regards to conveying quality apps & web services for customers over the world. The unmatched steadiness, diligence and excitement of our developer family has built up a solid establishment for us.

A lot has changed in React JS development services, especially since the release of React 18. Here are some of the most exciting changes you should know about...

React is one of the popular JavaScript frameworks that help in creating front-end applications. React was created by Facebook and gained massive popularity. It allows developers to create a fast app using an intuitive programming paradigm.

Undoubtedly, frontend development is the hottest trend to be followed in 2021. Earlier, it was easy for frontend developers to build an interactive website with mere knowledge of technologies like HTML, CSS, and jQuery.

Our integrity and process focuses largely on providing every customer the best recommendations for their respective business. Our clients become recurring customers because we always go beyond their expectations to deliver the best solutions.

Because brainstorming leads to new thoughts & ideas. We believe in discussing & bridging the gap leading to nicer suggestions & application.

Innovation is like Jugaad. It only comes when you give it a try. We believe that extraordinary things come with innovation which help you stand & lead in the crowd.

Our developers are always keen to develop creative ideas. There is “NEVER a NO.” They have an eye on the market facts, thus develop in the latest on going environment.

We understand the value of money & thus with a modular approach serve you the best quote for your application & web services. The features we promise, we deliver. #nothiddencosts

Concetto Labs can help you launch high-quality, secure, and high-performing IoT apps. We provide complete support at every development stage and after launch.

API testing is crucial for IoT devices as they communicate and share data using APIs. Our seasoned QA professionals test the APIs for response time, negative scenarios, etc.

We offer IoT product testing services to validate intelligent applications for security, performance, and functionality. We follow the industry standards and protocols for best results.

We test IoT devices using cloud-based simulators that provide real-time, and low-cost testing environments.

We test complete scenarios of IoT devices connected on a centralized server.

We perform IoT penetration testing to ensure that the devices are secure. We also ensure that data connection and transfers are always encrypted to ensure privacy.

Wearable devices offer great convenience for users, especially in healthcare and sports. Our expert QA team tests the accuracy and reliability of wearable biosensor software systems.

IoT devices collect high-frequency data through APIs. Our IoT device testing solution ensures that the data collected is secure, validated, and stored privately.

We help businesses get the best out of IoT testing services by suggesting optimal test models. We design a test strategy for each IoT app module and also offer cost estimation.

Our UX and usability testing services test the interactions of IoT devices with external systems. We measure user retention and identify friction to help you deliver a superior user experience.

With automated testing, QA engineers can schedule automatic tests. Thus, they get more time to analyze the IoT app to gain valuable insights. QA teams can also scale test cases for the next development stage.

Testing IoT applications ensure minimal risks of failures and security leakages. The IoT applications are protected from unauthorized access and perform seamlessly to deliver better user experience.

We develop IoT solutions that can easily adjust ever-growing data demands. We stress-test the apps to ensure they scale to handle spikes in data volume, connectivity, and user interactions.

Our QA engineers create a detailed testing strategy before testing any IoT applications. We understand your requirements, validate the test executions, & choose the right testing methods.

We offer complete coverage for testing IoT devices. We have experience serving several clients globally, thus, we are well aware of the challenges of IoT app testing.

We use advanced testing tools and methods to test the software and hardware of the IoT apps. With the right use of resources, we help you reduce testing and development costs.

Our QA experts identify the bugs early in development to avoid inefficiencies and development delays. We test and deliver applications quickly to help you stay ahead of your competition.

With robust IoT testing, we identify and eliminate all errors from your IoT applications. We deliver IoT apps that deliver high-quality experience and seamless performance.

Summary: Integrating innovative tools like Power Apps with existing business systems is crucial for maximizing efficiency and flexibility. Microsoft Power Apps Development, part of the Dynamics Power Platform, offers low-code development capabilities, enabling businesses to create custom applications quickly. The blog examines the operation, framework, capabilities, benefits, and limitations associated with integrating Power Apps, together with real-life applications across several different industries.

Microsoft Power Apps is a strong platform that enables organizations to develop individualized apps suited to their unique business needs, even without in-depth coding capabilities. When integrated with existing business systems, Power Apps enhances the organization's ability to streamline workflows, automate processes, and increase productivity.

The integration of Power Apps with your existing business systems is essential for businesses looking to innovate and digitize their operations. Connecting with databases, legacy systems, or today's applications allows Power Apps to deliver a more efficient and unified means of managing and engaging with data.

The framework for integrating Power Apps with business application systems revolves around data connectivity, application interfaces, and security. Power Apps links to assorted data sources via embedded connectors, including Dynamics 365, SharePoint, and SQL Server, in addition to multiple others.

API Management: For effective interaction with existing systems, Power Apps depend critically on APIs. These allow communication that is unimpeded among several platforms and services. Common Data Service (CDS): CDS acts like a centralized data model, simplifying data management and exchange for Power Apps between different systems. Security Protocols: Microsoft secures all data exchanged by Power Apps through the Azure AD application and various authentication methods.

While integrating with your existing business systems, Power Apps supports a wide range of platforms.

The features permit companies to develop a coordinated ecosystem in which applications can communicate without issues, encouraging process enhancements and efficiency.

Power Apps links with a variety of platforms, delivering solid connectivity that confirms smooth communication between your business systems and the app.

By tapping into these connectors and integration points, organizations have the ability to extract greater value from their current systems and better their total digital infrastructure.

Planning is critical for successfully integrating Power Apps with existing business systems. An effective integration strategy assures that the approach is both efficient and affordable and achieves the necessary business outcomes.

Making effective strategies enables companies to ensure that the transitions in Power Apps integration are seamless and can achieve their benefits.

The benefits of integrating Power Apps with your existing business systems are numerous.

While PowerApps offers numerous advantages, there are also limitations and considerations to keep in mind when integrating it with your business systems:

These limitations make one consider the critical need for a detailed analysis of your individual business requirements and potential hurdles during the integration of Power Apps with your existing tools.

The automation, data accessibility improvements, and collaboration tools make Power Apps capable of greatly improving business processes.

Businesses can streamline their processes, diminish bottlenecks, and raise productivity via Power Apps for process improvements.

Power Apps can be leveraged in various industries to address specific needs:

Every one of these industries can derive advantage from custom apps designed to improve operational efficiency and meet unique operational needs.

Consult Our Expert!

Integrating Power Apps with your existing business systems opens up a world of possibilities for driving business growth, improving efficiency, and reducing costs. Organizations can improve their operation efficiency and protect their digital structure for the future by using the platform's connectivity capabilities and integration framework. Yet, successfully merging requires careful thought about limitations and making plans.

Summary: Integrating Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central with WinLIMS software is a great option for laboratories seeking to enhance their processes, cut costs, and stay compliant. The integration brings in real-time information, increased productivity, and flexibility making it easier for laboratories to handle their daily tasks.

Labs can use an ERP system integrated with LIMS to manage various functions ranging from inventory to sample tracking and even financials. In this article, we will discover how the connection of Business Central and WinLIMS can bring a positive change, examine the features and advantages, and consider the ways of successful integration and possible difficulties.

The operations of a lab have greatly changed with the new software solutions that have been developed. Modern labs process big data and are involved in the execution of multifaceted processes while being subject to numerous legal and normative requirements. These tasks are too complex and cumbersome to be done manually which is why integrated software applications are used. For instance, the integration of Business

Central and WinLIMS will revolutionize the way labs are managed.

Business Central Microsoft is an all-in-one business management suite that helps organizations manage their operations. With Business Central, you can manage everything from the finances to the supply chain, as well as CRM: a single, integrated, and fully automated platform that gives you real-time information.

WinLIMS software is an advanced LIMS solution that helps laboratories optimize their processes, manage inventory, track data, and meet compliance standards. The system enhances the lab operations by enabling the labs to effectively manage data and also conform to the set industry standards. It has features such as sample management, instrument calibration, and reporting that help in the efficient and proper running of the labs.

Business Central and WinLIMS are both effective in their standalone capacities but combining the two provides remarkable synergies. This links business management and lab operations to enable data sharing and improve visibility in operations. This integration revolutionizes labs by offering real-time data, decreasing the time spent on data entry, and the ability to make informed decisions.

To understand how Business Central and WinLIMS Integration can change lab operations, it is crucial to look at the primary functionalities of Business Central and WinLIMS Integration.

The Business Central and WinLIMS integration offers several transformative benefits for labs:

Another reason that can be useful to implement Business Central and WinLIMS integration is the problem of increasing costs and their scalability. Here's how:

Currently, the integration between Business Central and WinLIMS focuses on Windows Communication Foundation to allow easy connectivity between the ERP system and the LIMS. This is done through transfer solutions that allow data sharing about samples, inventory, financials, and compliance between the two platforms.

Many laboratories have taken advantage of the Business Central WinLIMS combination. For example:

Before integrating Business Central and WinLIMS, labs should consider:

There are challenges to consider as well as benefits:

Consult Us Today!

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central and WinLIMS integration will significantly improve laboratory functionality by speeding up operations, decreasing expenses, and adhering to protocols. Regardless of the size of the lab that one owns or manages, these benefits are readily discernible, which gives this integration the quality of being able to scale with the lab. Since this integration focuses on both the business and technical sides of laboratories, it changes how labs work.

DevOps Solutions and Services

DevOps Strategy Consulting

DevOps Software Development Company

We employ the best DevOps practices and strategies to accelerate the speed of software development. Our DevOps team uses tools to automate and speed up operations to reduce workloads and time to market. With our DevOps consulting services, enterprises can easily integrate applications on the cloud and minimize operational costs.

DevOps development services are becoming increasingly popular, allowing organizations to remain competitive. However, with the rise of DevOps comes a greater need for trained individuals with the requisite capabilities. That's where Concetto Labs can help.

Modern software development relies on the expertise of DevOps consultants. In addition to utilizing our frameworks, hire DevOps developers to implement DevOps practices within your firm and use cutting-edge tools. Automation of cloud infrastructure and procedures ensures continuous supply and integration of your product to the market on time. Our market-validated DevOps best practices and industry-leading DevOps services provide a feature-rich solution in a shorter timeline and at a reduced cost.

With our DevOps services and solutions, you can maximize your resources and infrastructure while spending the least money. Our metrics-driven development strategy enables our engineering teams to improve their productivity, increase the time they spend coding, and better prioritize their work based on the value it creates. CI/CD frameworks such as Jenkins or Travis CI assist in building the CI/CD part of the DevOps process.

There are usually servers that can automatically develop, test, and deploy software depending on code changes received by these frameworks.

We offer DevOps automation services to create deployable objects from application code. The usefulness of these tools varies depending on whether a compiled or an interpretable programming language is being used.

Code changes may be tracked and managed with the help of source control management solutions. They keep track of all the code changes made by individual developers and all the pull requests.

In creating an application, the use of code testing frameworks aids in detecting any potential flaws. Unit tests are a common feature of these technologies, and they may be applied both during development and when the software is running.

Do you want to ensure the security of your cloud applications? Our DevOps experts perform cloud infrastructure security assessments of your AWS and Azure cloud applications using the latest tools and technologies. Validate your cloud infrastructure security with our experts.

Testing in DevOps is an automated and continuous process. Our DevOps team performs testing in every stage of the Software Development Lifecycle (SDLC). Thus, it helps minimize back trading and errors. Each team performs testing simultaneously for smoother and quality deliveries.

With automation in development and operational processes, we ensure to improve your business productivity under budget. Get in touch with our expert DevOps engineers to book a free consultation for your next cloud and DevOps projects.

Summary: This blog offers insights into the top 10 food delivery app platforms in Saudi Arabia, showing features, ratings, delivery prices, etc. It provides a comprehensive overview of the Saudi food delivery apps' impact on the local food industry, making it a valuable guide for users seeking efficient and diverse food delivery options in the region.

Online food delivery services are expanding quickly in Saudi Arabia. With more people using smartphones and leading busier lives, food delivery apps have also grown vastly.

To satisfy customer's cravings and establish yourself as a successful food delivery app, use these Top food delivery apps in Saudi Arabia as a reference. There are plenty of restaurants to pick from, and food delivery apps in Saudi to become useful at this point.

With the help of these mobile apps, you can order any kind of food from your preferred café or restaurant and have it delivered straight to your house. Read below as we examine the unique qualities, learn the secrets behind their successes, and see how they have revolutionized dining. These food delivery applications are masters at satisfying users, from easy ordering to quick deliveries.

Therefore, check out these 10 Saudi Arabian food delivery apps as a guide if you are keen to satisfy customers and establish yourself beside these elite delivery food delivery giants.

As per a study, the food delivery business in Saudi Arabia is anticipated to develop at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6% between 2024 and 2028 with a predicted market volume of US $14.38 billion by this time. This claims that Saudi Arabians are becoming more and more accustomed to ordering food using food delivery apps.

Various reasons are driving its expansion. More usage of cell phones, rushed-for-time customers, and an increase in eateries collaborating with delivery services. Food delivery is no longer a luxury but rather a regular need for food enthusiasts in Saudi. Local and international businesses are taking advantage of this potential by offering specialized services.

Before moving on to the food delivery platforms, let us check the working of food delivery model and food delivery landscape in Saudi:

In recent times, the food delivery market in Saudi Arabia has grown rapidly, fulfilling the demands of the country's diversified population. The way people order food has changed completely and these are some of the best restaurant delivery apps. Let us check the table showing the main difference between the most popular food delivery apps in Saudi Arabia before getting into the specifics of each app:

Below are the Best Food Delivery Apps in Saudi Arabia

For those looking to order food from top-level bakeries and restaurants, Chefz, a prominent food delivery app, is a great source. This food delivery service app provider has access to a large database of upscale restaurants, cafes, bakeries, and patisseries. You can look around the restaurants, quickly pursue various types of cuisines, pick the one you like from the menu, and then order the food as soon as possible.

In Saudi Arabia, the HungerStation food delivery app development is among the most reliable and quick online food ordering apps. Anytime you want to get the most popular food from the one café that has been making waves on social media. Before completing your order, you can use the app to browse discounts available to take advantage of the deals and save some money. Additionally, you can ask for changes to be made to your order and specify any specific details that the restaurant needs to know before preparing it. Additionally, you have a variety of payment methods to select from based on what is convenient and comfortable.

With effective delivery services available in more than 20 Saudi Arabian cities, Jahez is a top food delivery app in the Kingdom. With over 3 million members, it fulfills over 20 million food orders annually and has amassed a network of 45,000 delivery partners throughout the nation.

Furthermore, Jahez offers parcel and grocery delivery services in addition to food delivery services. You can easily make an order from this food delivery application by simply entering your address and choosing your preferred food. Following that, you can get a receipt with the entire cost. You can then pay with methods like Apple Pay or Cash on Delivery, and you can follow the order in real-time.

With Talabat, you can indulge in cuisine at any time of the day and fulfill cravings with the fastest delivery possible. Talabat is a unique food delivery service in Saudi Arabia. After placing an order, the delivery app provides its users with a feature that allows them to track the status of their order along with a wide selection of payment options to choose from.

Also, Talabat provides a fantastic array of sales and promotions to enable foodies to order their favorite food at the lowest possible price and save money. Customers can use this app to be informed about the latest deals available from certain restaurants to find out how long they will remain. Moreover, one of Talabat's many endearing qualities is that it lets customers customize their orders. Users of this application can conveniently order food from a range of nearby restaurants and even take advantage of their favorite café items.

Another best food delivery app in Saudi Arabia is ToYou, which provides more features than just food delivery. This app allows you to order groceries, flowers, lunch, brunch, dinner, and other items. In addition, the ToYou app lets you schedule transportation in case your Uber Driver does not show up or unforeseen circumstances occur. This app's functionality allows customers to rate their services after delivery is another appreciating thing. With the help of a delivery person, you can use this function to provide your frank evaluation of the company's customer service and overall satisfaction.

Lugmety can be the ideal app for you if you are searching for a quick and simple way to set up restaurant reservations or have food and supplies delivered right to your house. If you are looking to treat yourself to gourmet cuisine at home, Lugmety has got you covered. Their delivery service is accessible around the clock and mostly serves upmarket cafes and restaurants. Also, users have given the app's user-friendly browsing layout excellent praise. Furthermore, Lugmety delivers its services for catering, whether it be for a private or public event.

Features of Lugmety Application

MrSool is a famous app for food delivery in Saudi. The Play Store has millions of downloads for the app, indicating a sizable user base. On the other hand, a variety of local and international cuisines are available on the on-demand food delivery venture in KSA. Through an app, customers can pay with cash on delivery or a credit card for their goods. Once delivery is complete, users can assess their experience with the service and check the status of their order.

On a single delivery platform, BURGERIZZR unites several local and international burger business platforms. It goes for the burger-loving populace of Saudi Arabia by centralizing all important actors. Leading burger businesses and restaurants collaborate to offer a wide range of options to patrons.

With Shgardi, users can place online orders for delivery from a variety of UAE eateries. There are various cuisines available such as Arabic, Indian, Chinese, Italian, and many more. You just need to register and provide your delivery location to use the on-demand food delivery app development facility.

After completing this, you can pursue the menus of the establishments that are participating and choose the items you wish to order. Delivery drives from Shgardi will bring the food to your location once you pay with a credit or debit card.

Daily Mealz offers a food delivery market with a novel subscription model. As the name implies, it enables daily or weekly scheduling of freshly prepared meals. Clients adore its easy-to-follow, nutrient-dense food plans prepared by dieticians. Daily Mealz satisfies the demand of health-conscious customers who require homemade food-ready food parcels. Following the completion of schedules and payments by customers. Daily Mealz freshly prepared every order. Through its unique strategy, this firm has established a niche for itself in the food delivery market in Saudi Arabia.

It is important to establish your budget for food delivery app development costs. The location, complexity of the app, UI/UX design, platform compatibility, and the specialized resources you hire all affect the app development cost. The development team's rates and location will have an impact on overall cost. It depends on the background, area of expertise, and experience.

Hourly rates for hiring a developer from a food delivery app development company in the Middle East are:
SAR 200- SAR 300

When initiating food delivery app development in Saudi Arabia, the main factor to consider is hiring an app development company. Because they have the requisite knowledge and resources, working with an experienced development team can guarantee a seamless and effective development process.

Additionally, by selecting a ready-made solution like food delivery app clones, owners can reduce the time to market considerably. Ready-to-use software solutions designed specifically for the food delivery sector can provide businesses with a jump, freeing them to concentrate on branding and personalization instead of beginning from scratch.

Let's Connect!

Developing a food delivery app in Saudi Arabia is essential if you want to succeed in the evolving food delivery market. It provides opportunities for better consumer interaction, wider market penetration, and more efficient operations.

A well-thought plan and the appropriate technological partner, such as ConcettoLabs might enable a Saudi Arabia food delivery app to completely transform the market. It can increase earnings and develop a solid presence in the Saudi Arabian food delivery market.

Looking for a one-stop shopping app to satiate all your latest, quirky shopping hunger? If yes, then download Shox. Backed with Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Technology, Shox lets you keep updated with the hottest trends and fashion. Right from the latest shopping trends to product reviews, from hottest fashions trends to lifestyle, we've your back. Say Bid adieu to multiple window-browsing. All you need to do is just snap the look you want to buy, upload it on the app and shop for your favourite look. Sound's interesting isn't it! Each time your follower shops your look, you get a "ding" sound in your account.

An Indonesia-based client approached Concetto Labs to build a fashion app that encourages youth to keep up with the hottest trends and products in the crowd. The main aim of the client was to bring revolution in the fashion industry and act as a "fashion guide" by developing a standalone app that aggregates products from multiple sites to a single platform. It thus allows users to shop the exact or similar look in a single go.

1. Development of a standalone fashion application shop latest trends and looks in a single click. It invites fashion models and users to create looks and shop latest trends while generating revenue.
2. A rare yet eccentric app to search and browse through the collection of the latest fashion products and items.
3. Multi revenue stream generation through #shoxsquad campaign.
4. Influence marketing campaign - create fresh and interesting content and influence users to buy products.

5. Generate passive income for your looks with an affiliate fee.
6. An open gate for endorsements and collaborations with other brands through Shox.
7. Boost organic traffic and sales funnel.

When the project was under the development process, multiple challenges were faced which were resolved using custom solutions, third-party API integrations, using the latest tools and techniques and of Course with the developer's in-depth experience. A few of them were as below:

Whenever a user wants to shop an entire look, it consists of multiple items like clothes, accessories, footwear, handbags, and more. The look created holds the items sourced from multiple sites. So, whenever a user shops the look, it was a bit cumbersome to fetch the details of each product from its relevant site to a single platform. Whenever a user wants to purchase a particular item, they make sure to find the exact or the similar one by uploading the reference image. Highlighting the exact or similar products based on the image was quite demanding and tough.

Fetching details from the search bar and displaying looks based on user preference like hijab, plus size, men's formal, tunic dress were strenuous.

Concetto Labs surpassed the challenges and developed a robust, interactive, and seamless app-backed AI technology and data crawler feature that fetches data from multiple sites and shows results instantly. By implementing filters on fashion styles, users can browse and shop products based on their preferences in a single go.

Let's talk about your project.

Enhance customer satisfaction and streamline operations with our salon app solutions. From appointment scheduling to loyalty programs, our salon app solution caters to the unique needs of salon businesses. Here's what you can expect from our blueprint:

Gather client needs, target audience, and regulatory requirements to define the scope of the Salon app development project accurately and comprehensively.

Our Salon app developers create wireframes and prototypes to visualize Salon app functionality, user flow, and interface design for client feedback

Being the top Salon app development company, our team implement robust backend architecture and frontend components, ensuring scalability, security, and seamless integration of features.

Conduct rigorous testing across devices and platforms to identify and rectify any bugs or issues, ensuring optimal performance.

Deploy the Salon mobile app to relevant app stores, following best practices and guidelines, and ensure a smooth launch.

Concetto Labs offers ongoing support, monitoring, and maintenance services to address any user feedback, updates, or enhancements needed post-launch.
