Rarely does 24/7 convenience actually mean just that â complete access to a service every hour of every day, all year long. In the landscape of vehicle renting, traditional rental companies come to the table with generic promises of providing the ability to rent vehicles when they need one, only for customers to be met with the usual scheduling restrictions and frustrations.

Our customers are not confined by the standard 9â5 business hours and can avoid the mayhem of trying to rent from a corporate location alongside everyone else waiting for their number to be called. Fluid Truckâs technological solution provides businesses and individuals the relief from the headaches of normal vehicle sharing inconveniences. No more lines at counters. No locked hours. No confined lots. Just more freedom and a vehicle that works for you.

Whether youâre a small business scaling up or youâre just tired of traditional rental companies, Fluid Truck continues to advance its technology and approach to make sure our fleet is always serving you 24/7â365. And we mean that.

Fluid Connect Telematics is our proprietary technology that allows individuals and businesses 24/7 mobile access to the vehicles in our fleet. Our team of hardware & software engineers developed a state-of-the-art way Â to integrate our standard vehicles with our mobile application.

Through this connected, easy-to-use system, renters are able to remotely lock and unlock the vehicles using their mobile devices, as well as immobilize a vehicle should it be stolen or suddenly disappear out-of-range. With Fluid Connect Telematics, the accessibility and safety of our vehicles are as intuitive and as powerful as the device in the palm of your hand.

Fluid Connect Telematics unlocks more capabilities than ever before for businesses to feel empowered with whatever they do and whenever they do it.

Fluid Truck serves businesses of all shapes and sizes that operate 24/7 or at odd hours of the day. Reacting to situations quickly and effectively and staying adaptable to the unpredictability of circumstances beyond our control are both important factors in running any business. At Fluid Truck, we aim to minimize the unexpected variables that tend to come along with vehicular logistics, so you can focus on the big picture things. 24/7 Vehicle Access gives you the power of flexibility and reliability.

Looking for a short-term or long-term rental? Need to rent a vehicle today, or reserve one for the future? We offer the ability to rent for one day to 12 months: whatever works for your businesses' schedule or needs.

Work at night? Suddenly need a vehicle outside of the typical 9â5 window? You'll have around-the-clock access to a new or additional vehicle with the features and capabilities of our app-based rental software.

Businesses and individual renters have complete remote, keyless access to their vehicles through a simple click on their phone. Free from the hassle of waiting in line to exchange a physical key that is easy to lose, you can lock and unlock vehicles from our fleet through the mobile app and never again worry about accidentally locking yourself out or mixing up your vehicle keys.

The Fluid Connect Telematics technology is also crucial in improving our anti-theft capabilities. In the unexpected event that you notice a vehicle has not returned or is taken off-hours, your phone is able to monitor and track the vehicle's whereabouts and immobilize the engine when necessary.

Your business relies on our business to provide a reliable and stress-free experience for all involved. Should a vehicle for any reason be put out of commission during your rental experience (which happens to everyone from time to time) the 24/7 ability to rent a new vehicle on the spot will get you back on the road and operating again with little to no time or money lost. Need to scale quickly? It's quick, easy, and secure to add additional vehicles on our mobile app or online.

Fluid Truck continues to seek hardware and software solutions that streamline the vehicle renting process for our customers. Being able to offer true 24/7 access to our services in a way that works for your schedule, while also incorporating another layer of security and peace of mind, is a win-win in our minds.

And we can prove our commitment to accessibility and ease. Go aheadâwherever and whenever you are reading this, see what vehicles are available to you right now by downloading our mobile app or renting from our website.

As a truck rental platform that's trusted by the world's largest delivery companies and thousands of local businesses alike you can rely on Fluid Truck whenever you need a delivery truck rental for your flower shop.

Is your current system for managing delivery vehicles keeping you bogged down?

Scalability is key for any business, and Fluid Truck is built to scale at whatever rate is right for yours. In periods of peak demand, like Valentines Day, your fleet of flower delivery trucks may need to run at full capacity. However, when demand returns back to normal, you don't want to be stuck with the numerous overhead expenses associated with fleet ownership.

Delivery fleet ownership is expensive, with fixed and variable costs including:

There are plenty of other costs involved in vehicle ownership that are harder to quantify. Simply organizing and keeping track of all the paperwork for each of these groups of expenses can take a big chunk out of your productivity. It's also nearly impossible to plan for expenses you're sure to incur on the daily basis, whether it's flat tires, parking tickets or a leaky radiator.

Flower delivery truck rental powered by Fluid Truck eliminates the need to plan around these problems by taking the guesswork out of all aspects of vehicle management. Not only are you able to schedule your rentals in advance and in line with your business's needs, you simply don't need to worry about filling out more paperwork or staying on top of routine maintenance. Once you reserve your flower shop delivery trucks, you're ready to pick them up and start filling orders.

You're a florist because of your expertise at sourcing and selecting the best flowers for your customers. Rely on Fluid Truck to take care of some of the administrative work that goes into running a successful flower delivery business.

Step into a typical brick-and-mortar truck rental business and you will likely be met with lines, forms to fill out and a limited selection of vehicles to choose from.

Most rental agencies aren't built for the constantly fluctuating needs of a small business. Every hour spent in line or on the phone is an hour you could've spent making sales, supporting your staff, and doing what you excel at.

If you need a florist delivery truck, or an entire fleet of them, there are better solutions. Fluid Truck is designed to avoid the most common pitfalls of the standard rental model, enabling not just cost-savings, but truly added value for your company.

No pickup necessary: For long-term rentals, you can even choose to get your vehicles delivered to your business. Talk about a time-saver.

Honestly I've tried them all and this is the best, option there is. Honestly it's sooo seamless. I don't know any other company that would let you rent their trucks for this price or per hour. This is the only company out there that doesn't have a high deposit and is extremely inexpensive. Everything is done via the app all you do is enter your drivers license, and credit card info and you're approved! THATS IT, there's no hidden fees, and they are very transparent about everything. Plus you can contact them at any time and reserve at anytime. They are very communicative and can always talk to a live person. 10/10 recommended!! $89 for a full day rental? 100 miles included? Where else but Fluid?

Thank you so much for the kind review! We hope you continue to trust Fluid Truck as your rental provider in the future :)

I think Fluid Truck is a great idea with (currently) very poor execution. For starters, Fluid truck cancelled one of my reservations two hours prior to the start without cause or warning. When I rebooked with them, they gave me the wrong location to pick up the vehicle. I called customer service, who hung up on me twice while I was trying to troubleshoot the app to open the vehicle. After many apologies from the service rep, we were able to get into truck, but it was already 1.5 hours past the start of the reservation, for context. We were reassured that our reservation would be extended, free of charge. At the time our initial reservation was due to end, we began receiving threatening text messages about Fluid Truck demobilizing our vehicle if we didn't pay to extend our reservation. Horrified, we quickly called customer support, only to be sent to a voicemail. We were scared for our safety while on the road and pulled over as soon as we could. Customer service didn't bother to call us back. We were finally able to log in on the website and extend the reservation, and the promise of a free extension was not honored. We lost so much time, money, and sanity (!!!), thinking that the car could turn off in the middle of the road. They offered me some credits later on, but honestly, I will never use this service again as long as I live, so that wouldn't be helpful. I hope I save someone out there the headache that is Fluid Truck.

If I could give negative stars, I would. If you are in need of a moving truck last minute, this is the last thing you want to waste your time dealing with. From the very start renting the truck is a pain. Initially, you reserve the truck and think that you are good, only to open the app and see a denial, but never receive an email or anything telling you more details. When clicking further on the app, I see it is asking me to submit my ID again, so I did. Only to have the same denial 5 min later. I tried one more time, I guess that time is when it went through but again, the app does not give you any notifications. So it wasn't until I received a text saying to upload photos of the vehicle that I even knew I had a reservation. So of course, I had to reach out and say that I didn't need it because I didn't even receive anything saying I was approved. I was told to log out and back in to see the update and of course now I could but it does me no help. I was told they couldn't cancel the reservation since it was already in progress. But I didn't have any thing nor did I even know so how is it in progress! Avoid avoid avoid! The last thing you need is a bigger headache during a crazy time like moving. Fluid Truck is like the Spirit Airlines of moving truck companies. You get what you pay for

Your business needs a flexible solution that allows you to pay for what you need, when you need itâa solution that can help reduce your costs and increase your efficiency.

There's no way around it, owning delivery trucks and cargo vans is expensive. You don't have time to slow down for fleet care during peak season, and draining your bank account during slow season for maintenance and admin costs is the last thing you want.

Opting to use commercial delivery truck rental over fleet ownership can be an optimal way to scale your delivery fleet. Yet most rental partners drain your resources in other ways, like wasting time at the rental counter and money on hidden fees and costly downtime.

Discover a better way to rent commercial box trucks and cargo vans for your delivery business.

Get what you need, when you need itâ24/7, 365 days a year.â

Rent for a few days while your vehicle is in repair, or your entire peak season to meet demand.

We didn't become a trusted partner by four of the world's largest delivery services by cutting corners. We are dedicated to providing every customer with a service they can count on. Efficiency equals money, and logistical inefficiencies in your business can be detrimental to your earnings.

Try Fluid Truck today to learn why small businesses and international corporations alike trust us with their commercial vehicle needs.

Whether you're just starting out or looking to grow your professional moving business, controlling costs is key. That makes buying expensive equipment on the scale of even a small local mover a risky proposition. Rather than investing precious cash flow into financing and maintaining a fleet of trucks, renting your moving trucks makes for an easy and cost-effective solution.

When you rent the trucks or vans for your moving business rather than own them outright, you can realize significant savings over the typical cost of ownership for these vehicles:

It takes time to really get anywhere with your business plans, so don't let rigid rental contracts prevent you from reaching your full potential. Fluid Truck lets you reserve long-term moving truck rentals, and can even arrange for delivery so you can get your team connected with vehicles wherever they are needed. Just like any rental you make with Fluid Truck, you can change and cancel your reservations with total flexibility, in case plans change or demand shifts.

When clients are depending on you and your moving business, time is of the essence. There's no time to waste standing in line at the dealership, waiting for a truck from a limited selection of vehicles, or filling out paperwork.

With moving truck rentals from Fluid Truck, waiting around for the right truck or van can become a thing of the past.

Your customers expect convenience and high-quality service at a reasonable price - why shouldn't you expect the same from your moving truck rental service? Fluid Truck makes it happen thanks to our custom-built rental platform powered by a community of trusted professionals. You're always in control with help from our productivity tools and tracking services to keep tabs on your drivers, vehicles, routes, and more. Page: Efficiency meets sustainability: How Fluid Truck and Lugg transformed peak season del

This case study explores the collaboration between Fluid Truck's innovative fleet management and Lugg's delivery expertise, setting a new benchmark for efficiency and sustainability in the logistics industry.

Handling seasonal delivery volumes: The holiday season (or peak season for those in the logistics industry) presents a unique challenge for delivery services, with a substantial increase in demand, especially in urban areas. Lugg, a company specializing in efficient delivery services, required a robust solution to manage this spike without compromising service quality.

â

Prioritizing sustainable deliveries: In today's environmentally conscious market, Lugg was committed to finding a delivery model that was both effective and eco-friendly. The partnership with Fluid Truck emerged as a crucial step towards achieving this balance.

â

Using a sustainable truck sharing option to comprise the fleet: Fluid Truck's extensive range of new, efficient cargo vans and large box trucks was instrumental in enhancing Lugg's delivery capabilities, ensuring timely and reliable service during the busy holiday season. Strategically placed vehicles, along with Fluid Truck's helpful app, allowed for optimizations as well.

â

Batching orders for sustainability: Lugg's adoption of an order batching system, particularly for large retailers, showcased a commitment to reducing carbon emissions, aligning perfectly with Fluid Truck's vision of sustainable logistics solutions. By consolidating multiple orders into a single dispatch, deliveries were more efficient.

â

The practical application of Fluid Truck's versatile fleet was evident as Lugg utilized 22 vehicles and drove over 8,500 miles across five key U.S. cities, each choice reflecting the unique requirements of these diverse markets. From cold cities like Chicago and Denver, to the deserts of Phoenix and beaches of San Diego, Luggers made use of Fluid Truck's new, well-equipped vehicles to make all their deliveries on time.

Exceptional operational performance: The strategic deployment of Fluid Truck's fleet enabled Lugg to excel in managing the holiday delivery rush, by facilitating deliveries of over 35,000 packages.

â

Outstanding customer and driver ratings: The partnership achieved impressive ratings â 4.96 from Lugg customers and 4.92 from drivers for Fluid Truck's user-friendly apps and vehicles.

â

Significant reduction in emissions: The innovative approach to order batching and vehicle sharing significantly cut down on trips and emissions. Order batching means fewer trips and fewer vehicles on the road: both ways to steer logistics operations to a greener future.

The 2023 holiday season marked a milestone for Fluid Truck and Lugg. Their combined efforts not only fulfilled the high demands of the season but also adhered to environmental responsibilities, illustrating the potential of strategic collaborations in the logistics sector.

Sustainability focus: Both companies' dedication to sustainability is evident in their operational strategies, even at the busiest time of the year.

Adaptable services: The ability to customize solutions for different markets highlights Lugg's commitment to customer-specific needs.

Fluid Truck's fleet versatility: Essential in addressing Lugg's seasonal delivery challenges.

â

Both Lugg customers and drivers praised the partnership's success: customers were pleased with their goods being delivered on time, and drivers appreciated Fluid Truck's easy-to-use app and premium vehicle offerings.

Weâre committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Fluid Truck performs a comprehensive verification of each potential borrower, including a DMV background check, and address and mobile number verification. Most IDs are approved within just a few minutes, though some statesâ DMVs take a bit longer. To check the current status of your ID verification, go to the Fluid Truck app, select menu, then select âaccountâ, and look under âaccount verificationâ to see your current status. If itâs your first time renting, we recommend booking at least one day in advance to allow enough time for your ID to be processed.Â

âAs the borrower of a vehicle, you are responsible at all times for your conduct and activity during the entire reservation. Please refer to our Terms of Service for additional information. Fluid Truck will hold borrowers responsible for conduct causing or contributing to accidents, injury, or damage, and all borrowers may be required to pay deductibles, fees, and other costs. In the event that the level of damage is less than the deductible charged, Fluid Truck will refund residual amounts charged to your account.

Once you select a category of vehicle, you can choose to search by availability, entering the preferred start and end time for your reservation. Alternatively, you can âshow allâ vehicles within a category and then âcheck availabilityâ. Lenders update the availability of their vehicle directly in the calendar â light blue time slots indicate the vehicle is available, while gray time slots indicate the vehicle is unavailable.

Vehicle rental costs vary depending on the daily, and weekly, and long-term rates set. Prices are listed with the vehicle profile in the app and on the website.

For your first transaction, the deposit is $500. Deposit amounts for future reservations are based on your user rating â for example, if you maintain a high user rating, your deposit amount will decrease or may be waived entirely.

Deposits refunds are initiated 72 hours after the lender has ended the reservation. It can then take 3-7 business days for your bank to process the transaction and post the refund to your account.

It depends on your specific policy. As part of the claim investigation process, Fluid will collect insurance information from you and will work with you and your insurance company to resolve the incident. Fluid Truck, through its contract with you via its Terms & Conditions offers replacement and damage protection up to $50,000, so if the actual cash value of your vehicle is more than $50,000, please reach out to our Customer Care team to learn more about our Enhanced Owner Protection Program.

Vehicles with a gross vehicle weight (GVW) of 26,000 pounds and greater, motorcycles, recreational vehicles, boats, powersports items and vehicles that require a commercial license to operate (âExcluded Vehiclesâ) may be listed with Fluid Truck but are not covered by any Fluid insurance policy and all owners must have a commercial policy that protects the vehicle, owner, and borrower. Fluid Truck is not responsible for claims related to these Excluded Vehicles and the insurance certificate for such Excluded Items prior to listing on the Fluid Truck platform.

Prior to approving your listing, Fluid Truck will collect a picture of your current registration and a vehicle safety report. Failure to provide these documents may result in rejection of your vehicle. Fluid Truck reserves the right to remove any listing at its sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is not an insurance company and does not sell insurance for reservations. Â Fluid Truck provides protection contracts during reservations and allows borrowers and lenders to chose different deductible limits during those reservations.Â During an active reservation, a lenderâs vehicle is protected through Fluidâs third party liability insurance coverage up to $1,000,000. Lenders will pay a $1500 deductible for claims filed against this policy.Â That means that Fluid will pay the damage costs caused during a reservation after you, the lender, have paid your $1500 deductible and provided that all damage and claims against this coverage are reported in accordance with Fluidâs policies.Â Fluid has protection options for commercial borrowers, please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com for additional information.Â

Please note that Fluid does not offer coverage for the following:

â

You may opt-out of Fluid Truck's insurance coverage if you have commercial rental insurance and choose to waive protection under Fluid. Please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com to get additional information related to our lender provided insurance requirements.

Contact the borrower immediately through Fluid Truckâs in-app messaging system to remind them that the vehicle is late, and create a plan for returning the vehicle. Remind the borrower that late fees are 2x the normal rate, and could disrupt upcoming reservations for that vehicle. If the vehicle is not returned after 24 hours, contact us at help@fluidtruck.com. If you have a conflicting reservation for that vehicle, let the next borrower know as soon as possible through the in-app messaging system. Please also reach out to us at help@fluidtruck.com and we can help make alternative arrangements for the borrower.

Fluid Truck's two-way rating system helps ensure the safety and security of our community. Our rating system underpins the trust-based foundation of our community and allows borrowers and lenders to share feedback with our team directly.

Mileage and geographic limitations are set by each lender and vary based on the vehicle. Reach out to the lender to check if there are any geographical limitations as vehicles cannot be taken out of state without their approval.

You must be 21 years or older to borrow a vehicle. For all other items on the platform, you must be at least 18 years of age to borrow.

Borrowers are only allowed to rent one vehicle at a time.

If you are a Fluid Truck for Business user, please send a copy of your business insurance as well as the drivers' licenses for each individual who will be driving a Fluid Truck vehicle, a picture of the front and back of the business credit card, and a letter indicating the names of the individuals authorized to use the credit card on the account to help@fluidtruck.com.

You'll see some vehicle profiles marked with a lightning bolt. If you select an Instabook vehicle, you'll see real-time availability managed directly by Fluid Truck. Instabook vehicle availability is always up to date in our system.

To extend your reservation, go to the reservation manager in the Fluid Truck app, select the day and time you'd like to extend your reservation to, and scroll to the bottom of the page to request the extension. Your request will be automatically processed if the vehicle or item is available over the additional time requested, your extension request will be approved.

Please note:

A one-day rental is any 24 hour period of time.

Most Fluid Truck vehicles are self pick-up to help make your experience as smooth as possible. Once your booking is approved, you will receive an email with pick-up instructions. The pick-up instructions will also be available within the reservation manager in the app.

Once you arrive at your vehicle, you'll be prompted to complete the pick-up inspection within the app.

The pick-up inspection includes taking a series of photos of the inside and outside of the vehicle. Once you complete the pick-up inspection in the app, you can get on the road!

Once your reservation is complete, return the vehicle to the same location where you picked it up. Open up the Fluid Truck app and you will be prompted to take a series of photos documenting the condition of the inside and outside of the vehicle. This helps ensure the integrity of the rental process, as any future claims or charges will be determined based on these photos. Be sure to lock up the vehicle and return the key per the drop off instructions from the lender.

Fluid Truck reservations include the following fees at checkout:

Lenders may charge additional fees, including late charges, fuel charges, additional mileage charges, or cleaning charges. All fees must be clearly stated before the reservation is initiated. See below for examples of fees, and simple ways to avoid them!

Late Charge (2x rate): Return the vehicle or item on time to avoid incurring a late charge, and communicate with the lender frequently via the in-app messaging system.

Fuel Charge: Return the vehicle with the same fuel level as pick-up to avoid incurring this fee. Fuel charges may fluctuate overtime.

Mileage Charge (specified by the lender): Lenders will indicate whether their vehicle comes with unlimited mileage or with a set number of miles per day.

Cleaning Charge (specified by the lender): Return the vehicle as clean â or even cleaner! â then you found it at pick-up to avoid a cleaning charge.

Toll Charge: You will be charged for any tolls you incur during your rental as well as a $2.00 processing fee and a 3.5% transaction fee. It can be charged after the completion of your reservation.

Parking Violation Charge: If you receive a parking violation during your rental, you will receive a bill for the amount of the violation plus an additional $5.00 processing fee.

Itâs easy to avoid incurring additional fees! Just be sure to return the vehicle on time, with the same level of fuel as when you picked it up, clean, and in the same shape as when you picked it up.

If youâre running late, we highly recommend you communicate directly with the lender of the vehicle to help avoid a recurring deposit fee or additional fees. Text the lender via the in-app messaging system and let them know if you are running behind schedule. You can also extend your reservation preemptively to avoid late fees. Once a reservation has ended, youâll have to make a new reservation â we cannot extend a reservation once it's past due.

How can I request a refund? Refund requests must be submitted within 24 hours of the end of your reservation. Please contact help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation number, your full name, and the reason for the refund. Refund requests after 24 hours will not be honored.

• No refunds for early returns will be granted.

Fluid reserves the right to charge any necessary fees, including damage fees, improper return fee, service fee, recovery fee, impound fee, tow fee, parking and toll fees, roadside assistance fee, smoking fine, unauthorized driver fine and cancellation charges.

Instant book allows Fluid Truck lenders to show real time availability of their vehicles, managed directly by Fluid Truck. Vehicles set to Instant book are marked with a lightning bolt in the vehicle profile and show real time availability. Ensuring your vehicle's availability is always up to date in our system through Instabook will help maximize your reservations.

To block dates when you would like to use your vehicle or maintain it, simply go to the calendar section of the app and mark your vehicle as unavailable for your select dates.

You can indicate within the vehicle profile any activities that are off-limits for your vehicle. These instructions will be shared with borrowers both via email and within the app once a reservation is booked. You can also communicate directly with borrowers through our in-app messaging system.

We recommend you craft a detailed vehicle description, including:

Including high quality pictures of the exterior and interior of the vehicle will also help maximize reservations. Lenders have 24 hours to check your vehicle and report any additional issues that may result in extra fees. Please communicate the additional fee(s) with the borrower so there are no surprise charges. To initiate the fees, contact Customer Success at help@fluidtruck.com within 24 hours to request additional charges. In your email, please include details of fees, reservation number, and your full name.

If you receive a ticket or toll following a completed reservation, send it to help@fluidtruck.com along with the reservation ID number. Fluid Truck will review the document(s) and charge the borrower additional fees as necessary.

All refunds must be requested in writing to Fluid Truck within 24 hours of the completion of the reservation.

Please email help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation identification number, borrower's name, and the reason for your refund request. Any refunds requested after 24 hours may not be fulfilled.

Fluid Truck's reservations include the following fees at checkout:

Once a reservation has started neither the lender nor borrower will be able to cancel the transaction. Contact Fluid Truck at help@fluidtruck.com and provide your reservation number, cancellation details, and your full name. We will make sure to process the refund immediately for the borrower. It's also best to communicate with the borrower that you contacted Fluid Truck, so they are aware that you are taking responsibility to reconcile the situation.

In the event that you do not fulfill your reservation with a borrower within the cancellation window permitted by Fluid Truck or if your reservation cannot be completed because of lender responsibility, Fluid Truck will assess a $50 charge to the lender to offset the cost of providing your borrower with a suitable replacement vehicle or other costs. In the event that a vehicle is not at the location you specify or if you fail to show up for a booked reservation, Fluid Truck will assess a $150 charge to offset costs associated with lender's failure to fulfill. All fees are assessed in Fluid Truck's sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Our proprietary vetting platform screens out high risk users to ensure the safety and security of our community. We check each new borrower based on over 80 points of reference, and connect to 51 DMVs in the U.S.

If a vehicle is involved in an accident during a reservation, Fluid Truck recommends that the drivers always call the police. If another vehicle or party is involved in the accident, please collect the name, address, insurance information, and driver's license number of the other driver. In some instances, a police report may be required as part of the claims process. Lenders and borrowers must reach out to our team at help@fluidtruck.com within 24 hours. We will help you get in touch with the borrower and file an incident report with relevant documentation.

Absolutely not. Off platform transactions are prohibited. In the event that Fluid Truck learns that a lender or borrower is involved in an off platform transaction, all insurance coverage or other protections extended by Fluid Truck are void. Fluid Truck also reserves the right to immediately suspend any lender or borrower (which includes removal of all lender's listed items) from the Fluid Truck platform if such conduct is discovered.

The pay-per-use model is a rising business model trend that consumers are flocking to. Find out what it's all about.

Weâve officially entered a new digital world. The digitalisation of products and services has gone into hyperdrive causing huge shifts in customer behaviour. As a result, a growing number of companies are exploring new consumer-focused business models, like âpay-per-useâ.Â Â Â

The subscription model, popularised by D2C brands, has been a favourite among corporations during the last year with companies like Disney, LâOrÃ©al and Comcast all making their way into the arena. Now, a rising trend amongst the D2C offerings is the Product-as-a-Service (PaaS) model, combined with a pay-per-use system. So, whatâs behind the trend?

To help answer that question, letâs take a closer look at how the pay-per-use model works, its benefits and how it can help your business.

Pay-per-use is a payment model in which the customer pays for using the product rather than having to buy it. In other words, the more a customer uses the product the more they pay, and vice versa.

Under the pay-per-use model, the ownership and responsibility of the product/service lie with the company itself, and the customer pays a fee for usage on demand. Many customers prefer this model because they like the idea of paying only for the services they require and use. In many cases, they also end up receiving better service because the manufacturer has a greater interest in providing a product that lasts.

Pay-per-use is not a new thing. Utility companies have been using it for years because it enabled them to track usage. Now, with the rise of IoT, tracking the usage of products has become easier, more accessible and more accurate than ever. This new data flow has made pay-per-use a more viable option for industries that previously didn't have the tech capabilities to gain value from it.

A good example of a company that is successfully implementing pay-per-use is Homie in the Netherlands:

Homie enables users to order a washer, dryer or dishwasher online, get it installed for free and only pay for the usage of each appliance (with a low monthly minimum).

Customers can choose between 'light' or 'heavy' contracts based on their washing habits and switch between the two twice a year. The minimum monthly fee covers any additional costs like maintenance and repair.

Homie's goal is to provide an affordable pay-per-use solution for washing machines and dryers. By providing their customers with insight into their usage, they want to stimulate more energy-efficient washing.

The pay-per-use business model has a lot to offer for both companies and consumers.

The pay-per-use model makes it a lot easier for companies to track usage, giving them a better idea of how customers interact with their product or service. Knowing what customers like and dislike makes it easier for companies to improve, build personalised options and even create new offerings.

Pay-per-use lowers the entry barrier for a lot of customer segments by minimising the entry costs. Having to pay a higher price to buy/rent a machine that you'll hardly use can discourage customers. In contrast, the 'pay as you go' pay-per-use model can convince customers to start using a given product or service.

The user connection with the company becomes more service-focused instead of a one-time-purchase interaction. This makes it less likely for users to switch to competitors. On top of that, the value of the product increases with added perks like installation, maintenance, and support which create more value for the customer.

PPU transfers the risks of ownership and the responsibility of maintaining the product to the company as part of the offering.

The cost of products and services becomes more accessible and transparent to customers because there is no large initial payment required for simple access. Instead, it's a flexible, easy to monitor monthly cost, based on actual usage.

To fully make this model viable, companies are relying on customer loyalty. This means that they're constantly improving their products and services based on customer data.

In order to successfully leverage the benefits of the pay-per-use business model, you need to have access to three critical service pillars:

In addition to having your three pillars in place, you should also consider the following questions:

Once you have the answers, you'll have a much better idea of how the pay-per-use model can benefit your business.

Truck rental for construction companies shouldn't be difficult, time-consuming or financially draining.

Unfortunately, too often it is. Thankfully construction truck rentals don't have to be this way. It's time for a better truck rental experience with Fluid Truck.

Is your current vehicle provider holding you back from growth?

In a highly competitive and seasonal industry like construction, you need to have access to commercial vehicles at a moment's notice. At the same time, you shouldn't have to pay to maintain an entire fleet of trucks when business is slow.

Fluid Truck's unique advantage over traditional rental services: scalability.

Whether your business needs a full fleet without the overhead, or just a few extra vehicles during peak seasons, Fluid Truck for Business provides a flexible solution. In addition to 24/7 access to thousands of vehicles offered through the Fluid Truck App, Business users also enjoy these added benefits:

Fluid Truck is already trusted by four of the world's largest delivery companies, along with even more businesses just like yours, to provide them with the vehicles they need to succeed. If you're looking for a construction company truck rental platform that fits your business needs, try Fluid Truck today.

Demand for construction services is near record-highs. If you're the owner of a construction business, chances are you have very little time to waste and need to conserve cash and resources as much as possible.

Obviously, this is easier said than done. It's even harder when you need the right trucks to move workers, materials and equipment back and forth between jobs. With traditional rental services, it can be difficult to find the right vehicle when you need it. You will likely deal with long wait times at a dealer location, reams of paperwork to manage, and numerous other headaches that drain your business of productivity - not to mention operating cash flow.

Thankfully Fluid Truck is here to shake things up. We created an intuitive construction company truck rental platform to solve the biggest pain-points of most rental agencies.

The construction business is a tough one. Why make it even more difficult by committing to owning a fleet of vehicles that you don't really need?

The costs of ownership for most commercial vehicles can be surprisingly high, and are filled with unexpected expenses that simply aren't feasible for the average construction business. Besides the initial purchase price of the vehicle, ownership entails major costs like:

Over the life of a single truck, these may add up to significant expenses. Multiply these a few times over to account for a small fleet, and the figures could quickly become unmanageable for any business.

Fluid Truck eliminates most of these unpredictable ownership costs, and the added value doesn't end there. Fluid Truck rentals for construction vehicles enable you to access more features to save time and money that most rental services don't offer, including:

Without the costs of ownership or the hassle of brick-and-mortar dealerships, the benefits of Fluid Truck for your construction business are plain to see:

If previous damage isn't documented before the start of a reservation, it is the borrower's responsibility to clearly photograph or note the damage. Borrowers will be charged missing photo fees if they do not complete the inspection

Should a vehicle need repair during your rental period, notify Fluid. Fluid will coordinate the repair using one of our preferred vendors. If you have a preferred vendor for Fluid to consider to be added to its list of preferred vendors, you can submit it to claims@fluidtruck.com but please keep in mind that Fluid will have the final decision as to who will handle our repairs. For safety and liability reasons, all repairs must be approved and managed by Fluid AND performed by a vendor on the Fluid Preferred Vendors list. Please be aware that if you perform a repair to a Fluid vehicle without Fluid's written approval, Fluid will still be required to perform and repeat any repairs. In these instances, you will be billed for the repair to be completed a second time by an authorized vendor. Fluid will assess an unauthorized repair fee to any borrowers who engage in this conduct. Applicable fees are detailed below. Please know, you can easily avoid these fees by reaching out to claims@fluidtruck.com so we can handle the repair process.

Additional instances of unauthorized repair may result in suspension or deactivation of your Fluid account.

Timing of Repairs Fluid will work with you on the timing of repairs. Ultimately, it is Fluid's decision on when and where to repair any vehicle.

When you registered your account with Fluid, you agreed to the Fluid Terms and Conditions. This includes the requirement to keep a credit card on file so that Fluid cannot only bill you for reservations but also collect additional amounts due from your reservation. By using Fluid vehicles, you are authorizing Fluid to charge your card for fees and damages. Borrowers can dispute damage charges for up to 14 days after Fluid's notice of damage/payment charge. Fluid requires you to communicate and respond to emails related to claims, reservations and damages. Fluid will charge the payment card on file for any damage unless otherwise agreed by the parties. Fluid may assign any uncollectible amounts to a collection agency and will assess any collections charges to you. Fluid may collect funds from you in lump sum or incremental payment amounts. You must have a payment card on file to have a Fluid user account. If payments are declined, Fluid may suspend or deactivate your Fluid account which may include termination of any active reservations and immediate recovery of vehicles.

Fluid is an online platform or marketplace that allows Users to advertise, offer and rent just about anything in a variety of pricing formats and locations. Fluid does not own or manage any property listed through the Services. Fluid is not a party to any rental or other agreement between Users. The actual contract is between the borrower and lender. Unless otherwise provided, Fluid's responsibilities are limited to enabling the Services and serving as a limited agent (and limited power of attorney for insurance purposes) for Users listing items available for renting ("Rental") for the purpose of accepting payments from Users borrowing the Lender's items ("Borrower"). While Fluid may provide pricing, rental, delivery, shipping, listing and other guidance in our Services, such guidance is solely for information purposes only and you may decide to follow it or not. Also, while we may help facilitate the resolution of disputes through our Services, Fluid has no control over and does not guarantee the existence, quality, safety or legality of items advertised and offered; the truth or accuracy of User's content or listings; the ability of Users to rent items; the ability of Users to pay for items; the ability of Users to use an item; the existence of User insurance coverage; or that a User will actually complete a rental or transaction or return an item.

Usage. In connection with using or accessing the Services, you will not:

Listings. If you have an item that you would like to rent with Fluid's Users, you may create a listing through the Service. Once a Borrower accepts your listing and confirms a rental, you have officially created a transaction (Transaction) through Fluid. When listing an item, you agree that:

Items. You may list any item that is not a Prohibited Item, as defined below. Fluid may remove items or listings at any time. Although Fluid can determine an item is prohibited at any time, currently, prohibited Items include:

Rental Agreement. We ask that you return an item just like OR BETTER than you received it. Fluid is a community and we hope that you will engage in a Transaction with respect for your fellow Users. If you confirm a Transaction, you are responsible for completing all of the requirements necessary for the Transaction, including payment. By confirming a Transaction, you agree that you have:

Lenders may choose to include security deposits in their listing ("Security Deposit"). Each listing will specify if a Security Deposit is required. Any disputes must be handled directly between the Borrower and the Lender. Lenders can use the Security Deposit to pay any amounts owed for a reservation under these Terms. Fluid will use its reasonable efforts to assist in a dispute between a Lender and Borrower related to a Security Deposit but Fluid is not responsible for administering or accepting any claims by Users related to Security Deposits and disclaims any and all liability in this regard. In some instances, a Security Deposit may be a pre-authorization for a specified amount on your Card, as defined below.

Users may post reviews, comments, photos, videos, and other content; send e-cards and other communications; and submit suggestions, ideas, comments, questions, or other information, so long as the content is not illegal, obscene, threatening, defamatory, invasive of privacy, infringing of intellectual property rights (including publicity rights), or otherwise injurious to third parties or objectionable, and does not consist of or contain software viruses, political campaigning, commercial solicitation, chain letters, mass mailings, or any form of "spam" or unsolicited commercial electronic messages. You may not use a false e-mail address, impersonate any person or entity, or otherwise mislead as to the origin of a card or other content. Fluid reserves the right (but not the obligation) to remove or edit such content, but does not regularly review posted content.

Unless otherwise provided in these Terms, Fluid does not provide liability insurance protection for Users. In the event that Fluid elects to provide insurance coverage for an Item, both Borrower and Lender must participate in and complete the Fluid claims process. Fluid must be notified of all claims within 72 hours of occurrence. Fluid reserves the right to deny any claims that are not timed within the 72 hour claim period. In addition, Fluid reserves the right to disallow coverage for any claims filed if the Users fail to provide Fluid with any information necessary or required to process any claim. In the event that Fluid does not affirmatively state in writing that it is providing coverage for a reservation, Users are solely responsible for obtaining insurance coverage sufficient to protect their items. In some instances, Users have the right to deny Fluid insurance coverage. In the event that Fluid denies coverage, does not provide coverage or User declines coverage, Users agree that they have or will obtain the appropriate insurance coverage sufficient to cover the items they list or borrow through the Services and will maintain adequate insurance coverage through the return of the item to the owner. Further, Users agree to provide us with copies of relevant proof of insurance upon request.

Vehicles rented on Fluid shall not be used:

Fluid's Fees. Fluid will charge a sharing fee ("Fluid Fee") payable by Borrowers who book an item through the Services. The Fluid Fee is deducted from the Transaction Fees from the item before remitting the balance to the Lender. The Fluid Fee covers the use of the Services and platform, insurance costs and credit card processing and is calculated as a percentage of the total Transaction amount. The current percentage used is 20%. Taxes may be charged in addition to the Fluid fee, if applicable. The Fluid Fee is charged when you confirm your Transaction and is nonrefundable. Even if you cancel your Transaction, you will not receive a refund for the Fluid Fee.

Refund. If you are a Borrower and encounter a Material Issue with an item, as defined below, Fluid may take the following actions, as determined by Fluid in its sole discretion. All determinations with respect to refunds shall be final and binding on the applicable Lender and Borrower.

Material Issue. "Material Issue" may mean:

Cancellations.

Page: When is the 2024 Peak Moving Season?

Peak moving season occurs in the summer, with 80% of all moves in the United States occurring between April and September. Why is summer the busiest time of year to move? While there are several reasons, the main factor is that kids are off from school. When school is out movers are typically in high demand.

Certainly not the summer. You can save money and reduce your moving related stress if you relocate in non-peak months, which is typically October through March. If you absolutely have to move during peak season then the best time to hire movers is going to be at the very beginning or very end of moving season. Scheduling your movers for early to mid April or in September after Labor Day is a great way to accomplish this.

The best approach when moving during the summer is to book your moving help as far in advance as possible, preferably months in advance. It's important to be aware that all dates, even most weekdays, will be in high demand during this time. You'll find yourself at an advantage if you schedule your movers for the days that are slightly less in demand.

Here are the best peak season moving tips to help make your summer move as successful as possible:

The heat map calendar below shows how much demand is expected for moving companies on each day of the 2024 peak moving season.

Page: How Fluid Truck's pay-as-you-go feature works for you | Fluid Truck

Buying big-ticket items such as vehicles is an exciting venture for your business, but not always for your wallet. The beauty of Fluid Truck is that it offers tailored flexibility for you and your business. Rent what you need, exactly when you need it, for just a day or even a year. Fluid Truck is committed to presenting opportunities for businesses big and small to get their hands on the vehicles they need without stressing over the costs of ownership.

Renting a vehicle with Fluid Truck allows businesses to avoid the overhead costs of owning a vehicle, but did you know that we also offer flexibility in our payment options? Maybe you're looking into expanding into a newer area and need more vehicles, but you can not afford to drop thousands of dollars upfront. Or perhaps you need a vehicle for an extended amount of time, but can't afford to pay for a year's worth of rental costs right away.

Avoid the roadblocks of traditional renting when you choose to rent with Fluid Truck by using our pay-as-you-go (PAYG) option, a unique feature in our platform that allows us to offer financial flexibility to our customers. With PAYG, you can scale your business on your own terms without the financial strain.

Similar to payment options like Afterpay, Klarna, and others, pay-as-you-go grants your business the flexibility to pay in weekly installments on long-term rentals and automatically extends monthly reservations. Never worry about paying large sums upfront or your vehicle being rented out from under you. Instead, make simple weekly credit card payments to help secure your rental fleet long-term.

Being a small or medium-sized business comes with its growing pains as you begin to scale. Investments and large purchases do not come without long deliberation, and we understand that every penny is important. Renting with Fluid Truck provides your business with the financial freedom to scale on your own terms. Rest assured knowing that your rental is secured and your payment is spread out into more manageable payments. Instead of dropping $2k on a truck upfront, pay close to $300/week for the next six weeks. This is also a benefit for long-term rentals as you are not expected to pay the total that comes with a 12-month rental. Instead, pay-as-you-go, and as your business grows, too.

Website: www.fluidtruck.com

With Fluid Truck, you're not just paying for a rental truck. Gain access to our top fleet tech without the hefty price tag. Our vehicles are installed with telematics, which allow you to manage your rental straight from your phone. Not only can you rent a truck at any time, you can also manage your truck at any time - all with the peace of mind that your rental is secured and your payment manageable.

If you haven't already done so, upload your Certificate of Insurance (COI) and add your bank account or credit card information as a payment method to your business account. Then follow the steps below to add your payment method information.

How to activate Pay-As-You-Go on today's extension.

*Early terminations are subject to a fee of up to 15 percent. PAYG only applies to active or new business accounts. Personal accounts do not have access to PAYG.

Page: Building business longevity: How renting vehicles long-term frees up resources | Fluid Truck

According to the Small Business Administration (SBA), 2 out of 3 businesses with employees will survive 2 years while about 50% will survive 5 years. And finally, after those first few cycles of ups and downs, the chances of survival flatten out as a company finally finds its footing on a solid foundation.

But how do you make it through those early years? How can you keep your business from becoming another statistic? It's important to create strategies that build sustainability into your business from the start, allowing for flexibility and scalability.

One of the best ways to do that, especially for small businesses, is through long-term vehicle rentals.

Here's how renting your business vehicles long-term could set your company up for years of success by saving valuable resources and giving you the ability to adapt, scale, innovate, and thrive in the midst of an increasingly dynamic and competitive business environment.

Money, minutes, and manpower, otherwise known as the 3 main resources every business owner needs to know how to manage properly at any level of growth. For companies that do a lot of delivery or transportation, vehicles can eat a big chunk out of all these areas.

That's where long-term business vehicle leasing comes in handy!

A long-term rental also generates a little extra peace of mind for fleet managers. You can rest assured knowing that the vehicles you need to get the job done will be locked down for you every day. No more worrying whether or not you remembered to renew your short-term rental for a few more weeks to cover the rest of your peak season.

Commercial vehicles can be a huge investment. Beyond the initial purchase price, there are plenty of other long-term factors to consider like repairs and regular maintenance to keep vehicles functioning at their maximum capacities.

Over time, even the most routine maintenance costs like oil changes and tire upgrades can eat into your budget and your employees' valuable time. Not to mention, the prolonged stress, especially on a smaller fleet of vehicles, may have you investing in entirely new models after just a few years.

Commercial vehicle rentals of any length can help you avoid those extra costs by taking the stress of maintenance out of your hands. When you partner with Fluid Truck, we work alongside you to perform maintenance on your rented vehicles for you so you have more time to focus on what matters most: building your business.

Nearly every industry experiences some level of ebb and flow in demand. Caterers might experience their peak season in summer while delivery services witness a spike in late fall and winter. For that reason, scalability is essential to a growing business in any industry.

The timeline of growth for your company factors into scalability as well. At the start you may only need a simple cargo van rental to meet the needs of your customers. As your client pool expands, however, you may eventually want to upgrade to more long-term truck rentals in the future.

Long-term vehicle rentals give you the opportunity to build and scale your fleet gradually. At Fluid Truck, we work with our long-term rental partners to provide data and metrics about their vehicle usage that can inform their fleet management decisions as they continue to grow and learn to navigate changes in their unique commercial environment.

Fluid Truck's long-term rental telematics help fleet managers to:

Short term vehicle rentals can be a great solution in a pinch, especially when you need to meet last minute orders (and don't worry, Fluid Truck is great for shorter-term rentals too!)

But for business owners looking to create an enduring, resilient fleet of vehicles that will continue to grow alongside and support their company well into the future, renting long-term is a great place to start.

To learn more about how you can rent long-term with some of the most flexible rental options on the market, download the Fluid Truck app or contact our experts today and let us help you build lasting sustainability into your fleet.

Page: Flexible rentals: A lifeline for small businesses | Fluid Truck

From sudden vehicle breakdowns to last-minute demand increases, small businesses encounter unique and often unexpected challenges that require flexibility and careful maneuvering every day.Â

Without access to a ready supply of reliable vehicles, these situations can quickly become detrimental to a business's growth, reputation, and bottom line.

Fluid Truck provides the creative solutions small businesses need to overcome these obstacles. Our round-the-clock service provides convenient access to a vast array of ready-to-use vehicles across the country.

Discover how Fluid Truck's adaptable rental options can help propel your business to new heights.

For small businesses that rely on a handful of vehicles to carry out deliveries, losing one vehicle in the fleet can be a major bump in the road. The last thing you want is to have to cancel or delay orders while you scramble to purchase or lease a replacement vehicle. Not to mention, the cost of a new vehicle or a rental agreement on top of maintenance for your broken down vehicle can easily blow through your budget for several months.

Find a replacement vehicle ASAP by hopping onto the Fluid Truck app. Whether you need a replacement box truck, cargo van, or pickup, our wide range of makes and models will cater to the size and scale of your fleet. With flexible rental agreements, you can rent any vehicle for as long as necessary while you wait for the repairs on your owned vehicle to finish.

If you are a long-term renter and one of our fleet vehicles malfunctions, we will handle the repairs and maintenance for you so your business can keep going at full speed.

It's not uncommon for small businesses to experience a sudden influx of orders or deliveries all at once, especially during their peak season. For example, florists or caterers often book extra-large events like weddings that might extend beyond the capabilities of their current fleet. In times like these, you may find yourself faced with a tough decision: find a way to scale up your fleet fast or turn down a massive order.

When small businesses partner with Fluid Truck, they will never have to turn away their biggest customers. Fluid Truck's flexible rental agreements allow you to obtain as many extra vehicles as you need right away, even during holidays.Â

Our short-term rentals are especially useful for small businesses who are not yet looking to scale up the size of their fleet permanently. Rent one of our vehicles to carry out your extra jobs and return it when finished with no long-term contracts binding you.

As you grow your business, you will encounter unique situations where a little extra flexibility can save the day. In these often time-sensitive or emergency cases that demand immediate access to a vehicle, you simply do not have the time to wait out the traditional procurement process for most rental agreements.Â

Are you relocating to a new space and find yourself short-handed on moving day? Are you trying to transport weather-sensitive goods or equipment but the rain won't let up? Or perhaps a client scheduled a last-minute delivery or service call when all your vehicles were already deployed? Finding a way to meet that demand swiftly could secure you a lifelong customer.

Fluid Truck places reliable, timely solutions to your most urgent situations right at your fingertips. Snag an extra box truck for your move, a cargo van to safely transport your sensitive goods, or an extra pickup to head out to a last-minute service call. Our fleet of fully prepared vehicles operates 24/7 so your business never has to take a rain delay.

Most small business owners don't want to confine their business to a singular location. They may frequently branch out to other areas or find themselves in need of specific types of vehicles to carry out certain jobs.Â

Traditional rental companies typically maintain a centralized hub for their fleets, meaning they cannot distribute vehicles outside of a confined area. This can be a major headache for businesses that require immediate access to vehicles in areas where the supply is limited.

For instance, a small last-mile delivery company may decide to begin accepting jobs in a wider radius from their central location. Relying on centralized rental companies to fulfill extended demands for vehicles could result in delays as drivers must depart from the central area instead of a spot closer to the new locations.

Fluid Truck addresses this issue by offering a distributed fleet. Our vehicles are available for pickup all over the place, not just at one central location. This added layer of flexibility and security gives small businesses the freedom to venture out into new areas confidently, backed by the knowledge that they can obtain the vehicles they need from a variety of locations.

Small businesses that require mobility and adaptability in their operations can use Fluid Truck to reduce the barriers and issues that often restrict their reliable access to vehicles, enabling them to support their own efficiency and success as they grow.

Whether your business needs a full fleet without the overhead, or just a few extra vehicles during peak seasons - Fluid Truck for Business provides a flexible solution. In addition to 24/7, 365 day access to thousands of vehicles offered through the Fluid Truck Platform - Business users also enjoy these added benefits:

Fluid Truck is the delivery truck rental solution you need to make those customers happy and make sure they keep ordering from you week after week. Give Fluid Truck a try to find out how delivery truck rental can work for your food and grocery business.

Grocery delivery has traditionally been a niche service or special offering that grocers could provide for the small number of customers who would pay for it. But with the unstoppable growth of e-commerce over the last few years, it was only a matter of time before food and grocery stores would be expected to join the on-demand delivery craze.

The e-commerce revolution has dramatically altered numerous industries. Now you can add food and grocery to that growing list. Customers now expect the same high quality products and expansive selection from their local grocery store, but with the added ability to order all of that right to their doorstep. Practically anyone in the business of selling food - including restaurants, wholesalers and even convenience stores - now offers a delivery option.

Few expected this change to come so suddenly, as it did in 2020 with the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Overnight, the demands of the average grocery store customer shifted to make delivery an absolute priority. This gave some businesses an advantage, but only if they had access to the delivery vehicles and drivers to get orders out the door.

Is your food and grocery business set up to adapt to this new challenge?

Relying on a traditional delivery truck rental service or dealer wouldn't be a feasible solution for most businesses. Why?

Fluid Truck solves these common delivery van rental problems through multiple innovations:

Your customers are demanding speedy, reliable delivery options for their food and grocery orders. You have options too when it comes to building out a fleet of delivery vehicles, and every cost you can eliminate will make a huge difference to your bottom line.

Owning even a modest fleet of delivery trucks or vans is an expensive proposition. Fortunately, Fluid Truck gives you the tools - and the trucks - to eliminate the high costs of vehicle ownership by renting instead. That unlocks major savings on a variety of typical vehicle costs, including:

You aren't missing out on any of those necessary services with your Fluid Truck rental, either. Included with every rental, you still get:

Fluid Truck's business tools are essential for businesses utilizing Fluid Truck's expansive fleet of vehicles. But you're missing a ton of opportunities if your drivers don't have their own accounts! Here are five reasons why driver accounts are one of the best features of Fluid Truck.

In your business, every minute of time saved counts. When drivers have their own Fluid Truck account under your business, app access is much quicker. They will stay signed in, so logging in to pick up or drop off a vehicle is as simple as opening the app.

Commercial vehicles are expensive. Whether you own or lease your business fleet, utilizing vehicles as a business asset can come with major overhead costs.

At Fluid Truck we have developed tracking to monitor the usage of your vehicles before, during and after each trip. With our in-app inspection process during pick-up, your drivers will be required to take pictures on the exterior and interior of the vehicle, allowing you to see the condition of the vehicle before the trip. Upon completion, your drivers will complete the drop-off process taking pictures of the same areas - allowing you to compare and contrast the photos before and after the route. Filing the pictures allows you to pinpoint exactly when damage may have taken place, on which trip, and who should be held responsible for any damage.

Should you ever have to file a claim with your insurance company down the road, you'll have all of the documentation you need to pinpoint any issues.

In addition, after the trip has been completed, you can go back into your account and view a detailed map of your driver's route, how many hard turns, over acceleration and unnecessary hard braking - allowing you to address any bad driving habits that may be causing unnecessary wear and tear on your vehicles.

Fluid Truck makes it simple to match drivers with your vehicle reservations, and even schedule multiple drivers to one vehicle on different shifts. All you need to do is set up a business account, and invite drivers to join your team. You'll manage reservations, insurance, payments, and access - so all they need to do is upload their driver's license and follow the instructions to pick up their assigned vehicle during the times you grant them access. This way, you can keep your finger on the pulse of your fleet operations from anywhere.

To learn more, watch this quick video to see just how easy it is to add a driver account to your business.

Have multiple vehicles on the road at the same time? It can be a logistical nightmare to keep everything straight - but Fluid Truck has your back! When each of your drivers has a driver account associated with your Fluid Truck Business account, you'll be able to monitor vehicle check-outs by driver, live route progress, and driving habits from your computer or mobile device. Not to mention, you have the ability to remotely manage vehicle access, review vehicle conditions at pick up and drop off, and demobilize your vehicle in the event of unauthorized use.

Want to get your drivers excited about safe driving practices? We do too, which is why we offer cash rewards to safe drivers using our rental service.Â

When drivers sign up for Fluid Truck's Safe Driver Cup, their driving stats are automatically tracked and ranked against every other driver on the app. This means your drivers are encouraged to take it easy on the brakes and around corners, and to not accelerate too quickly. Plus, in addition to your employees staying safe, your cargo is more likely to make it to its final destination on-time and undamaged by avoiding accidents and major shifting from aggressive driving habits. At the end of the day, your team will appreciate your commitment to their safety and well-being through rewarding behavior rather than reprimanding reckless driving. And we can't leave out the perk that better driving habits can help bring down your fuel costs and insurance rates over time, giving you peace of mind each time your drivers take out a Fluid Truck. Fluid Truck's number one priority is to ensure a safe and secure rental experience for our borrowers. We have the right to decline your reservation request because of your driving record, age requirement, license, and any other reason. If we denied your request to book with Fluid Truck, we cannot disclose the specific reason why your account is not eligible as we do not share any details of our screening process to anyone to ensure our safety measures remain effective.

Weâre committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Fluid Truck performs a comprehensive verification of each potential borrower, including a DMV background check, and address and mobile number verification. Most IDs are approved within just a few minutes, though some statesâ DMVs take a bit longer. To check the current status of your ID verification, go to the Fluid Truck app, select menu, then select âaccountâ, and look under âaccount verificationâ to see your current status. If itâs your first time renting, we recommend booking at least one day in advance to allow enough time for your ID to be processed.Â

âAs the borrower of a vehicle, you are responsible at all times for your conduct and activity during the entire reservation. Please refer to our Terms of Service for additional information. Fluid Truck will hold borrowers responsible for conduct causing or contributing to accidents, injury, or damage, and all borrowers may be required to pay deductibles, fees, and other costs. Additionally, Fluid Truck may charge your card on file at the onset of any claim to satisfy any deductibles. In the event that the level of damage is less than the deductible charged, Fluid Truck will refund residual amounts charged to your account.

Once you select a category of vehicle, you can choose to search by availability, entering the preferred start and end time for your reservation. Alternatively, you can âshow allâ vehicles within a category and then âcheck availabilityâ. Lenders update the availability of their vehicle directly in the calendar â light blue time slots indicate the vehicle is available, while gray time slots indicate the vehicle is unavailable.

Vehicle rental costs vary depending on the daily, and weekly, and long-term rates set. Prices are listed with the vehicle profile in the app and on the website.

For your first transaction, the deposit is $500. Deposit amounts for future reservations are based on your user rating â for example, if you maintain a high user rating, your deposit amount will decrease or may be waived entirely.

Deposits refunds are initiated 72 hours after the lender has ended the reservation. It can then take 3-7 business days for your bank to process the transaction and post the refund to your account.

It depends on your specific policy. As part of the claim investigation process, Fluid will collect insurance information from you and will work with you and your insurance company to resolve the incident. If you have no coverage and you damage a vehicle, Fluid may charge you for costs up to the value of the vehicle plus additional fees, costs and claims related damages.

If you need to request roadside assistance for one of the vehicles you've have rented, please call customer service: (888) 233-8573

â

Fluid's Roadside Team is in charge of assigning a provider to the request. The total cost of the roadside service will initially be paid by Fluid. Fluid will investigate the service and claim related to the roadside service to determine responsibility. If Fluid determines that the borrower is responsible for the claim, Fluid will seek to collect the roadside charges from the borrower.

We aim to ensure all lender's vehicles are in place at the time of reservation and meet the description and specifications. Please email help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation identification number, details of what occurred, and your full name. Our team will initiate a refund immediately and make things right for you.

Fluid pays you via direct deposit.

Lenders will be paid within five days following a completed reservation. It can take 3-7 business days for your bank to process the transaction and post the money to your account. To receive payment for your reservations, enter a debit card into the payment section of the app.

Lenders can charge additional fees before closing out a reservation. Lenders must clearly disclose each additional fee associated with their vehicle prior to booking a reservation. The most common additional fees lenders charge are for fuel, mileage, smoking, and late returns. As a courtesy, we recommend that lenders message the borrower from within the app with additional fees prior to charging them. You will receive payment of any additional fees charged at the same time you receive payment for the base cost of the reservation. In the event that a borrower disputes any additional charges, Fluid Truck will investigate the charges to determine if they were a fair rate and assessment. In the event that Fluid Truck finds, in its sole discretion, that a lender charged a borrower inappropriately, untimely or without substantiation, Fluid Truck reserves the right to refund the borrower and assess the refund back to the lender. If Fluid reverses lender assessed charges, Fluid Truck will also collect a $25 fee for administrative expenses.

Vehicles listed on Fluid Truck can be 10 years old or newer, up to 100,000 miles, in good or excellent condition, comply with all legal, safety and mechanical standards, and be registered in the United States (vehicles registered in NY state are not permitted to be listed on the Fluid platform at this time).

Vehicles with a gross vehicle weight (GVW) of 26,000 pounds and greater, motorcycles, recreational vehicles, boats, powersports items and vehicles that require a commercial license to operate (âExcluded Vehiclesâ) may be listed with Fluid Truck but are not covered by any Fluid insurance policy and all owners must have a commercial policy that protects the vehicle, owner, and borrower. prior to listing on the Fluid Truck platform.

Prior to approving your listing, Fluid Truck will collect a picture of your current registration and a vehicle safety report. Failure to provide these documents may result in rejection of your vehicle. Fluid Truck reserves the right to remove any listing at its sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is not an insurance company and does not sell insurance for reservations. Â Fluid Truck provides protection contracts during reservations and allows borrowers and lenders to chose different deductible limits during those reservations.Â During an active reservation, a lenderâs vehicle is protected through Fluidâs third party liability insurance coverage up to $1,000,000. Lenders will pay a $1500 deductible for claims filed against this policy.Â That means that Fluid will pay the damage costs caused during a reservation after you, the lender, have paid your $1500 deductible and provided that all damage and claims against this coverage are reported in accordance with Fluidâs policies.Â Fluid has protection options for commercial borrowers, please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com for additional information.Â

Please note that Fluid does not offer coverage for the following:

You may opt-out of Fluid Truck's insurance coverage if you have commercial rental insurance and choose to waive protection under Fluid. Please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com to get additional information related to our lender provided insurance requirements.

Contact the borrower immediately through Fluid Truckâs in-app messaging system to remind them that the vehicle is late, and create a plan for returning the vehicle. Fluid Truck reservations include the following fees at checkout:

Lenders may charge additional fees, including late charges, fuel charges, additional mileage charges, or cleaning charges. All fees must be clearly stated before the reservation is initiated. See below for examples of fees, and simple ways to avoid them!

Late Charge (2x rate): Return the vehicle or item on time to avoid incurring a late charge, and communicate with the lender frequently via the in-app messaging system.

Fuel Charge: Return the vehicle with the same fuel level as pick-up to avoid incurring this fee. Fuel charges may fluctuate overtime.

Mileage Charge (specified by the lender): Lenders will indicate whether their vehicle comes with unlimited mileage or with a set number of miles per day.

Cleaning Charge (specified by the lender): Return the vehicle as clean â or even cleaner! â then you found it at pick-up to avoid a cleaning charge.

Toll Charge: You will be charged for any tolls you incur during your rental as well as a $2.00 processing fee and a 3.5% transaction fee. It can be charged after the completion of your reservation.

Parking Violation Charge: If you receive a parking violation during your rental, you will receive a bill for the amount of the violation plus an additional $5.00 processing fee.

Itâs easy to avoid incurring additional fees! Just be sure to return the vehicle on time, with the same level of fuel as when you picked it up, clean, and in the same shape as when you picked it up.

If youâre running late, we highly recommend you communicate directly with the lender of the vehicle to help avoid a recurring deposit fee or additional fees. Text the lender via the in-app messaging system and let them know if you are running behind schedule. You can also extend your reservation preemptively to avoid late fees. Once a reservation has ended, youâll have to make a new reservation â we cannot extend a reservation once it's past due.

In the event that a vehicle is not at the location you specify or if you fail to show up for a booked reservation, Fluid Truck will assess a $150 charge to offset costs associated with lender's failure to fulfill. All fees are assessed in Fluid Truck's sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Our proprietary vetting platform screens out high risk users to ensure the safety and security of our community. We check each new borrower based on over 80 points of reference, and connect to 51 DMVs in the U.S.

If a vehicle is involved in an accident during a reservation, Fluid Truck recommends that the drivers always call the police. If another vehicle or party is involved in the accident, please collect the name, address, insurance information, and driver's license number of the other driver. In some instances, a police report may be required as part of the claims process. Lenders and borrowers must reach out to our team at help@fluidtruck.com within 24 hours. We will help you get in touch with the borrower and file an incident report with relevant documentation.

Absolutely not. Off platform transactions are prohibited. In the event that Fluid Truck learns that a lender or borrower is involved in an off platform transaction, all insurance coverage or other protections extended by Fluid Truck are void. Fluid Truck also reserves the right to immediately suspend any lender or borrower (which includes removal of all lender's listed items) from the Fluid Truck platform if such conduct is discovered.

Fluid Truck's two-way rating system helps ensure the safety and security of our community. At the end of the reservation, both the borrower and lender are prompted to review the reservation with 1 to 5 stars and adding any other details. Our rating system underpins the trust-based foundation of our community and allows borrowers and lenders to share feedback with our team directly.

Fluid Truck is a peer-to-peer truck share marketplace, where neighbors can easily find and rent the vehicle they need to get their job done. Download Fluid Truck on the App Store and Google Play.

Fluid Truck cuts through the hassle and expense of renting a vehicle through a traditional brick-and-mortar store. Find the vehicle you need nearby in just a few clicks on the Fluid Truck app.

â

Fluid Truck's peer-to-peer truck sharing app helps bring together communities and drive sustainability, by connecting neighbors to share vehicles (without any of the awkwardness of asking your neighbor for some cash).

â

As we like to say, #TruckYEAH.

Our inventory includes box trucks, cargo vans, and pickup trucks to help you move to a new apartment or house, transport an oversized purchase, or launch your latest side hustle. You'll also find cars, SUVs, scooters, trailers, and campers.

In some cases, Fluid Truck may ask for additional information to verify your identity, such as:

Fluid Truck's number one priority is to ensure a safe and secure rental experience for our borrowers. We have the right to decline your reservation request because of your driving record, age requirement, license, and any other reason. If we denied your request to book with Fluid Truck, we cannot disclose the specific reason why your account is not eligible as we do not share any details of our screening process to anyone to ensure our safety measures remain effective.

We are committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Fluid Truck performs a comprehensive verification of each potential borrower, including a DMV background check, and address and mobile number verification. Most IDs are approved within just a few minutes, though some states' DMVs take a bit longer. To check the current status of your ID verification, go to the Fluid Truck app, select menu, then select "account", and look under "account verification" to see your current status. If it's your first time renting, we recommend booking at least one day in advance to allow enough time for your ID to be processed.

As the borrower of a vehicle, you are responsible at all times for your conduct and activity during the entire reservation. Please refer to our Terms of Service for additional information. Fluid Truck will hold borrowers responsible for conduct causing or contributing to accidents, injury, or damage, and all borrowers may be required to pay deductibles, fees, and other costs. Additionally, Fluid Truck may charge your card on file at the onset of any claim to satisfy any deductibles. In the event that the level of damage is less than the deductible charged, Fluid Truck will refund residual amounts charged to your account.

Once you select a category of vehicle, you can choose to search by availability, entering the preferred start and end time for your reservation. Alternatively, you can "show all" vehicles within a category and then check availability. Lenders update the availability of their vehicle directly in the calendar. Light blue time slots indicate the vehicle is available, while gray time slots indicate the vehicle is unavailable.

Vehicle rental costs vary depending on the daily, and weekly, and long-term rates set. Prices are listed with the vehicle profile in the app and on the website.

For your first transaction, the deposit is $500. Deposit amounts for future reservations are based on your user rating. For example, if you maintain a high user rating, your deposit amount will decrease or may be waived entirely.

Deposits refunds are initiated 72 hours after the lender has ended the reservation. It can then take 3-7 business days for your bank to process the transaction and post the refund to your account.

It depends on your specific policy. As part of the claim investigation process, Fluid will collect insurance information from you and will work with you and your insurance company to resolve the incident. If you have no coverage and you damage a vehicle, Fluid may charge you for costs up to the value of the vehicle plus additional fees, costs and claims related damages.

If you need to request roadside assistance for one of the vehicles you have rented, please call customer service: (888) 233-8573

Fluid's Roadside Team is in charge of assigning a provider to the request. The total cost of the roadside service will initially be paid by Fluid. Fluid will investigate the service and claim related to the roadside service to determine responsibility. If Fluid determines that the borrower is responsible for the claim, Fluid will seek to collect the roadside charges from the borrower.

We aim to ensure all lender's vehicles are in place at the time of reservation and meet the description and specifications. Please email help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation identification number, details of what occurred, and your full name. Our team will initiate a refund immediately and make things right for you.

You can reach out to the lender directly via the in-app messaging feature in the Fluid Truck app with any questions or concerns. If you need additional assistance, reach out to our team at help@fluidtruck.com.

Fluid pays you via direct deposit.

Lenders will be paid within five days following a completed reservation. It can take 3-7 business days for your bank to process the transaction and post the money to your account. To receive payment for your reservations, enter a debit card into the payment section of the app.

Lenders can charge additional fees before closing out a reservation. Lenders must clearly disclose each additional fee associated with their vehicle prior to booking a reservation. The most common additional fees lenders charge are for fuel, mileage, smoking, and late returns. As a courtesy, we recommend that lenders message the borrower from within the app with additional fees prior to charging them. You will receive payment of any additional fees charged at the same time you receive payment for the base cost of the reservation. In the event that a borrower disputes any additional charges, Fluid Truck will investigate the charges to determine if they were a fair rate and assessment. In the event that Fluid Truck finds, in its sole discretion, that a lender charged a borrower inappropriately, untimely or without substantiation, Fluid Truck reserves the right to refund the borrower and assess the refund back to the lender. If Fluid reverses lender assessed charges, Fluid Truck will also collect a $25 fee for administrative expenses.

Vehicles listed on Fluid Truck can be 10 years old or newer, up to 100,000 miles, in good or excellent condition, comply with all legal, safety and mechanical standards, and be registered in the United States (vehicles registered in NY state are not permitted to be listed on the Fluid platform at this time).

Fluid Truck, through its contract with you via its Terms & Conditions offers replacement and damage protection up to $50,000, so if the actual cash value of your vehicle is more than $50,000, please reach out to our Customer Care team to learn more about our Enhanced Owner Protection Program.

â

Vehicles with a gross vehicle weight (GVW) of 26,000 pounds and greater, motorcycles, recreational vehicles, boats, powersports items and vehicles that require a commercial license to operate (âExcluded Vehiclesâ) may be listed with Fluid Truck but are not covered by any Fluid insurance policy and all owners must have a commercial policy that protects the vehicle, owner, and borrower. Fluid Truck is not responsible for claims related to these Excluded Vehicles and the insurance certificate for such Excluded Items prior to listing on the Fluid Truck platform.

Prior to approving your listing, Fluid Truck will collect a picture of your current registration and a vehicle safety report. Failure to provide these documents may result in rejection of your vehicle. Fluid Truck reserves the right to remove any listing at its sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is not an insurance company and does not sell insurance for reservations. Â Fluid Truck provides protection contracts during reservations and allows borrowers and lenders to chose different deductible limits during those reservations.Â During an active reservation, a lenderâs vehicle is protected through Fluidâs third party liability insurance coverage up to $1,000,000. Lenders will pay a $1500 deductible for claims filed against this policy.Â That means that Fluid will pay the damage costs caused during a reservation after you, the lender, have paid your $1500 deductible and provided that all damage and claims against this coverage are reported in accordance with Fluidâs policies.Â Fluid has protection options for commercial borrowers, please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com for additional information.Â

Please note that Fluid does not offer coverage for the following:

You may opt-out of Fluid Truck's insurance coverage if you have commercial rental insurance and choose to waive protection under Fluid. Please reach out to help@fluidtruck.com to get additional information related to our lender provided insurance requirements.

Contact the borrower immediately through Fluid Truck's in-app messaging system to remind them that the vehicle is late, and create a plan for returning the vehicle. Remind the borrower that late fees are 2x the normal rate, and could disrupt upcoming reservations for that vehicle. If the vehicle is not returned after 24 hours, contact us at help@fluidtruck.com. If you have a conflicting reservation for that vehicle, let the next borrower know as soon as possible through the in-app messaging system. Please also reach out to us at help@fluidtruck.com and we can help make alternative arrangements for the borrower.

Thank you for your interest in partnering with Fluid Truck! We've tailored our rental programs for fleet owners rather than individual vehicle rentals to ensure we provide the best service and experience to our users. Here's how you can get involved:

Our team will assist you in navigating the process and selecting the program that best suits your goals. Contact us through this form to begin. We look forward to supporting you in maximizing your fleet's potential!

We can't wait to have you join our community! Getting started couldn't be easier: download the app, sign up, and search for the vehicle you need. The first time you rent, we'll verify your driver's license and credit card. Fluid Truck is free to join - no monthly or annual fees. Check out our borrower guidelines for more information.

Fluid Truck's two-way rating system helps ensure the safety and security of our community. At the end of the reservation, both the borrower and lender are prompted to review the reservation with 1 - 5 stars and adding any other details. Mileage and geographic limitations are set by each lender and vary based on the vehicle. Reach out to the lender to check if thereâs any geographical limitations as vehicles cannot be taken out of state without their approval.

You must be 21 years or older to borrow a vehicle. For all other items on the platform, you must be at least 18 years of age to borrow.

Borrowers are only allowed to rent one vehicle at a time.

If you are a Fluid Truck for Business user, please send a copy of your business insurance as well as the driversâ licenses for each individual who will be driving a Fluid Truck vehicle, a picture of the front and back of the business credit card, and a letter indicating the names of the individuals authorized to use the credit card on the account to help@fluidtruck.com.

Youâll see some vehicle profiles marked with a lightning bolt. If you select an Instabook vehicle, youâll see real-time availability managed directly by Fluid Truck. Instabook vehicle availability is always up to date in our system.

To extend your reservation, go to the reservation manager in the Fluid Truck app, select the day and time youâd like to extend your reservation to, and scroll to the bottom of the page to request the extension. Your request will be automatically processed â if the vehicle or item is available over the additional time requested, your extension request will be approved.

Please note:

A one-day rental is any 24 hour period of time.

Most Fluid Truck vehicles are self pick-up to help make your experience as smooth as possible. Once your booking is approved, you will receive an email with pick-up instructions. The pick-up instructions will also be available within the reservation manager in the app.

Once you arrive at your vehicle, you'll be prompted to complete the pick-up inspection within the app.

The pick-up inspection includes taking a series of photos of the inside and outside of the vehicle. Once you complete the pick-up inspection in the app, you can get on the road!

Once your reservation is complete, return the vehicle to the same location where you picked it up. Open up the Fluid Truck app and you will be prompted to take a series of photos documenting the condition of the inside and outside of the vehicle. This helps ensure the integrity of the rental process, as any future claims or charges will be determined based on these photos. Be sure to lock up the vehicle and return the key per the drop off instructions from the lender.

Fluid Truck reservations include the following fees at checkout:

Lenders may charge additional fees, including late charges, fuel charges, additional mileage charges, or cleaning charges. All fees must be clearly stated before the reservation is initiated. See below for examples of fees, and simple ways to avoid them!

Late Charge (2x rate): Return the vehicle or item on time to avoid incurring a late charge, and communicate with the lender frequently via the in-app messaging system.

Fuel Charge: Return the vehicle with the same fuel level as pick-up to avoid incurring this fee. Fuel charges may fluctuate overtime.

Mileage Charge (specified by the lender): Lenders will indicate whether their vehicle comes with unlimited mileage or with a set number of miles per day.

Cleaning Charge (specified by the lender): Return the vehicle as clean or even cleaner! then you found it at pick-up to avoid a cleaning charge.

Toll Charge: You will be charged for any tolls you incur during your rental as well as a $2.00 processing fee and a 3.5% transaction fee. It can be charged after the completion of your reservation.

Parking Violation Charge: If you receive a parking violation during your rental, you will receive a bill for the amount of the violation plus an additional $5.00 processing fee.

It's easy to avoid incurring additional fees! Just be sure to return the vehicle on time, with the same level of fuel as when you picked it up, clean, and in the same shape as when you picked it up.

If you're running late, we highly recommend you communicate directly with the lender of the vehicle to help avoid a recurring deposit fee or additional fees. Text the lender via the in-app messaging system and let them know if you are running behind schedule. You can also extend your reservation preemptively to avoid late fees. Once a reservation has ended, you'll have to make a new reservation â we cannot extend a reservation once it's past due.

How can I request a refund? Refund requests must be submitted within 24 hours of the end of your reservation. Please contact help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation number, your full name, and the reason for the refund. Refund requests after 24 hours will not be honored.

âNo refunds for early returns will be granted.

Fluid reserves the right to charge any necessary fees, including damage fees, improper return fee, service fee, recovery fee, impound fee, tow fee, parking and toll fees, roadside assistance fee, smoking fine, unauthorized driver fine and cancellation charges.

Instant book allows Fluid Truck lenders to show real time availability of their vehicles, managed directly by Fluid Truck. Vehicles set to Instant book â marked with a lightning bolt in the vehicle profile â show real time availability. Ensuring your vehicle's availability is always up to date in our system through Instabook will help maximize your reservations.

To block dates when you would like to use your vehicle or maintain it, simply go to the calendar section of the app and mark your vehicle as unavailable for your select dates.

You can indicate within the vehicle profile any activities that are off-limits for your vehicle. These instructions will be shared with borrowers both via email and within the app once a reservation is booked. You can also communicate directly with borrowers through our in-app messaging system.

We recommend you craft a detailed vehicle description, including:

Including high quality pictures of the exterior and interior of the vehicle will also help maximize reservations.

Lenders have 24 hours to check your vehicle and report any additional issues that may result in extra fees.

Please communicate the additional fee(s) with the borrower so there are no surprise charges. To initiate the fees, contact Customer Success at help@fluidtruck.com within 24 hours to request additional charges. In your email, please include details of fees, reservation number, and your full name.

If you receive a ticket or toll following a completed reservation, send it to help@fluidtruck.com along with the reservation ID number. Fluid Truck will review the document(s) and charge the borrower additional fees as necessary.

All refunds must be requested in writing to Fluid Truck within 24 hours of the completion of the reservation.

Please email help@fluidtruck.com with the reservation identification number, borrower's name, and the reason for your refund request. Any refunds requested after 24 hours may not be fulfilled.

Fluid Truck's reservations include the following fees at checkout:

Once a reservation has started neither the lender nor borrower will be able to cancel the transaction. Contact Fluid Truck at help@fluidtruck.com and provide your reservation number, cancellation details, and your full name. We will make sure to process the refund immediately for the borrower. It's also best to communicate with the borrower that you contacted Fluid Truck, so they are aware that you are taking responsibility to reconcile the situation.

In the event that you do not fulfill your reservation with a borrower within the cancellation window permitted by Fluid Truck or if your reservation cannot be completed because of lender responsibility, Fluid Truck will assess a $50 charge to the lender to offset the cost of providing your borrower with a suitable replacement vehicle or other costs. In the event that a vehicle is not at the location you specify or if you fail to show up for a booked reservation, Fluid Truck will assess a $150 charge to offset costs associated with lender's failure to fulfill. All fees are assessed in Fluid Truck's sole discretion.

Fluid Truck is committed to creating the safest truck sharing community. Our proprietary vetting platform screens out high risk users to ensure the safety and security of our community. We check each new borrower based on over 80 points of reference, and connect to 51 DMVs in the U.S.

If a vehicle is involved in an accident during a reservation, Fluid Truck recommends that the drivers always call the police. If another vehicle or party is involved in the accident, please collect the name, address, insurance information, and driver's license number of the other driver. In some instances, a police report may be required as part of the claims process. Lenders and borrowers must reach out to our team at help@fluidtruck.com within 24 hours. We will help you get in touch with the borrower and file an incident report with relevant documentation.

Absolutely not. Off platform transactions are prohibited. In the event that Fluid Truck learns that a lender or borrower is involved in an off platform transaction, all insurance coverage or other protections extended by Fluid Truck are void. Fluid Truck also reserves the right to immediately suspend any lender or borrower (which includes removal of all lender's listed items) from the Fluid Truck platform if such conduct is discovered.

Fluid Truck for Business is for businesses that rent more than one vehicle from Fluid Truck. With Fluid Truck for Business, you get access to all of the following tools for free

â

You can sign up for Fluid Truck for Business by creating a new Fluid Truck account, just add your business name, category, and how many vehicles you're wanting to rent.

If you already have a Fluid Truck account, sign in, and click on the "Upgrade to Business" on the bottom left side of the screen.

When you "Upgrade to Business" on the Fluid Truck dashboard, we'll upgrade your current profile to a Business one giving you access to the new features. We'll also create a personal profile for non business related rentals.

Yes, you can join or create multiple Business Profiles. You'll always have your personal profile if you need to book a truck to move some stuff or for a personal project.

You can see the current location of your vans by signing in to your account, going to the Active Reservations section for your profile, and tapping the map icon. Note only active reservations will show their current location.

You can invite your team members by signing in to your Fluid Truck account, go to the Org & Team section for your profile, and press the Invite Team Members button. Enter their email address and define their role. Fluid will send an email invitation

An Admin profile role allows the user to make bookings on behalf of the organization, invite team members, add and update payment methods, download invoices, and schedule drivers.

A driver only has the ability to view their assignments and complete the pickup / dropoff inspection and unlock/lock the vehicle through the app. A driver does not have the ability to make reservations or see financial details for the organization, an Admin has this permission.

Inviting a driver to your company and assigning a vehicle allows them to operate the vehicle, complete the pickup and drop-off inspection, and lock and unlock the vehicle. This helps you manage your fleet remotely and reduces coordination headaches.

To see a driver's route, first a driver must be scheduled for a vehicle in Driver Management. Once the assignment has started, click on the assignment and View Route. You'll see the route mapping location for that assignment and miles driven.

To see the inspection photos for a reservation, Sign in to your Fluid Truck account, go to Reservations for your Profile, select the reservation, and scroll down on the reservation details screen.

To see your receipt for a reservation, Sign in to your Fluid Truck account, go to Reservations for your Profile, select the menu for that reservation (â®), and press the download receipt button.

You can also download receipts under the Transactions section to download one or more receipts or share via email with someone.

To change a driver assignment, go to Driver Management under your desired profile, locate the driver or vehicle, click on the assignment and either Edit Assignment or Cancel Assignment.

New Policy Updates as of December 2022. Please review our updated Wear & Tear Policy Here.

All Fluid Truck for Business borrowers must provide proof of acceptable insurance coverage to Fluid for approval upon account activation and the approved insurance must be active at all times during reservations. Your coverage will be the primary insurance for all reservations. As such, any insurance coverage through Fluid will always be excess to your commercial policy.

We discourage borrowers to use their own transponder device in our vehicles.

In the event you choose to use your own transponder device during your reservation and Fluid receives a duplicate charge for a toll fee you are responsible for paying Fluid's fee even if you already paid for the toll using your own account.
